DECISIONS.

Issue No. 1.

The learned Advocate for the Union pressed for introduction of time-scale grades of wages for all categories of manual workers with provisions for automatic annual increments. He supported his claim by reference to the report of the Central Pay Commission at pages 347, 309 and 170, where grade scales of wage with automatic annual increments have been laid down for unskilled workers in general Government departments. It was pressed that the India Paper Pulp another paper manufacturing company situated at Hajinagar-Naihati had time-scale grades of wages for its operatives. It was also stated that annual increment was an incentive to work which encouraged production. The learned Solicitor for the Company opposed this claim and stated that the factory is highly mechanised and did not require any skill for most of the operatives and that the workmen were to act merely as feeders to the machines. It was stated that a reference to the steel works at Burnpur and Kulti as made by the learned Advocate for the Union was not relevant and that the India Paper Pulp paid time-scale grades of wages to its workers but did not pay any attendance bonus or production bonus as paid by this company and that the production bonus and attendance bonus were very good incentives to production. There are four companies producing ordinary paper in West Bengal; they are Titaghur Paper Mills Nos. 1 and 2, the Bengal Paper Mills, Raniganj, and the India Paper Pulp, Hajinagar-Naihati. Each of the two Titaghur Paper Mills Nos. 1 and 2 has an annual output of 15,000 tons of paper. The Bengal Paper Mill produces 12,000 tons of paper in the year and the India Paper Pulp produces about 6,600 tons of paper in the year. The Titaghur Paper Mills do not pay any time-scale grades of wages to its workmen and this prayer which was advanced, in the same manner as in this case, before Sri A. Das Gupta in a dispute regarding Titaghur Paper Mills was rejected in the Award of Sri A. Das Gupta published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 5th July 1951. This question has been dealt with in Issue No. 11. The Titaghur Paper Mills pay production bonus. The India Paper Pulp does not pay any production bonus or attendance bonus. The Bengal Paper Mill is under the Managing Agency of Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co. These Managing Agents have a tissue paper mill in Tribeni Tissues, Ltd. Tribeni Tissues pay the same scales of wages to its workmen and the clerical staff as paid in the Bengal Paper Mills. The claim for classifying the workmen into 3 categories—unskilled, semi-skilled and skilled workman and fixing the grade scales of salaries for semi-skilled and skilled workman—was also pressed before me in a dispute between the Tribeni Tissues and their workmen and it was also rejected by me in issue No. 2 of my Award published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 21st June 1951. All the points raised by the learned Advocate for the Union in the present case were raised in both the cases referred to above and they were dealt with both by me and Sri Das Gupta. I agree with the reasonings put forward by Sri Das Gupta in his Award on Titaghur Paper Mills in Calcutta Gazette, dated 5th July 1951, and also the reasonings put forward by me in the Award on Tribeni Tissues published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 21st June 1951, and the claim for introduction of time-scale grading for the daily-rated workers is in view of those considerations rejected. I may mention that the minimum scale of pay of a daily-rated worker in this company is not worse than that paid by the Titaghur Paper Mills or the India Paper Pulp. This question will also be discussed below in the next issue.

This issue is accordingly answered.

Issue No. 2.

The dearness allowance paid to the operatives and the clerical staff in this company is 15 per cent. of the basic pay plus subsidised rations. In Titaghur Paper Mills and the India Paper Pulp dearness allowance is Rs. 35 for manual workers and Rs. 40 for the clerks. The minimum basic pay in the Titaghur Paper Mill and India Paper Pulp is Rs. 30; there is also a house allowance of Rs. 2 for those who are not provided with quarters. With the dearness allowance, therefore, the total emolument of the minimum paid worker is Rs. 67 per month. In the Bengal Paper Mills the minimum basic pay of the unskilled day male worker is Rs. 37-12-6 pies. 15 per cent. of his basic pay is Rs. 5-10-6 pies. The two together makes Rs. 43-7. One who is not provided with quarters also gets Rs. 2 as house allowance. It is, therefore, Rs. 45-7. As regards the cheap rations the advantage to the worker varies from month to month. It is stated by the Union that the total dearness allowance including food concessions vary from Rs. 22-8 to Rs. 30-8. The learned Solicitor for the Company stated that the value of the food subsidy for March 1952 was Rs. 22-12. It was also stated that the attendance bonus which the minimum paid employee receives for one full month's attendance is Rs. 8-11-6 pies for general workers and the average monthly value of production bonus for such an employee is just about 4 per cent. of the basic monthly wage. The Company also filed papers to show payment of the Company per ration card for the month of January 1952 and February 1952 which was about Rs. 18-5 to Rs. 18-7 respectively (Exhibit B). Considering all the circumstances it is awarded that all workmen including the clerical staff shall get Rs. 22 as cash dearness allowance in place of the value of the food concession. This sum of Rs. 22 will make the total wage of the minimum paid worker Rs. 67 and odd. I do not add the attendance bonus or the production bonus to the monthly wage as they are meant as incentives to production and as a substitute for the annual increment. The total dearness allowance which a worker will get is, therefore, 15 per cent. of his basic pay plus Rs. 22. The Company will not supply any food material at concession rates as it used to do before but will keep a ration shop for supply of rice and atta at Government rates in case the Company gets such supply from Government.

This issue is accordingly answered.

Issue No. 3.

The Union demands for the operatives annual leave for 15 days in place of 10 days, sick-leave for 13 days in place of 7 days, and casual leave for the practical staff for 18 days instead of 7 days as they do not enjoy any half holiday like other clerks. On a consideration of the matter it is awarded that the operatives will get sick-leave for 8 days in the year as allowed in the Tribeni Tissues and the staff working in the shift and practical department shall get festival holidays to the extent of 12 days or more as allowed to the operatives. The other provisions of leave and holidays will remain as before.

Issue No. 4.

The Company has a scheme of attendance bonus paid at the rate of 3 days' basic pay for every fortnight for all general workers and 3 days for the first fortnight and 4 days for the second fortnight for the shift workers provided they do not fail to attend on any working day in the fortnight. The Union demands that this bonus shall be included in the basic wage or the dearness allowance or it should be changed to payment at the rate of 2 days' basic wage for attendance of every week. The Company opposed this plea and stated that if this bonus which is granted in the form of an incentive to production be altered in the way suggested by the Union it will lose all its utility. Exhibit C is a graph showing the average amount of attendance bonus paid to the workmen from July 1946 to April 1951 and Exhibit C1 is the graph showing the average attendance per fortnightly period. Exhibit C shows a regular rise of the amount of payment of attendance bonus to the workmen. I am of opinion that if the scheme of attendance be altered as suggested by the Union it will lose all its utility.

This claim is, therefore, rejected.

Issue No. 5.

The Company pays Rs. 2 to all operatives and Rs. 3 to the staff who do not enjoy the benefit of the Company's quarters as house rent allowance. The Union claims that in view of the acute house shortage the workers in this area have to pay an amount from Rs. 8 to Rs. 10 per month for even uninhabitable quarters. The Union, therefore, claims increase of house rent allowance to Rs. 4 for operatives and Rs. 5 for clerks. In Issue No. 2 the dearness allowance has been fixed with a view to the house allowance also. It has been mentioned that while the advantage in food concession was about Rs. 18 in January and February 1952 it was Rs. 22 in March 1952 which is the maximum attained so far in this regard, and the fixed value of food concession was assessed at the maximum value of Rs. 22. I am of opinion that house rent allowance has been amply provided for in the amount of cash dearness allowance fixed. I am very much alive to the fact that the workmen have to live in very unsatisfactory and insanitary tenements. The increase of the house rent allowance will not, however, be any solution of the problem. What is required, is building of the quarters by the Company and I have seen papers produced by the Company which show that they are doing their utmost in this regard. I would urge upon the Company to provide more and more quarters in order to be able to house all its operatives and staff and before that is done, no increment of house rent allowance will be a solution of this problem. In these circumstances, this issue is accordingly answered.

Issue No. 6.

This issue was not pressed by the Union at the time of the hearing and it is not answered.

ORDER.

No. 1604Dis./D/10L-41/52.—9th June 1952.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 176Dis./D/10L-68/51, dated the 20th October 1951, read with the corrigendum No. 277Dis./D/10L-68/51, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Spence, Ltd., 23, Convent Road, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by the Spence, Ltd., Labour Union, 25, Badan Roy Lane, Calcutta-10, regarding the matters specified in the Schedule attached to the said Order, dated the 20th October 1951, was referred for adjudication to the Third Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Third Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexture hereto.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Spence, Ltd., 23, Convent Road, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by the Spence, Ltd., Labour Union, 25, Badan Roy Lane, Calcutta.

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SRI P. R. MUKHERJEE, District Judge (Retd.), Chairman, Third Industrial Tribunal.

For the Employers: Sri S. C. Sen, Advocate, Sri N. M. Das Gupta, Advocate, and Sri S. A. Krishnan, Secretary of the Company.

For the Employees: Sri D. L. Sen Gupta, Vice-President of the Union.

AWARD.

The above dispute had been referred to me under orders No. 176Dis./D/10L-68/51, dated 20th October 1951, and No. 277Dis./D/10L-68/51, dated 22nd November 1951, for adjudication.

The case of the Union is that it is of 21 years' standing and that it is being managed by big Marwari businessmen of India, and that the Company is a highly prosperous concern, earning about 2 lakhs of rupees as nett profit in a year and employing about 104 men.

It is a mercantile firm having for its business importing from U.S.A. and U.K. motor parts and accessories, motor garage tools and equipments, paints and polishes, agricultural tractors, radios, refrigerators, air conditioning units, movie cameras, etc.

The Company has also a very small workshop attached to it to attend to the works in motor lines only. This is only a workshop only to service the goods of the foreign factories the agencies of which have been given to this concern.

The factory workers in 1948 formed the Spence Limited Workers' Union, and had had two adjudications from Sri M. C. Banerjee, the Tribunal Judge, and got the two awards in their favour.

The present dispute relates to the employees of the office who had no Union of their own at that time. But later on they had organised themselves and sent a charter of demands, out of which the present reference had arisen.

The present claim relates to the basic minimum pay, dearness allowance, gratuity, provident fund, etc., of the employees in office only and the issues have been framed in the order of reference, to which the adjuidcation should relate.

According to the Union, it is mainly and primarily a mercantile firm and it is urged that the basic pay and wages should be governed by the awards of the General Mercantile Tribunal on Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Tata Steel, Co. (Calcutta), published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 17th February 1949.

The Company submits a written statement alleging that the demands made by the Union covered all the categories of workers, both in the workshop and in the office. It is alleged that in the schedule under order of reference mention has only been made of such workmen as clerks, subordinate staff and menial staff.

According to the Management, this Company is out and out an engineering firm carrying on business as agents and distributors of engineering stores manufactured in U.S.A. and U.K. and maintains a workshop.

It is further alleged that in both the previous awards relating to this firm, Sri M. C. Banerjee, the Tribunal Judge, stoutly maintained that the Company is an engineering firm, and as such, it is asserted that the provisions of the Major Engineering Tribunal Award should apply to this concern. Merits of the points raised in the order of reference will be discussed in the body of the award.

ISSUES.

Whether the workers and employees are to get the benefits with respect to—

(1) Basic minimum pay,

(2) Dearness allowance,

(3) Gratuity and Provident Fund Scheme,

(4) Leave and holidays, and

(5) Bonus for clerks, subordinate staff and menial staff, in accordance with the awards of the General Engineering Tribunals published in the Calcutta Gazettes, dated the 3rd July 1948, and the 21st September 1950 (Extraordinary); or in accordance with the awards of the General Mercantile Tribunal on Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Tata Iron and Steel, Co. (Calcutta office), published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 17th February 1949; or if the benefits granted by any of the above-mentioned awards be considered to be unsuitable regard being had to peculiar circumstances of the case, what should be—

(1) the basic minimum pay,

(2) the dearness allowance,

(3) gratuity and provident fund scheme,

(4) leave and holidays, and

(5) bonus.

1. Basic minimum pay and dearness allowance.

The main question is on what principle basic pay and dearness allowance should be awarded—whether according to the General Engineering Tribunal's Award published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 3rd July 1950, or in accordance with the award of the General Mercantile Tribunal on Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Tata Iron and Steel, Co. (Calcutta office), published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 17th February 1949; or if the benefits granted by any of the abovementioned awards be considered unsuitable, regard being had to the peculiar circumstances of the case, what should be the basic minimum pay, etc.

The main contention raised by the Union is that it is primarily a mercantile firm, and as such, it should be governed by the awards on the lines of Bengal Chamber of Commerce. On this point, the previous adjudications by Sri Banerjee may be a beacon light. There were as many as two Tribunals both presided by Sri M. C. Banerjee, over the question of basic pay, etc., of the factory workers and on reference to the records of the case, I find that the written statement of the Union runs thus:—

> "That the Company is an Engineering Firm, well known for its prosperity * * * That the workshop is an integral part of the Company and contributes to its prosperity to a great extent."

It is also profitable to refer to the findings of Sri Banerjee:

> "I do consider that the workshop in this Company is a necessary adjunct and that to maintain sales in the Sales Department, the Company has to maintain a workshop for the purpose of repairing and servicing the machineries brought from U.S.A. and U.K. before they are offered for sale. If that were not so, the Company would not have maintained the Workshop Department in spite of losses in the separate accounts maintained for that department and would have closed it long ago."

Admittedly this firm imports motor parts and accessories, motor garage tools and equipments, paints and polishes, agricultural tractors, radios, refrigerators, air conditioning units, movie cameras, etc. (paragraph 4 of the written statement of the Union). Clearly these are necessary adjuncts of an engineering firm. It may not be a manufacturing firm but a firm which imports above parts. To call it a mercantile firm would be misnomer. This firm had been parties to the two Major Engineering Tribunals of 1948 and 1950, and no exception was taken to its being considered as an engineering firm by the Union. Even before Sri Banerjee, as I have already pointed out, the case of the Union clearly was that it was more an engineering firm than a mercantile firm. There is also the definite finding of Sri Banerjee that it is mainly an engineering firm. I myself had been to the factory and in my opinion this firm carries on business as agents and distributors of engineering stores and machineries manufactured in U.K. and U.S.A. and maintains a workshop. This workshop is an integral part of the Company which is chiefly used for repairing and servicing the imported machineries for sale in this country. The work is an indivisible unit, inseperable too and a necessary adjunct to the sales department. All this is quite sufficient to establish that this firm is clearly an engineering firm and to call it a mercantile firm would be travesty of truth and distortion of existing sale of things. Clearly, therefore, the pay structure, etc., should be governed by the awards of the Engineering Tribunal. The Company has acceded that the provisions of Engineering Tribunal may be adopted in framing the wages, etc.

The most important thing for decision is the basic pay and dearness allowance for clerical, subordinate and menial staff. Unfortunately, in this concern the dearness allowance is paid not on any scientific basis and what the Company had been doing all along is that in the wage structure there is no sharp and distinct demarcation between the basic wage and dearness allowance. At the beginning of the rise of the cost of living index during war years, the Company went on increasing the wages with the rise in the cost of living. In some cases, only basic wages were increased and in other cases these increments were shown either as a separate element as dearness allowance, or some part thereof as basic wages and some part as dearness allowance. As a matter of fact, what the Company had all along been paying is really a consolidated wage. On perusal of the pay chart submitted by the Company, I may say that the intention of the Company was that the total pay packet received by the workman may be a fair wage as far as possible. It is also found that except in a few cases the minimum total pay of this Company is not less than those awarded by the Engineering Tribunal. The Company suggested that the total wages they are now paying may be taken as a consolidated one and out of the said total wages of each workman in question, an amount which is considered fair, may be deducted as dearness allowance and the balance may be treated as basic wage. It is also further suggested that in case the basic wages are found to be below the amount of what has been fixed by the Engineering Tribunal as minimum wage, the Company is ready to raise the same to that extent.

Now looking to the chart submitted by the Company and applying the principles of Major Engineering Tribunal, I am inclined to make some revisions.

Regarding splitting up of basic wages and dearness allowance, I am firmly of opinion that it is not possible where there is a consolidated wage system which is going on for a long time and which is on the whole satisfactory. It will be arbitrary and very difficult too on the part of the Tribunal to split dearness allowance from basic pay on a fairly good basis. Any splitting up is bound to be unfair. For example, where the pay structure is high and the dearness allowance is low, it will be hardly just to take away a portion towards dearness allowance from the basic salary. Sri Sen Gupta on behalf of the Union urged that the total pay packet that is being paid should be treated as the basic salary and dearness allowance should be separately allotted. This is absurd and against the weight of evidence inasmuch as some dearness allowance is being separately paid in the pay sheet all along and signed by the employees with their full knowledge and consent. The difficulty is greatly enhanced inasmuch as the Company sometimes made increments in basic salary and sometimes increments in dearness allowance—the sole object being to give relief to the workers to meet the increased cost of living. I, therefore, would not attempt any split up between the basic salary and the dearness allowance, nor reshuffle it in that light. My aim should be to see if the staff is getting full pay packet as per Major Engineering Tribunal Award. There is another reason why dearness allowance should not be separated, as desired by the Union, for the Company admittedly is paying bonus on the total pay packet and not on the basic salary. This is greatly to the advantage of the workers. Moreover, there is no logical or scientific division of basic wages and dearness allowance. It is the total pay packet that counts and if the total wages are fair and proper as per Engineering Tribunal Award, there cannot be any reasonable complaint.

Regarding the basic wages which is to be fixed by me, I must follow the decision of the Engineering Tribunal, which laid down the scale of wages as follows:—

For non-matriculates or outdoor clerks as Tally Clerks—Rs. 55—2½—80.

For matriculate but non-graduate office clerks—Rs. 60—2½—90.

For graduate clerks—Rs. 70—4—130.

On reading the chart submitted by the Company, it is seen that there are some of the fortunate clerks who are non-matriculates and who are drawing a handsome salary and they have already exceeded the maximum fixed by the Engineering Tribunal, as regards their pay and dearness allowance. There is an Accountant who is non-matriculate and is drawing Rs. 265. There is also one non-matriculate Accounts Clerk, who is drawing Rs. 120 per month; whereas in the grade fixed by the Engineering Tribunal, the maximum basic pay of non-matriculate clerks is Rs. 80 and dearness allowance of Rs. 35. So, the case of these clerks is kept out of consideration.

Applying the scale of basic pay and dearness allowance as fixed by the Engineering Tribunal, there is anomaly in the case of a few matriculates and I.A's., whose pay should be revised. I have already decided that in this case there should not be any clear-cut separation of basic pay and dearness allowance, but it is the total pay packet that will be awarded, and before ascertaining what would be the total pay packet, it is necessary to come to the question of:

Dearness Allowance.

The Second Major Engineering Tribunal fixed the scale of dearness allowance on slab system as follows:—

	Rs.
Basic pay range up to Rs. 50	31
From Rs. 51 to Rs. 100	42
From Rs. 101 to Rs. 150	48

On scrutinising the chart, I find that the following clerks are entitled to get increments so as to earn the minimum pay packet including dearness allowance fixed by the Engineering Tribunal. I mention the names of the following clerks:—

(1) Sudhir Kumar Roy (No. 3).
(2) B. K. Lahiri (No. 4).
(3) P. N. Banerjee (No. 5).
(4) B. B. Samaddar (No. 8).
(5) B. N. Bose (No. 9).
(6) B. B. Chakrabarty (No. 11).
(7) A. K. De (No. 12).
(8) R. Banerjee (No. 13).
(9) K. Bhattacharjee (No. 16).
(10) G. M. Dutta (No. 17).
(11) J. N. Nandy (No. 18).
(12) S. K. Roy (No. 25).
(13) Tarapada Ghosh (No. 26).

So, I make an award that in the case of these clerks, the minimum pay fixed by the Engineering Tribunal (according to their educational qualification) plus the dearness allowance on the above slab system, should be the total pay packet and the present pay should be pulled up as awarded above. As I am not going to make a clear-cut allotment of dearness allowance and basic pay on grounds already referred, it will be advisable for the Company to show in their pay chart or salary register the awarded increment in a separate column.

As most of these clerks have not completed more than two years' service and their total salary is increased by a handsome margin, it is not necessary to allow any further increment on time scale.

There are three typists, L. M. De (No. 21), Basudeb Kalay (No. 22) and N. C. Dutta (No. 23), who have been recruited almost in the same year, but an anomaly exists regarding their pay. They are equally qualified—all being matriculates.

According to the pay scale of the Engineering Tribunal, their minimum pay should be Rs. 60 and dearness allowance Rs. 35, i.e., total Rs. 95. The pay of all these typists should be pulled up to the level of Rs. 95. The increase in their pay as awarded should be shown in the salary register or pay chart as already ordered.

The Company should also scrutinise if any name has escaped and follow the principles laid down above and allow those clerks suitable increments so as to get the minimum basic pay and dearness allowance as fixed by the Engineering Tribunal.

Regarding the subordinate staff including bearers, head durwans, sweepers, etc., the minimum basic pay should be Rs. 30 and dearness allowance Rs. 31—total Rs. 61. Those amongst the subordinate staff who are earning more than Rs. 61 in the total pay packet, will get no further increment. But those who are getting less than Rs. 61, which is the minimum total wages fixed by the Engineering Tribunal, should be pulled up to that level. In the case of the subordinate staff, who will be entitled to increment under this award, there will be no difficulty for the Management to split up on the basis of Rs. 30 as basic pay and Rs. 31 as dearness allowance.

Bonus.

Regarding bonus, the Union claims that it should be paid at the rate of one month's pay as usual on the occasion of the Pujas or at the end of the year, on the profit as per provisions of the Bank Award, subject to the minimum of one month's pay.

The Company submitted that in view of bad financial condition, payment of bonus is not justified. Nevertheless the Company is paying one month's bonus to the staff. The question of further payment of bonus, in my opinion, does not arise in view of the fact that it is an engineering concern. Therefore, the provisions of bonus as per Bank Tribunal Award can have no place here. On the point of bonus, the First Major Engineering Tribunal held that "in connection with this question of bonus, the rule adopted generally is that where a particular firm has been paying bonus from profits for several years, it should pay bonus for the year last ended, provided it earns similar profit in that year." (page 27 First Engineering Tribunal Award under issue No. 18). This firm has been paying bonus in spite of financial position and as such, this firm in future cannot be compelled to pay bonus for one month unless there is profit. Of course this firm is at liberty to pay bonus irrespective of the fact whether any substantial profit has accrued or not, but I cannot give directions to pay bonus in spite of bad financial future. The claim is rejected.

Leave and holidays.

The provisions of leave and holidays will be governed by the award of the First Major Engineering Tribunal and as modified by the Second Engineering Tribunal Award (see Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary, dated 21st September 1950).

In case the workers enjoyed better privileges regarding number of days or wages during leave and holidays in this Company more in excess of those provided in the Engineering Tribunal's Award, those privileges should not be taken away but must continue.

Gratuity and Provident Fund Scheme.

The financial position of the Company is not happy and as such, it will be a burden on the Company to introduce provident fund specially when the number of workmen concerned in this dispute is less than 100. On this point the Major Engineering Tribunal observed at page 16 (see Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary, dated 3rd July 1950):—

"We therefore, decide that the scheme of the Contributory Provident Fund should be adopted by the Engineering Companies; but small Companies employing less than 100 men would have the option of adopting the gratuity scheme instead, as it has been represented to us that it would be difficult for the smaller units to maintain proper accounts of the Provident Fund."

The Engineering Tribunal also held that the workmen should be entitled to claim only one kind of retiring benefit. That being so, I direct that this Company should make provisions for gratuity to the workers as per provisions of the Major Engineering Tribunal Award, details whereof are to be seen in the said award.

Conclusion.

Regarding the scale of wages and increments which have been awarded, I direct that the same should come into force with effect from 1st August 1952.

Grant James, Ltd., 8/B, Lower Rowdon Street, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Grant James Workers' Union, 27 1, Beliaghata Main Road, Calcutta, regarding the matters specified in the schedule to the said order was referrred for adjudication to the Third Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the Third Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said Industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to published the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Grant James, Ltd., 8/B, Lower Rowdon Street, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Grant James Workers' Union, 27/1, Beliaghata Main Road, Calcutta.

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SRI P. R. MUKHERJEE, District Judge (Retd.), Chairman, Third Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Sri S. C. Sen, Pleader, Sri U. K. Warrier, Director of the Company.

For the Union: Sri S. Gupta, President.

AWARD.

The above dispute had been referred to me by the Government of West Bengal, Department of Labour, under order No. 361Dis./D/11L-35/52, dated the 16th February 1952, for adjudication.

The case had been referred on two points, viz.—

(1) What should be the minimum wages?

(2) What should be the dearness allowance?

According to the Union, this Company is a prosperous concern and occupies an important position in the furniture-making industry and that the Company employs about 200 workmen in its different departments, and that the Company manufactures various kinds of furniture, etc. The workers, according to the Union, are ill-paid and their wages are below the poverty line. The Union claims flat rate of 25 per cent. of the present pay for every workman, minimum being Rs. 40 per month, with effect from July 1951, and also claims dearness allowance on the basis of the Major Engineering Tribunal of 1951.

The Company submits a written statement alleging that this Company is now running business at a loss and that this Company had earned profit only during war period. It is also alleged that the Company is engaged in a specialised line of manufacture and that only a limited number and particular class of people are catered. Its regular orders and income are uncertain, the market fluctuates and increased cost of labour has increased the cost of production, and as such there are very limited number of customers. Government orders are placed with this concern only when quality is to be maintained and such orders do not yield substantial return. The Company is now running the business after taking advances and loans from the United Commercial Bank and other sources amounting to Rs. 3,44,550.

The Company urges that they pay three or four times more than the usual wages including allowances and the total amount paid by overtime will amply prove the earning capacity of each worker and how much the Company is considerate to increase their earning capacity.

ISSUES.

1. What should be the minimum wage?
2. What should be the dearness allowance?

Issue No. 1.

The Company has submitted a chart which shows the total wages inclusive of dearness allowance and it appears that the workers' wages are in most cases over Rs. 2 per day and this satisfies the minimum fixed by the Major Engineering Tribunal of 1951, which laid down the minimum wage to be Rs. 61 per month inclusive of dearness allowance. It also appears that some of the workers are earning little less than Rs. 61, but it is clear that this Company had been systematically granting increments from 1947 to 1951. There had been increments of wages of 3 annas per diem only in 1950. Now the question is if those who are getting that amount, or the workers who are earning less than Rs. 61 should get further increment so as to reach the minimum (i.e., Rs. 61) fixed by the Second Engineering Tribunal. Before I consider that part, it is necessary to consider the amenities which the workers enjoy in this concern. The workers enjoy the following:—

(1) Saw dusts are taken free of charge by many of the workers and are sold to fetch an extra income.
(2) A good number of workmen are living inside the factory premises without paying rent. This is certainly a great advantage.
(3) The Company pays advances without security.
(4) The Company has engaged a person for bringing weekly ration for the benefit and convenience of the workers.
(5) Leave on certain days partly or fully are allowed and no deduction is made.

Next to this, the financial position of the Company is also to be considered, and if the minimum pay structure be raised to the level of Rs. 61 it may hard-hit the Company in view of the following facts. This Company has incurred losses amounting nearly to 3½ lakhs of rupees. The nett loss of the Company as shown in the balance-sheet on 31st March 1951 is over Rs. 15,000.

The minimum fixed by the Major Engineering Tribunal, 1951, is adhered to and awarded by the Tribunal when circumstances permit. But where the Company is unable to bear the burden, it had been the consistent policy of these Triunals to be guided by considerations of equity and good conscience and not to apply it strictly like a mathematical formula. The capacity of the industry to pay is an important factor in awarding wages and if the wage structure be suddenly raised high, it may veritably prove to be the last straw on the camel's back so as to break the backbone of the industry. Guided by this consideration and also being guided by the fact that as a matter of fact these workers earn much more by working overtime, the total earning exceeds the minimum fixed by the Second Engineering Tribunal, I make no further increase in the salary and maintain that the wage level as is prevalent in this Company should continue till the Company is in a better financial position to raise the same.

Issue No. 2: Dearness Allowance.

The Union claims dearness allowance of Rs. 31 minimum as per Second Major Engineering Tribunal. This Company has not kept dearness allowance separately, but amalgamated it with basic pay and on reading the average earning of wages of these workers, it is found that about a dozen or so earn less than Rs. 61. But in this Company there is facility for working overtime and the Company has submitted a chart showing the average income of the workers which when considered, exceed much above the minimum fixed by the Major Engineering Tribunal. Increments if allowed in wages and dearness allowance will tell hard on the present financial position of the Company, which is runnning at a loss. The balance-sheet as on 31st March 1951, shows a loss of Rs. 18,930, and as such, it will be quite inexpedient to raise the wage structure specially when, as I have already observed, this Company has systematically granted increment year by year from 1947 to 1951, as the chart shows. This chart is not challenged by the Union, and it shows that the Company has made honest attempt to revise the total earning of its workers, which shows that the Company is sympathetic and fully alive to the needs of the workers. In view of the financial position of the Company, I cannot for the present make an award in tune with the Second Major Engineering Tribunal, neither regarding basic wages nor regarding dearness allowance. I would also like to mention here that for the present basic wages and dearness allowance should not be separated, but the total sum as is being paid should continue. The issue is answered accordingly.

Before I close, I want to say a few words regarding the claim of the Union during hearing of the case. It was reported that the following workers, Nazir, Bairagi, Kali, Jamir Miah, Nantu Roy, Manmatha, Sulaiman, Dulal, Sripati, Raghusingh, had been wrongly classified as semi-skilled in this concern; while they should be treated as skilled labourers and their wages should be revised accordingly. This is a task for which, I am conscious, I would be a misfit. Nevertheless to satisfy myself, I inspected the factory and looked to these workers while on work. This much I can only say that it was not very high degree of skill, but I am not sure if an expert or any other observer would have classified them as skilled. We, members of the Tribunal, are often invited by the parties to give our adjudications on the allegation that wrong classification has been made by the employers. But it is a task for which we are not at all fit or competent to give any reasonable verdict. I am tempted to quote here the salient observations made by the First Major Engineering Tribunal, to which I myself had been a party:

"There is no standardisation of occupational descriptions at present, whether in the engineering or any other industry. A man described in the same way for example as a fitter or as a turner may be doing work requiring widely varying degree of technical skill and may be placed in different categories—semi-skilled, skilled or highly skilled—in different firms. These firms would naturally apply different minimums to the men described in the same way. This might lead to fresh dispute between the employers and the employees. If all the jobs in the firms subject to this award could be classified into the categories, the difficulty could be solved. But this Tribunal is not in a position to undertake the task and must leave it to be done by a committee of experts * * * A line at which one ceases to be semi-skilled and becomes a skilled worker must depend in the last resort upon trade tests, but recognised trade tests are not in general use in this country and it is not possible that the Tribunal should define the line of demarcation."

In view of the above circumstances, I am not in a position to say if these workers have been wrongly classified as semi-skilled.

Conclusion.

In this award the pay structure has not been revised nor requires to be revised for reasons already given. Regarding dearness allowance, too, the claim of the Union could not be acceeded but it is hoped that with better financial days, the Company would give suitable increments to the workers as they have consistently and honestly done in the past.

P. R. MUKHERJEE,

The 30th May 1952. Chairman, Third Industrial Tribunal.

By order of the Governor,
D. S. P. MUKHERJEE, Jt. Secy.

ORDER.

No. 1645Dis./D/11L-115/52.—12th June 1952.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4757Lab., dated the 30th July 1951, the industrial dispute between the Calcutta Rangers Club, 13/1A, Government Place, East, Calcutta, and their employees as represented by the Calcutta Rangers Club Employees Union, 112, Elliot Road, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Tribunal a complaint in writing was received from Mrs. L. Gauntlett, an employee of the said club before the said Tribunal alleging that the said club had altered, to the prejudice of the said employee the conditions of service applicable to her immediately before the commencement of the said proceedings;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto;

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, filed by Mrs. L. Gauntlett residing at 40/5, Telkul Ghat, Howrah, a discharged employee of the Calcutta Rangers Club of 13/1A, Government Place, East, Calcutta, against the Calcutta Rangers Club.

BEFORE THE 5TH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SRI G. PALIT, District Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

1. The original reference out of which this case has arisen was made under Government order No. 4757Lab., dated 30th July 1951.

AWARD.

2. The petitioner's contention was that she was placed under suspension on 16th February 1952 consequent on her deposition before the Tribunal in connection with the main case. This indefinite suspension is in contravention of the Standing Orders and section 33(a) of the Act, as amended in 1950. Her wages have also been withheld which also contravenes section 33(a) of the Act as it amounts to prejudicial alteration of the service condition. As all these have been done without the express permission of the Tribunal in writing when the main case was pending before it, the petition under section 33A has been filed. The Club denies the allegations. It has also made an application under section 33 for permission of the Tribunal to discharge Mrs. Gauntlett. The Club contends that on the 29th December 1951 the petitioner was wilfully insubordinate and used abusive language to the Honorary Treasurer. She was given a charge-sheet for this. She submitted an explanation on the 22nd January 1952. The Club considered her explanation and decided to suspend her meanwhile pending permission of the Tribunal to dismiss her.

3. I need not go into the facts stated above. The applicant under section 33A as well as the Honorary Secretary of the Calcutta Rangers Club have filed a petition of compromise before the Tribunal on 25th May 1952. I find from the said compromise petition that the applicant has resigned her post with effect from the 15th February 1952 and that she does not like to proceed with the said application. The Club also contends that there is no further dispute with her. So, in the circumstances, I submit a "no-dispute" award finding that there is no subsisting dispute between the parties. The compromise petition will form a part of the award and be embodied in the Appendix. The application under section 33A accordingly stands disposed of.

and their workmen have not been concluded. The proceedings are still pending.

Section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, prohibits during pendency of any proceedings before a Conciliation Officer or a Tribunal, in respect of any industrial dispute, any alteration, to the prejudice of the workmen concerned in such dispute; of the conditions of service applicable to them immediately before the commencement of such proceedings, or discharge or punishment, by way of dismissal or otherwise, of any workman concerned in such dispute, except with the express permission of the Conciliation Officer or Tribunal as the case may be.

In the event of any contravention of a provision of section 33 during the pendency of proceedings before an Industrial Tribunal, the aggrieved workman or workmen may file a complaint, under section 33A of the Act as amended, against such contravention before the Industrial Tribunal, before whom the proceedings are pending, and section 33A of the Act authorises the Industrial Tribunal to assume jurisdiction over the industrial dispute arising out of the contravention of section 33 as amended, without a formal reference from the appropriate Government under section 10 of the Act, and to adjudicate upon the dispute and to give an award.

Section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act lays down the general law as to how an Industrial Tribunal can assume jurisdiction over an industrial dispute and section 33A is a special provision and the conditions under which this special provision may be involved must be fulfilled. Before a Tribunal assumes jurisdiction over the industrial dispute, without any order of reference from the appropriate Government, as contemplated by the general section (section 10 of the Act). The conditions are: (1) That the adjudication proceedings in respect of an industrial dispute must be pending before a Tribunal. (2) That during pendency of the proceedings there has been a contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Act by the employers to the prejudice of the workmen. (3) That such contravention is in respect of the workman or workmen concerned in the dispute pending for adjudication.

The complaint of the workmen of the Can Machine Department of the National Carbon Co., Ltd., is that the Management has introduced a new type of gloves for the operatives of the Can Machine, and has thereby changed the condition of the service of the workmen to their prejudice without any permission from the Tribunal.

During the discussions at the hearing, it was admitted by both sides that automatic machines in the Can Department were installed in the year 1949, that these machines necessitated the use of gloves by the operatives and that the gloves which were the remnants of what was imported for the use of the U. S. Army during the second world war and sold as "disposal goods" were introduced. I am told by the Management that these disposal gloves as they were called, were selected for their low price. After cessation of the war, disposal goods were sold at a very cheap price. These gloves are no longer available except in the black market and at an exorbitant price. The Company have accordingly introduced country-made gloves. That the disposal gloves were stopped and the new type was introduced some time in January and February 1952, i.e., during the pendency of the proceedings arising out of the reference No. 172Dis., dated the 19th October 1951, is not disputed.

The most important point for consideration in the present case is whether the use of a particular type of gloves was the condition of service of the operatives in the Can Department and whether the change in the type of gloves amounted to an alteration of the conditions of service of the workmen and was hence a contravention of section 33(a) of the amended Industrial Disputes Act. The contentions of the workmen are: that the new types of gloves have increased the strain of the workers and not being acid-and-water-proof and tight fitting have exposed the workers to the risk of injury.

The use of gloves for a particular work as a protective dress has been prescribed in the Indian Factories Act and rules framed thereunder. These provisions are mandatory, and have been laid down by the State in partial discharge of its responsibilities for the health and safety of the workers working in a factory. The Indian Factories Act lays down the working conditions of labour in a factory, and as the scheme indicates, these working conditions have been laid down mainly as measures of health and safety, and an expert authority has been provided in the Act for enforcing such measure. These conditions of day to day work should not be confused with the service conditions or in other words the terms of employment of workers. These service conditions have been enumerated in the schedule to the Industrial Employment Standing Orders Act, 1946. It is found that under the Standing Orders Act, the employer is to notify to the workers among other things the working hours and holidays, and shifts which have been dealt with in the Indian Factories Act. The Indian Factories Act provides the maximum working hours and minimum leave and holidays and controls shift works as health measures. Working hours, leave and holidays are also measures of amenities available to workers and as such they form the terms and conditions of their employment. The employers and the workers cannot contract themselves out of the provisions laid down in the Factories Act and the rules thereunder. If in any special case any deviation from these provisions is desirable, it is for the State to deal with the matter. Terms and conditions of service or employment contemplated by the Industrial Disputes Act are those which may form the subject-matter of a contract between the employers and the workmen. These terms and conditions of service or employment are capable of alteration by collective bargaining. It is only when collective negotiations fail, adjudications under the Industrial Disputes Act are called for as a compulsory settlement, and the original contract between the employers and the workmen may either be modified or even be replaced by such compulsory settlement. Thus, the real test whether a particular dispute comes under the Industrial Disputes Act or not is whether the dispute would form the subject-matter of an agreement or negotiation or collective bargaining. In my opinion, any dispte about health and safety measures as provided in the Statute or in the rules framed thereunder cannot be the subject-matter of an agreement and cannot be settled by negotiations or bargaining. I may note in this connection that if any of the health and safety measures are altered pursuant to a negotation between the employer and the workers of a factory, such a negotiation will be of no avail to the employers if a question arises if the provisions of the Factories Act about health and safety measures have been implemented. I am, therefore, definitely of opinion that the question as to whether the particular type of gloves may be considered as a suitable protective dress under the Indian Factories Act for the workers of particular department cannot be the subject-matter of an adjudication.

Even assuming that the Judges of the Industrial Tribunal has jurisdiction over such a dispute, I must say that on the grounds of expediency, the Judges of the Tribunal should refuse to entertain any dispute about health and safety measures provided in the Factories Act and rules framed thereunder on the following grounds:—

(1) The Indian Factories Act lays down special provisions about health and safety measures. The provisions of this special Act should control the general provisions contemplated by the Industrial Disputes Act.

(2) An expert has been provided under the Indian Factories Act and the rules framed thereunder to deal with the health and safety measures, under the Act and the rules, and the Judges of the Industrial Tribunal instead of assuming the roll of an expert, should leave all disputes about health and safety measures to the Chief Inspector of Factories and should not risk any decision specially in the absence of any expert evidence on the point at issue. In any view of the case, I am not inclined to risk my decision on the point.

I may note in this connection that a pair of the disposal gloves as also a pair of country-made gloves introduced by the Management for the operatives of the Can Machines were produced before me and I had occasion to look into the two types of gloves. Undoubtedly the disposal gloves appear to be more comfortable than the country-made gloves. It is not disputed that the disposal gloves are no longer available except in the black market. All law-abiding citizens should ignore black markets and to them, what is available only in the black markets should be considered as not available. Non-availability of the disposal gloves calls for a change in the type of gloves. The new type of gloves may not be quite comfortable but so long as a type of gloves which are at the same time more suitable to the work for which the gloves are intended and more comfortable to the workmen is available, this type of gloves cannot be rejected. The new type of gloves is said to have been introduced since the 9th January 1952. The Company have filed statements about earning of the standard month of 190 working hours of the workmen of the Can Department for several months prior to and after introduction of new type of gloves. From these statements, the correctness of which has not been disputed, it is clear that there has been generally an increase in the average monthly earnings of the workers since the introduction of the new gloves. The comparative chart of the output is generally an indication about the increase or decrease in the strain. The top of the country-made gloves not being elastic as that of the disposal gloves, it was contended that the country-made gloves often come out and the workers have to make some effort to keep them. Both the Management and the workmen should consider whether this defect can be removed by putting an elastic at the top of the gloves.

In order to ascertain as to whether there had been any rise in the case of injury by acid, since the introduction of the new type of gloves, I asked the Management to file a statement of the Medical Officer about the cases of injury by acid among the operatives of the Can Machine both before and after introduction of the new type of gloves, but it was reported that there was not a single case of injury, in the Can Department during the operation of the machines, for want of sufficient protection afforded by the new type of gloves. I was told by Sri Panchanan Bhattacharji that the workers were not permitted to report any injury to the Medical Officer during working hours and that the workers, working as they do on piece-rates, are often reluctant to waste any portion of their time by going to the Medical Officer, for loss of time would necessarily result in loss of earnings. The explanation which has been offered by the workmen about the absence of any injury case appears to me to be an afterthought and I cannot accept it.

On a careful consideration of the facts and circumstances of the case I am inclined to hold that discontinuance of the disposal gloves by the Company is perfectly justified. I leave it to the Chief Inspector of Factories to decide whether the particular type of gloves introduced by the Management is quite suitable for the work for which the gloves are intended and I leave it to the parties themselves to settle in consultation with the Chief Inspector of Factories whether this particular type of gloves, if found suitable by the Chief Inspector of Factories, may be used with an elastic placed at the top of the gloves as also with other modifications, if any. I give my award accordingly.

Section (Case No. 25/52).

PRESENT:

SRI A. DAS GUPTA, Judge.

For the complainant: Sri Panchanan Bhattacharji, President of the National Carbon Workers' Union.

For the opposite party: Dr. J. K. Bose, Labour Adviser of the Indian Engineering Association.

AWARD.

The proceedings started by this Tribunal, pursuant to the order of reference No. 172Dis./10L-21/51, dated the 19th October 1951, for adjudication of an industrial dispute between the National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd., and their workmen have not as yet concluded. The proceedings are still pending.

Section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, prohibits during pendency of any proceedings before a Conciliation Officer or a Tribunal, in respect of any industrial dispute, any alteration, to the prejudice of the workmen concerned in such a dispute, of the conditions of service applicable to them immediately before the commencement of such proceedings, or discharge or punishment by way of dismissal or otherwise, of any workman concerned in such a dispute except with the express permission of the Conciliation Officer or Tribunal as the case may be.

In the event of any contravention of the provisions of section 33 during pendency of proceedings before an Industrial Tribunal, the aggrieved workman or workmen may file a complaint under section 33A of the Act as amended, against such contravention before the Industrial Tribunal before whom the proceedings are pending and section 33A of the Act authorises the Industrial Tribunal to assume jurisdiction over the industrial dispute arising out of the contravention of section 33 as amended, without a formal reference from the appropriate Government under section 10 of the Act and to adjudicate upon the dispute and to give an award.

Section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act lays down the general law as to how an Industrial Tribunal can assume jurisdiction over an industrial dispute and section 33A is a special provision and the conditions under which this special provision may be invoked must be fulfilled, before a Tribunal assumes jurisdiction over an industrial dispute, without any order of reference from the appropriate Government as contemplated by the general section (section 10 of the Act). The conditions are: (1) That the adjudication proceedings in respect of an industrial dispute must be pending before a Tribunal. (2) That during pendency of the proceedings there has been a contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Act by the employers to the prejudice of the workmen. (3) That such contravention is in respect of workmen concerned in the dispute pending for adjudication.

The complaint of the workmen of the Packing Sub-Section of the T. F. Section of the National Carbon Co., Ltd., is that the strength of workers in the said sub-section has been reduced from 12 to 10 since 14th December 1951. The reduction in the labour strength of the Packing Sub-Section undoubtedly took place during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings started under reference No. 172Dis., dated the 19th October 1951, without any express permission of this Tribunal, and it is not disputed that the present complainants are workmen concerned in the industrial dispute which is the subject matter of the aforesaid adjudication proceedings.

The Management admits the reduction in the labour strength of the Packing Sub-Section of the T. F. Section but pleads that this reduction was effected pursuant to an improved scheme for operating efficiency in the packing line of the Finishing Department This improved scheme is identical with that of the Radio Packing Line operating for some considerable time before the date of reference of the main dispute. The Management pleads that as a result of the improvement of the operating efficiency by laying out of equipment in pursuance of the aforesaid scheme, there has been considerable reduction in the labour efforts in the packing line of the Finishing Department. Two workmen of the said department who were considered surplus to the requirement have been given alternative work.

It is clear that the action taken by the Management has not offended the provision of sub-section (b) of section 33 of the amended Industrial Disputes Act, for none of the workers has either been discharged or punished. We are called upon to enquire whether the action complained of amounted to an alteration in the conditions of service applicable to workmen before the commencement of the adjudication proceedings.

Sri Panchanan Bhattacharji contends that the change has increased the strain of the workmen in the Packing Department of the T. F. Section. According to him what was done by 12 men is being done by 10 men. The only question is whether there has been any increase in the strain of the workmen. It may be noted that if at any time the strain on the workmen was abnormally low either on account of a fall in the business or on account of employment of more workers than was required, the strain cannot be said to have increased to such an extent as to require intervention of Tribunal Judges for reduction of the strain, so long as the strain does not exceed what is normally expected from the average workers doing the job.

Sri T. M. Divakaram, Production Engineer of the Company, has been examined in this case. In his evidence before this Tribunal, he gives a comparative picture of the old scheme and the new scheme to indicate that under the new scheme less labour efforts are required, the works are equally uniformly distributed among the workers which was not possible under the old scheme.

In the old scheme.	In the new scheme.
(1) There were two lines at some distance from one another and the labour strength was posted equally on the two sides of each line.	(1) These two lines have been consolidated into one and all the workers are posted on both sides of the line.
(2) There could not be a regular and continuous flow of work on both the lines, the speed of the two lines having been very different.
(3) On account of the defects in the output and the irregularity in the supply of boxes in the two lines, there was at times heavy pressure of work in one line while there was dearth of work in the other.	(2) and (3) These defects were eliminated by consolidating the two lines into one. The worker are equally distributed among the workers.
(4) Both the lines were flat. This necessitated the nailors and strappers to push and pull the boxes.	(4) The line is gradually inclined for most part and no pushing and pulling is required.
(5) There was no automatic stop to stop the boxes coming to a line. This caused periodical pressures on the line.	(5) An automatic device has been introduced whereby a regular supply is ensured.
(6) There was no arrangement for placing the nails within reach of the workers and the workers had to move to get the nails.	(6) A bin has been placed within easy reach of each worker and the workers have been relieved of the strain of moving to get nails.

These two schemes were explained to me at the hearing with reference to blue prints, and I am definitely of opinion that the new scheme is expected to reduce the strain of workers of the Packing Department, although I am not in a position to say from what I have discussed above whether such a reduction in the strain justifies a reduction in the strength of the workmen from 12 to 10. The Company has filed a comparative chart showing the average number of cases nailed and re-strapped per hour per man in the packing line of the Finishing Department as also in the packing line of the Radio Department. This statement relates to work from 24th March 1952 to 29th March 1952. The highest number of cases packed per hour per man in the packing line of the Finishing Department during this week is 12. The corresponding figure for the packing line of the Radio Department is 28, but this is of a different date. The workmen have examined a witness Sriram Singh who works in the Finishing Department of the T. F. Section. According to him a box of the Finishing Section requires 26 nails, and that of the Radio Department requires 14 to 18 nails. I am told, on the other hand, by Mr. Divakaram that on an average 22 nails are required for packing a radio box and 20 nails are required for packing the cases in the Finishing Department. The largest box that is required in the Packing Department is for cells of type 950 and the largest box for packing radio batteries is for the type X-818. Mr. Divakaram tells us that about 5/7th of the entire packing production of the Finishing Section relates to cells of type 950 and that 75 per cent. of the packing production of the radio section relates to batteries of type X-818. I am inclined to think that Sriram Singh has over-estimated the requirement of nails for his department and under-estimated that for the Radio Department. Even accepting his estimate I find that there has been no increase in the strain on the workers of the packing section of the Finishing Department as compared with that of the workers of the packing section of the Radio Department. The maximum hourly output per man in the packing section of the Finishing Department is 12 boxes. There are 10 men. Thus the total hourly output is 120 boxes. These are strapped and nailed by 10 men or in other words 5 are employed to nail the boxes. Thus each worker has to nail 24 boxes per hour. If each box requires 26 nails, he has to push according to the estimate of Sriram Singh 624 nails per hour, or 4,992 nails per day of 8 hours. In the Radio Department the highest number of boxes packed per hour per man is 28. There are 3 men hence the total hourly output works out to 84. This is nailed by 1½ workers on an average. Thus each worker has to nail about 56 boxes per hour and according to the lowest estimate of Sriram Singh each worker has to push 784 nails per hour or 6272 nails per day of 8 hours. If we take the average of 14 and 18 nails per box of the Radio Department as stated by Sriram Singh it will be found that a worker of the Radio Department has to push about 896 nails per hour or 7168 per day of 8 hours. We are told by Mr. Divakaram that in the radio packing two nails are put on the sides in the middle and that it is difficult to put nails on a narrow piece of wood. The workers of the radio packing section work on piece-rates, and if sufficient work for 8 hours cannot be provided they are employed for the rest of the day that is left to them after working in the Radio Packing Department on time-rates in other departments. Piece-rate wages serve as an incentive, and the workers try to finish the works as early as possible. This incentive is wanting in the time-rated workers. At the hearing the Company offered similar terms to the workers of the packing section of the Finishing Department. So far as I could understand, the workers of the Packing Department of Finishing Section are not agreeable to accept the offer. They demanded that they might be employed in the packing section on piece-rates for half the day and for half the day they might be employed at time-rates in other departments. This is outside the scope of our enquiry and I do not propose to discuss this any further. The fact remains that the total outturn per day per worker of the packing section of the Finishing Department is practically 7 hours' work in terms of the outturn of the Packing Department of the radio section. The workers are allowed free tea without limit, 10 minutes' break in the morning, one hour's break in the mid-day and 10 minutes' break in the afternoon. After enjoying these breaks the total daily outturn per worker is at best hammering 6272 nails which is equivalent to the outturn of a worker in the packing section of the Radio Department for 7 hours who also enjoys similar rest intervals. The rest intervals works out to 10 minutes per hour. Thus what is done by the packing section of the Radio Department in 7 hours is actually equivalent to less than 6 hours' active work. This is done by the packing section of the Finishing Department in 8 hours. Hence according to the estimate of the worker Sriram Singh himself there has been no increase in the strain of the workmen of the packing section of the Finishing Department so as to call for the intervention of the Tribunal to reduce the strain. Besides Sriram Singh himself tells us that for the last 2 months or so there has been a substantial fall in the work. When there were 12 men, 20 cart-loads of boxes were packed daily. Now 14 to 15 cart-loads are supplied to the workers. If 20 cart-loads could be finished by 12 men the output on each man was 1⅔ cart-loads. But recently the output of each workman can never exceed 1½ cart-loads. In any view of the case, there has not been any change in the condition of service to the prejudice of the workmen. Instead of any increment in the strain there has been a reduction in the strain of the workmen. In the result the complaint should be dismissed. This is my award.

R. Mookherji, M.A., B.L., 9/B, St. James Square, Calcutta, regarding the matter specified in the schedule to the said order was referred for adjudication to the Sixth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Sixth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between the Calcutta Tramways Co., Ltd., P-4, Mission Row Extension, Calcutta, and their depot cashiers represented by one of themselves, namely, Sri Kalipada Chatterji, C/o. Sri D. R. Mookherji, M.A., B.L., 9/B, St. James Square, Calcutta, referred for adjudication under Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 114Dis./4L-11(A)/51, dated the 24th September 1951.

PRESENT:

SRI S. K. NIYOGI, District Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Sri P. P. Ginwalla, Counsel, assisted by Sri D. Basu Thakur, Solicitor of Messrs. Orr, Dignam & Co.

For the depot cashiers: Sri S. K. Acharyya, Counsel, assisted by Sri D. R. Mukherji, Pleader.

AWARD.

This is a reference by the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, for adjudication of the dispute between the Calcutta Tramways Co., Ltd., and its depot cashier regarding "Standardisation of work of depot cashier". The reference is to the Industrial Tribunal composed of myself alone constituted under section 7 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, for adjudication.

The issue set down for adjudication, namely, "Standardisation of work of depot cashiers", raises a question of considerable complexity. It is a vexed question which has been agitating the minds of the depot cashiers from several years past. It took shape as an industrial dispute and was the subject-matter of reference to Sri R. Gupta, I.C.S., for adjudication in so far back as 1945. The learned adjudicator found that as the work had increased, so also was the strength of the staff raised by the Company; but possibly the increase in the number of men was not quite in proportion to the increase in work, and consequently the work of each individual cashier had become heavier. He expected that the dispute would automatically cease to exist in the near future, as what he considered to be the peak of abnormal period had passed, and the work was bound to fall as it was slowly but surely falling already. Contrary to his expectation, however, the work has gone on increasing. The Company has also gradually increased the number of cashiers with a view to meet the requirements of increased work. But the dispute remains yet to be settled, instead of settling down automatically as it was expected. As in that dispute, so also here, the depot cashiers urged for increasing the number of working hands of depot cashiers, as if by that means the problem with which they are faced would be solved. On this, the Company comments that what the depot cashiers want is not really standardisation of work, and the whole case is misconceived and ought to be dismissed. To me it seems that the remedy suggested is being confused with what the claim is. As the learned Counsel for the depot cashiers has pointed out, their case is that the work should be standardised in the sense that no cashier should be made to do more than a certain quota of work. Increasing the number of hands has been suggested as a means to achieve that end. The Company has hitherto appointed, from time to time, additional hands to give relief to the permanent staff in consideration of the increase in work for each of the permanent depot cashiers. But the desired result has not been produced, and the dispute continues. Increasing the strength of the staff is not likely, therefore, to afford the relief needed. So, we are to approach the question directly, and to see if upon the materials placed before the Tribunal a standard of work to be performed by each depot cashier can be fixed. Standardisation of work is by no means an easy task; and with the amount of work varying from section to section, from route to route, and from hour to hour during the day and night, the task is made more complicated. At the same time, I am unable to agree with the Company when it says that in a Company running tramway traffic with variations of load for each section, it would be impossible to standardise the duties of some 224 cashiers so that each did approximately the same amount of work in his duty period. It cannot really be believed that if the Management and the workmen concerned, with their knowledge and experience of the problems which confront them in the day-to-day work of the particular department bona fide desired to arrive at an amicable settlement, it would have been difficult for them to decide upon a suitable scheme of standardisation of work for the depot cashiers. As that is not possible to obtain for want of agreement between the parties, some solution is to be found, in the interest of both parties, for fixation of a workable standard of normal work, judging by the level of average quantity of work hitherto attained and the scope, if any, of further improvement thereon.

It will be seen from Annexure A to the Company's written statement that 202 was the number of permanent cashiers in 1948, and the average number of bags dealt with by each of them, excluding off-duty men, was 13·2. In 1951 the Company raised the strength of permanent depot cashiers to 215 and employed 9 extra hands so that the total number of men employed was 224. Excluding off-duty men, the average work in 1951 was 13·3 bags per man. The Company raised the number after giving due consideration to the question of amount of work performed by its depot cashiers with a view to providing for them relief against heavy pressure of work as has been made clear in the Company's statement at page 3, against item No. 6. The Company endeavoured, by employing extra hands to keep down the level of work per man at 13;3 bags which was almost the same level as in 1948, so that the depot cashiers might be relieved of extra pressure of work resulting from increased traffic. This gives us an idea of the maximum average daily work done hitherto by a depot cashier in discharging his ordinary routine duty. The number of average bags per head for 1948, and also for 1951 up to October, will come down to 11·5 as shown in Annexure A of the Company's written statement if the calculations be based on the total number of cashiers employed. But as all of them were not available for day-to-day work, the figure for average bags per head which bears relation to the number of hands actually working ought to be preferred. Work done with leisure begets a tendency to slackness. Work at pressure, slightly above normal, helps the growth of efficiency. Taking all things into consideration, 14 bags per head will, in my judgment, be a fair average for a depot cashier's daily work, from the standpoint of both the employer as well as the employed. Generally speaking, the depot cashiers' work consists in preparing tickets, way bills and bags for issuing to the conductors, and in due course receiving back the cash and the unsold tickets at the end of a conductor's trip, and also in summarising the cash received and tickets sold with the way bills and accounting of the sale of the previous day. These works are performed by these men in three different shifts as follows:—

A Shift—6-30 a.m. to 10-30 a.m. and 5-00 p.m. to 9-00 p.m.

B Shift—10-00 a.m. to 5-30 p.m.

C Shift—8-30 p.m. to 6-30 a.m.

There is overlapping in duty hours, but that is intended to enable the men to hand over satisfactorily. In Exhibit 2, which is a representation alleged to have been sent by the depot cashiers to the Chief Accountant of the Company on 10th October 1950, the work of the depot cashiers has been detailed and the time required for each item is noted. I have considered these timings and compared them with the timings given by the Company in Exhibits A and A1 (of which B and B1 are typed copies). In my opinion the timings may reasonably be fixed as follows:—

For preparing tickets and way bills—5 minutes per bag.

Preparing and issuing bags—6 minutes.

Receiving back cash, etc.—6 minutes.

Summary—7 minutes.

The case of the depot cashiers, as made out in Exhibit 2, is that 1½ hours' time is required for posting in stock book, accounting of tickets, preparation of short cash list and comparing the same with the summary sheet. This has been stated with respect to 11 bags, which means 8 minutes per bag. There is no evidence to the contrary from the side of the Company. So, the total time likely to be taken with respect to each bag is on the average 32 minutes. With experience a depot cashier may be expected to do the same work in less than that time. Considering the matter on this line also the depot cashiers ought to be able, without impairment of efficiency, to deal with 14 bags per head per day, working within their duty period of 8 hours on the average with recess for half an hour.

The Company contends that as the depot cashiers were dealing with 13·3 bags per man in 1951, as against 13·2 bags per man in 1948, there is no necessity for standardising their work at the present moment. These calculations were based on figures computed up to October 1951 (see Annexures A and B of the Company's written statement). At the hearing the Company placed before the Tribunal a statement (Exhibit E), showing that the number of bags handled during the week, 20th to 26th December 1951, was 20,679 and the number of hands actually working, excluding the head cashiers and the window duty cashiers, was 1,284. It is in evidence that the duties of the head cashiers and the window duty cashiers are different from the work which the depot cashiers are required to perform. The average number of bags per head, calculated on the figures just mentioned, would be 16, which is much above the figure mentioned in Annexure A. The rapid increase in the work of the depot cashiers as indicated by a comparison of the two statements, is a circumstance calling for standardisation of work as asked for. The Company may have raised the strength of the staff further in the meanwhile, but by the time the additional hands began to operate the existing staff had already suffered from overwork. In the result, the work of the depot cashiers of the Company is standardised at 14 bags per head per day. The Company will examine the figures every month; and if any depot cashier be found to have done work in excess of 14 bags per head per day on any day during the previous month, he will be paid overtime allowance at 1½ times his usual basic pay, that is to say, at 1 anna 9 pies per rupee of his monthly pay, for each extra bag per day. I make my award accordingly.

ORDER.

No. 1726Dis./D/11L-110/52.—23rd June 1952.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 37Dis./11L-166/51, dated the 11th September 1951, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Laxmi Match, Ltd., 150/A, Beliaghata Main Road, Calcutta (Head Office, 243, Upper Chitpore Road, Calcutta), and its workmen represented by the Laxmi Match Workers' Union, 130/32, Gour Dey Garden Lane, Beliaghata, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to Sri P. R. Mukherjee, District Judge (Retired);

And whereas the said Sri P. R. Mukherjee, District Judge (Retired), has submitted to the State Government his award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an Industria dispute between Messrs. Laxmi Match, Ltd., 150/A, Beliaghata Main Road, Calcutta (Head Office 243, Upper Chitpore Road, Calcutta), and its workmen represented by Laxmi Match Workers' Union, 130/32, Gour Dey Garden Lane, Beliaghata, Calcutta.

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SRI P. R. MUKHERJEE, District Judge (Retd.), Chairman, Third Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Sri N. K. Mukherjee, Advocate, Sri D. S. Mehta, Works Manager.

For the Union: Sri A. Chatterjee, Advocate, Sri A. Singh, Secretary of the Union.

AWARD.

The above dispute had at first been referred to Sri A. Das Gupta, District Judge, for adjudication under order No. 3582Lab., dated the 9th June 1951. But as the services of Sri A. Das Gupta ceased to be available, the dispute was referred back to me under order No. 37Dis./11L-166/51. dated the 11th September 1951, for adjudication regarding the matters specified in the schedule.

The case of the Union as is clear from their written statement submitted in this case is that the wages of the piece-raters and daily-raters are too low to provide them with minimum subsistence for themselves and their families. The workers pray for increment of basic wages for the daily-rated workers and enhancement of dearness allowance.

It is also alleged that the grievances had been brought before the Labour Commissioner on 16th April 1951 and the Labour Officer, Sri N. C. Kundu, called upon the Company to maintain status quo in view of sections 31 and 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, and asked for some information from the Company and the Union about the condition of service and the demands of the workers, and that further conciliation proceedings having failed, the employers arbitrarily closed the factory for 6 days in April, 3 days in May and 2 days in June.

The Company also discharged Hari Mistri, Abdul Salam and Hari Narayan Pal and the Union prays for their reinstatement as they had been arbitrarily and unjustly dismissed by the Company during the pendency of the last proceedings.

The workers also pray that they may be compensated for their forced idleness from the date of closure of the factory mentioned in details in the written statement.

The workers pray for revision of basic wages and also pray that the dearness allowance be increased to a flat rate of Rs. 45. They further pray that the Company be ordered to adopt a Standing Order under Act XX of 1946 and be further directed to pay one month's pay per year as bonus and the workers be granted additional leave facilities, statutory, casual and sick leave and privilege leave, leave with and without pay.

The Company submitted a long written statement, and submitted inter alia that the present employer came into existence on 1st August 1950 by purchase of the stock-in-trade of Messrs. Haydari Match Co., who already utilised the factory for about 25 years. The machines thus acquired were all worn out and old and cases of breakdown became a matter of daily occurrence. Over and above this, scarcity of Andaman timber, which is the only suitable raw material for manufacture of matches, greatly hampered production. With old and wretched machines and with unsuitable local timber at prohibitive prices and high prices of chemicals, production could not be profit-earning and especially in the field of keen competition offered amongst others by Messrs. Western India Match Co., Ltd., who are equipped with up-to-date machines yielding much larger production at much less cost. The business of the employer is thus dwindling month by month and it is being carried on at a loss. Subject to these handicaps, it became increasingly difficult to maintain the full strength of workers, and instead of effecting retrenchment of all workers who were considered as surplus to requirement, the employer retained the full complement, but failing to provide work on account of the difficulties aforesaid had to suspend work of the piece-rated workers only on certain days. Regarding pay scale, dearness allowance and bonus, the Company has been following principally the rates which had been given to the workers by its predecessors—in some cases increments have been givn by this Company. After all, the financial instability of the Company and losses incurred by the employer are primarily responsible for effecting any further improvement.

The case dragged on for some time, after which both the parties came to an agreement and filed a petition of compromise signed by representatives of both the parties.

I have carefully perused the terms of settlement and I think that the terms are quite fair, reasonable and advantageous to the workers. It is a pleasure to note that the workers have been able to arrive at a reasonable settlement with the full consent of the owners. I accept the terms of solenama filed by the parties, marked Annexure A, and I direct that the case be disposed of in terms of the above settlement and an award be made embodying all the terms of the solenama, which will form a part of the award.

Chairman,
Third Industrial Tribunal.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 11841.—1st July, 1952.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 48 of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly Procedure Rules, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE WEST BENGAL AGRICULTURAL INCOME-TAX (NOTICES) BILL, 1952.

A

to validate certain notices, assessments and proceedings under the Bengal Agricultural Income-tax Act, 1944.

WHEREAS it is expedient in the public interest to validate certain notices, assessments and proceedings under the Bengal Agricultural Income-tax Act, 1944; Ben. Act IV of 1944.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the West Bengal Agricultural Income-tax (Notices) Act, 1952.

Certain notices, assessments and proceedings under Bengal Act IV of 1944 not to be invalid.

2. (1) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the Bengal Agricultural Income-tax Act, 1944 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act),—

(a) no notice purported to have been issued under sub-section (2) of section 24 of the said Act before the commencement of this Act which could have been validly issued under sub-section (1) of section 38 of the said Act, and shall be deemed to be or to have ever been invalid merely by reason of the fact that by such notice any person was required to furnish a return setting forth his total agricultural income during any period prior to the previous year.

(b) no assessment made before the commencement of this Act and no proceedings in assessment continued after such commencement, in pursuance of or consequent upon any notice referred to in clause (a), treating such notice as a notice under sub-section (2) of section 24 of the said Act,

(2) Nothing in this Act shall render any person liable to prosecution or conviction for any act or omission for which he would not have been liable if this Act had not been passed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Under the Bengal Agricultural Income-Tax Act, 1944, agricultural income of a year is taxable during the next year. An assessment proceeding can be started by issuing a notice calling upon the assessee to submit returns. The notice can be issued either under section 24(2) or under section 38(1) of the Act, subject to the limitation of four years from the assessment year i.e., the year in which the income first became taxable or due for assessment. The High Court of Calcutta decided in a recent case that notices under section 24(2) could not be lawfully issued after the expiry of the assessment year and any assessment so started was invalid. It follows that where an assessment has to be started after expiry of the assessment year, the assessment has to be initiated by a notice under section 38(1) and not under section 24(2) of the Act.

Many assessment cases started after the assessment year, particularly cases relating to years 1946-48 were, with legal advice, started on issue of notices under section 24(2) of the Act. As a result of the recent High Court decision, such proceedings are invalid. Wherever possible the proceedings are now being regularised by issue of a notice under section 38(1) and in future such proceedings will invariably be started on a notice under section 38(1). But there are about 3,000 proceedings, which have either been disposed of, or advanced very far so that starting afresh would involve great trouble both to Government and the parties or where issue of a notice under section 38(1) is now time-barred. The object of the present Bill is to validate these proceedings started after the close of the assessment year on notices issued under section 24(2) instead of under section 38(1) of the Act. It may be mentioned that the contents of the notice under section 24(2) are practically identical with those of the notice under section 38(1) except for the heading and preamble.

No. 1185L.—1st July, 1952.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 48 of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly Procedure Rules, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE WEST BENGAL NON-AGRICULTURAL TENANCY (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1952.

A

to amend the West Bengal Non-Agricultural Tenancy Act, 1949.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the West Bengal Non-Agricultural Tenancy Act, 1949, for the purposes and in the manner hereinafter appearing; West Ben. Act XX of 1949.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the West Bengal Non-Agricultural Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1952.

Amendment of section 85 of West Ben. Act XX of 1949.

2. For clause (c) of section 85 of the West Bengal Non-Agricultural Tenancy Act, 1949, the following clause shall be substituted, namely:—

"(c) any land acquired or deemed to have been acquired under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, or the Defence of India Rules made under the Defence of India Act, 1939, or the Requisitioned Land (Continuance of Powers) Act, 1947, or the West Bengal Land (Requisition and Acquisition) Act, 1948, or the West Bengal Land Development and Planning Act, 1948, or the West Bengal Requisitioned Land (Continuance of Powers) Act, 1951, or the Requisitioning and Acquisition of Immovable Property Act, 1952, or any other law for the time being in force providing for the compulsory acquisition of land, or". 1 of 1894. XXXV of 1939. XVII of 1947. West Ben. Act II of 1948. West Ben. Act XXI of 1948. West Ben. Act VIII of 1951. XXX of 1952.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The West Bengal Non-Agricultural Tenancy Act, 1949, confers certain rights on non-agricultural tenants, but an exception has been made by section 85 in case of lands acquired under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, for the use of a Department of Government. The reason for the exception is obvious, and it ought to apply to acquisitions under certain later Acts under which lands have been acquired.

BILL

further to amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, for the purposes and in the manner hereinafter appearing; Ben. Act VIII of 1885.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Tenancy (West Bengal Amendment) Act, 1952.

Amendment of section 116 of Bengal Act VIII of 1885.

2. In section 116 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, for the words and figures "acquired under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894," the words, brackets and figures "acquired or deemed to have been acquired under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, or the Defence of India Rules made under the Defence of India Act, 1939, or the Requisitioned Land (Continuance of Powers) Act, 1947, or the West Bengal Land (Requisition and Acquisition) Act, 1948, or the West Bengal Land Development and Planning Act, 1948, or the West Bengal Requisitioned Land (Continuance of Powers) Act, 1951, or the Requisitioning and Acquisition of Immovable Property Act, 1952, or any other law for the time being in force providing for the compulsory acquisition of land" shall be substituted. I of 1894. XXXV of 1939. XVII of 1947. West Ben. Act II of 1948. West Ben. Act XXI of 1948. West Ben. Act VIII of 1951. XXX of 1952.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 116 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, bars accrual of occupancy and other rights in lands acquired under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 (I of 1894). But there is no provision in the said Act to bar accrual of such rights in the case of lands acquired under other laws providing for acquisition of land. Large areas of land have been acquired under these other laws enacted in recent times. In the public interest it is necessary to prevent accrual of occupancy and other rights in such lands also. It is accordingly proposed to amend section 116 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, so as to make the provisions thereof applicable also in the case of lands acquired under laws other than the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 (I of 1894).

The Bill has been framed with this object in view.

THE WEST BENGAL EVACUEE PROPERTY (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1952.

BILL

to amend the West Bengal Evacuee Property Act, 1951.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the West Bengal Evacuee Property Act, 1951, for the purpose and in the manner hereinafter appearing; West Ben. Act V of 1951.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the West Bengal Evacuee Property (Amendment) Act, 1952.

Amendment of section 5 of West Bengal Act V of 1951.

2. In the proviso in section 5 of the West Bengal Evacuee Property Act, 1951, for the words and figures "refer the case to the Minority Commission constituted under Notification No. 2276CR/CR-481/50, dated the 6th May, 1950, for advice" the words "refer the case for advice to the Minority Commission constituted for the time being by the State Government" shall be substituted and be deemed to have always been substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Under sub-section (2) of section 5 of the West Bengal Evacuee Property Act, 1951, when the Collector is of opinion that the cancellation of the Collector's order under section 4(b) of the Act or the delivery of possession of property to a returned evacuee would not be feasible, the case will have to be referred by the State Government to the Minority Commission constituted under the Notification No. 2276CR/CR-481/50, dated the 6th May, 1950, for advice. The Minority Commission for West Bengal which was constituted under the aforesaid notification with a Minister of this State as Chairman and two other members of the West Bengal Assembly representing the majority and minority communities of this State in accordance with the procedure laid down in the Prime Ministers' Agreement of April, 1950, will have to be reconstituted with newly elected members of the Legislature representing the two communities. In order to enable the reconstituted Commission to function for the purposes of the Evacuee Property Act, 1951, it is necessary to amend the proviso in section 5 of the Act.

For the workmen: Sri Khagendranath Adhikary, Secretary, and Sri Abani Mukherji, Member, Executive Committee of the Union.

For the employers: Dr. J. K. Bose, Adviser of the Indian Engineering Association and Sri S. K. Asthana, Labour Adviser, Engineering Association of India.

AWARD.

The only dispute which calls for an adjudication under the order of reference No. 560/Dis./10L-51/51, dated the 26th December 1951, is about Puja bonus. The order of reference related originally to Messrs. National Iron and Steel Co., Ltd. Subsequently by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 384Dis./D-10L-17/52, dated the 20th February 1952, Messrs. National Screw and Wire Products, Ltd., and Messrs. Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., Belur, were added as parties to the reference.

The Belur Branch of the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., was opened in the year 1940 within the boundary of Messrs. National Iron and Steel Co., Ltd., by hiring their shades and equipments. The main line of business of the concern both at Tatanagar and Belur is the manufacture of cast iron railway sleepers for which orders are issued by the Railway Board. The potential annual manufacturing capacity at Tatanagar Works is about 30,000 tons. Due to pressure of work during the second World War, the Branch at Belur had to be opened with a manufacturing capacity of 18,000 tons per annum. Since 1950-51 the volume of orders was reduced so much so that the present unit of the industry found it difficult to run the two works —at Tatanagar and Belur economically. The Railway Board placed orders for 40,000 tons for the year 1950-51 and 20,000 tons for the year 1951-52. This the Railway Board did only to keep the factories in production. The position at present is that the railways have been holding a large stock of cast iron sleepers for use in 1952-53 so much so that they can do without purchasing cast iron sleepers during 1952-53. Still, with a view to keep the units in production an order was placed by the Railway Board by letter No. 57375, dated the 20th December 1951, with Messrs. Iron and Steel Co., Ltd., for 30,000 tons of cast iron sleepers for the year 1952-53 which was to be distributed among three units—Messrs. Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., Messrs Burn & Co., Ltd. and Messrs Kulti Works. Messrs. Tatanagar Iron Foundry Co., Ltd., who were Sub-Contractors of Messrs. National Iron and Steel Co., Ltd., were allotted only 10,000 tons out of this order. This tonnage was not sufficient even for economic running of the main factory at Tatanagar. By a notice, dated 31st January 1952, the works at Belur were closed down with effect from 1st February 1952 and all the workmen appear to have been offered wages for the notice period. This fact was communicated to the District Magistrate, Howrah, by a letter, dated 30th January 1952 [Exhibit 17(a)]. The Labour Commissioner was fully apprised of the position by a letter, dated 8th February 1952 (Exhibit 22). The entire position was placed before the West Bengal Government by the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., by a letter, dated 8th/10th April 1952, and by the Engineering Association of India by a letter, dated 18th April 1952 (Exhibits 20 and 21). The facts which led to the closure of the branch factory at Belur of the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., could not be rebutted by the Union. The fact remains that the branch works have been closed.

A preliminary objection has been raised on behalf of Messrs. Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., that the reference in respect of their branch workshop at Belur was bad inasmuch as on the date of the reference the branch had no existence. A controversy arises in this connection as to which of the two dates, viz., the 26th December 1951 which is the date of the original reference or the 20th February 1952 which was the date of the addendum by which the branch workshop at Belur of the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., was added as a party to the original reference should be the date of reference in respect of the branch workshop at Belur of the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd. The Union's contention is that the date of the original reference should be considered as the date of reference in respect of all the three concerns—National Iron and Steel Co., Ltd., National Screw and Wire Products, Ltd., and Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd. This contention of the Company Union cannot be accepted. Under the ordinary law of Civil Courts, if a party is added subsequent to the institution of a suit, the suit is deemed to have been filed on the date on which the party is added. Although we are not inclined to apply the rules of common law strictly in the present case, I am clearly of opinion that by no stretch of imagination a party can be said to be a party to the reference unless and until a reference is actually made in pleading the said party as one of the parties to the dispute. Hence by no stretch of imagination, it can be said that the dispute between the branch workshop at Belur or the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., and their workmen was referred to this Tribunal on any date prior to the 20th February 1952 on which date the said workshop was added as a party to the original order of reference. I accept the contention on behalf of the branch workshop at Belur of the Tatanagar Iron Foundry Co., Ltd., about the date on which the dispute relating to its branch workshop should be deemed to have been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication.

The workmen employed in the branch workshop will no doubt lose their job on the closure of the workshop for which they were employed. But the Company maintained a consolidated account for the main factory as also for the branch factory and the workmen were paid their wages and other earnings out of the revenue of the Company derived from both the factories and were subject to the rules and conditions of the Company. The branch workshop was only a department or section of the main concern and the Company was the employer of the workmen at Belur. The Company has not been wound up as provided in the Indian Companies Act. The Company has only closed down one of its departments, namely, the branch workshop at Belur. The employer is not extinct as would have been the case if the Company had been wound up. The dispute about Puja bonus was raised by the workmen before the workshop was closed. As a result of the closure of the workshop at Belur, the services of the workmen there were terminated or, in other words, they were discharged during the pendency of the dispute which could not be settled before the branch factory was closed These workmen having been discharged during the pendency of th dispute for Puja bonus are still workmen within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The reference in respect of the dispute relating to the Belur Workshop of the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., was made on the 20th February 1952, that is, on the date on which the addendum No. 384Dis. was issued by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department. Thus, although on this date the workshop at Belur was closed down and the workmen had been discharged as a result of the closure, the workmen were workmen within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, and their employer, the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., or in other words, on 20th February 1952 there was an industrial dispute between the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., and their workmen who had been employed for the branch workshop at Belur. In this view of the case, the addendum, dated 20th February 1952, was neither bad in law nor did it vitiate the original reference, dated the 26th December 1951.

Sri Asthana contends on behalf of the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., that the closure of the branch factory at Belur was on justifiable economic grounds, and that the closure of the branch factory connot be in any way the subject matter of an investigation under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. He has filed a copy of the judgment of their Lordships of the Honourable Madras High Court in the case of India Metal and Metallurgical Corporation, dated the 3rd November 1951, in support of his contention. I had occasion to hold the same view in the case of Victoria Cotton Mills, Ghusuri, published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 8th March 1951—

> "Every individual has the natural right to initiate a business or an undertaking and to close it down either partially or entirely. This natural right has not as yet been interfered with in any way by any legislation. When the natural right of an individual to wind up a business or an undertaking either entirely or partially has not been denied the consequence that follows cannot be avoided by any legislation."

This was the view I expressed in the case of the Victoria Cotton Mills published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 8th March 1951. This contention does not appear to me quite relevant to the preliminary objection raised on behalf of the Company. The only point which calls for a decision in order to dispose of the preliminary objection, is whether by the closure of the Belur branch of the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., the employer was extinct. I have discussed the point elaborately and my definite finding is that the employer was not extinct by reason of the closure of the Belur branch. I am told that the machineries are lying idle and have not been disposed of. The preliminary objection of the Company is accordingly overruled.

Now I proceed to discuss the merit of the case. The claim is for Puja bonus for 1951 at an increased rate. The three Companies have been paying Puja bonus equivalent to 15 days' wages each year for a pretty long time, irrespective of any consideration of profit or loss. The workmen of all the three concerns claim one month's wages as Puja bonus for 1951. On 11th September 1951 the workmen are said to have placed a charter of demand claiming, among other things, two months' wages as Puja bonus every year. This claim was modified subsequently and the workmen claimed only one month's wages as Puja bonus for 1951. I do not propose to enter into the history of the dispute and its subsequent modification.

The principles governing bonus have been laid down by their Lordships of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case of Mill Owners' Association, Bombay, reported in 1950—Volume II, Labour Law Journal, at page 1247. In the case of Electric Manufacturing Co., Ltd., Calcutta (Appeal No. Cal-14/50), their Lordships observed:

> "The theory regarding bonus has undergone change from time to time, one being exploded and replaced by another. At the present moment, in the industrial world, it is understood to be a payment made by the industry to the employees to supplement the earnings of workmen whose wages have not reached the standard of living wages and this payment is made out of the profits.
> The Full Bench of this Tribunal in the case of The Mill Owners' Association, Bombay, reported in Labour Law Journal, 1950, Volume II, at page 1247, laid down certain principles regarding the payment of bonus. The principle, in short, is that the claim of the employees for bonus would only arise if there should be a surplus left after making provision for (a) prior charges and (b) a fair return on paid up capital and on reserves employed as working capital. The prior charges are in respect of amounts of money that would be necessary for replacements, modernisation of machinery, for payment of income-tax, etc, Then it has also to set apart an amount that would be necessary for paying a reasonable dividend."

In the case of the Calcutta Electric Manufacturing Co., Ltd., it was found that the bonus was paid to the workmen for a long time without reference to any profit or loss. Some profit was earned in the year 1948-49 and the original Tribunal directed a portion of this profit to be paid to the workmen as bonus for the following year. This award was set aside by the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal and it is clear from the observations of their Lordships which have been quoted above that the question of bonus arises only when the industry has earned some profits, for the payment of bonus is to be made out of profits. Such profits must be sufficient to ensure a provision for prior charges and a fair return on paid up capital and working capital, before any bonus is paid to the workmen. Bonus can be claimed by the workmen only out of the surplus profits that will be left to the industry after meeting the prior charges and a fair return on paid up capital and on the working capital. Six per cent. per annum has been accepted as a normal return for paid up capital and 4 per cent. per annum for the working capital.

I shall take up the three units, one by one and discuss whether their financial position justifies any bonus in addition to what has already been paid.

(a) National Iron and Steel Co., Ltd.—The financial year of this unit is from the 1st of April to the 31st of March of the following year. The trading account of this unit for the year ending on 31st March 1948 shows a net loss of Rs. 62,278. This when adjusted with the carried over of Rs. 1,21,865 from the last year's profit left a balance of Rs. 59,587 which was carried forward to the next year and shown as profit. In the following year ending on 31st March 1949 Rs. 1,43,893 was earned as profit. The Company have a contingent liability, subject to pending appeal for income and other taxes to the extent of Rs. 8,40,396. In 1949-50 Rs. 7,08,344 was the profit. Out of this 3,25,000 was set apart under the head "provision for taxation" and Rs. 1,87,350 was earmarked for dividend at 3¾ per cent. Thus, only Rs. 1,95,994 was left. The shareholders who could not be paid any dividend at least for the two preceding years were not even paid a fair return at the accepted normal rate of 6 per cent. No return was set apart on the working capital and the Managing Agents who are entitled to commission on the profits at 10 per cent. did not take a single farthing for such commission. I was shown the original agreement in which there was a stipulation for commission on profits at 10 per cent. I am not aware whether this commission was foregone for ever. The fact remains that in the particular year the Managing Agents did not take any commission out of the profit of the year. Fair and adequate wages and dearness allowance of the workmen are undoubtedly a fair charge on the finance of the industry. This must be paid irrespective of any consideration of profit or loss in any particular year. Then on the net profit which is calculated after deducting the wages and dearness allowance paid to the workmen and provision for taxation a fair return on the paid up capital which is absolutely necessary to secure capital investment should be the first charge. Without a fair return on the paid up capital, investment will be shy. It will be seen that if these items of legitimate expenditure are provided for there will be a deficit of nearly one lac. The following table will indicate the position very clearly:—

Prior charges.		Net profit.
		Rs.
Depreciation (already taken account of before arriving at net profits)—		7,08,383
	Rs.
Taxation	3,25,000
Return at 6 per cent. on paid up capital of Rs. 49,96,060. ..	2,99,760
Return at 4 per cent. on working capital of Rs. 26,62,307. ..	1,06,492
Managing Agency Commission ..	70,838
	8,02,090	7,08,383

Reserve of Rs. 1,95,994 out of the profits for the year 1949-50 could be secured at a considerable amount of sacrifice on the part of the shareholders and the Managing Agents. Balance sheet for the year 1949-50 shows taxation reserve for Rs. 4,16,168. To this was added Rs. 3,25,000. The total is, therefore, Rs. 7,41,168. The contingent liability for income and other taxes of the Company subject to appeal already preferred was Rs. 9,45,767 up to 31st March 1950. This has increased to Rs. 14,60,559 on 31st March 1951. The balance sheet for the year 1949-50 is admittedly the latest balance sheet that is available. The balance sheet for 1950-51 has not as yet been ready. The claim of the workmen was based on the trading position of the year 1949-50. On a scrutiny of the balance sheet for 1949-50 I am clearly of opinion that the trading position does not warrant any bonus higher than what has already been paid to the workmen. As the balance sheet for the year 1950-51 is not available, I am not in a position to say anything as to what should be the bonus to the workmen on the profit of that particular year. I accordingly recommend that if it be found that the Company earns substantial profits in that particular year or in any year the Company should increase the bonus to the workmen on the principle laid down by their Lordships of the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal already referred to.

It was contended on behalf of the workmen that on 30th August 1950 one month's wages as bonus were recommended by the Works Committee. The Company has filed copies of the minutes of the Works Committee of several dates as required by the Union. These are Exhibits 3 series. The only portion of the minutes on which the Union relied is item No. 3 of the minutes, dated 30th August 1950. This is as follows:—

Puja bonus.

Rajkumar Hazra said that last year they were paid 15 days' salary as Puja bonus and they were given assurance by a Director that if the factory ran satisfactorily he would be able to increase the bonus to one month.

The Works Manager said that he would put this up to the Directors and any orders issued by them would be conveyed to them.

This does not amount to any recommendation by the Works Committee. Even if it be construed to be a recommendation of the Works Committee which could not be expected to have had a clear idea of the finance of the industry, the recommendation cannot be considered an assurance from the Management. There is no satisfactory evidence that any Director had assured to increase the bonus to one month's wages if the factory would run satisfactorily. Even if it be assumed that there was such an assurance, such satisfactory working of the factory could never mean only a slight improvement in the profit which was hardly sufficient to meet the prior charges and a fair return on the paid up capital. I cannot accordingly accept the contention of the Union as a basis of their claim for bonus. I have already indicated the financial position of the Company in the year 1949-50. This does not justify any increment of the bonus already paid. As the balance sheet for the year 1950-51 was not available I cannot but recommend that if the financial position improves satisfactorily to justify any increment of bonus on the principle laid down by their Lordships of the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal, the Company should pay such increment to the workmen.

(b) National Screw and Wire Products, Ltd.—The Management has filed the balance sheets for two years 1948 and 1949. The balance sheets for the years 1950 and 1951 are not yet ready. In the year 1948 the Company incurred a loss of Rs. 51,266 and in the year 1949 the loss was Rs. 36,820. No dividend was paid to the shareholders during these two years and the Managing Agents did not get any office allowance and commission for this period. On the principle already discussed, on the balance sheets for the years 1948 and 1949 the workmen had no justification to demand any bonus not to speak of any increased bonus over and above what they have been paid already. If the trading condition for the year 1950 justifies any increased bonus I recommend that such increased bonus may be paid to the workmen.

(c) Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., Belur branch.—The Company has filed printed balance sheets for the years 1948-49 and 1949-50. The Company has also filed a typed copy of the audited balance sheets for the year 1950-51. In the year 1948-49 the Company earned a profit of Rs. 3,60,848. The profit in the year 1949-50 was Rs. 4,13,454 and the profit in the year 1950-51 was Rs. 1,36,813. Out of the net profit Rs. 1,45,000 has been set apart for taxation. The shareholders were not paid divided at least from 1942 to 1948. In the years 1948-49 and 1949-50 dividend was paid at $3\frac{3}{4}$ per cent. This was much below the accepted normal rate of dividend. The paid-up capital is Rs. 14,50,200. At the accepted normal rate of 6 per cent. per annum the dividend works out to Rs. 87,012. The total of the amount to be set apart for taxation and dividend to shareholders is Rs. 2,32,012. Thus nothing will be left for any return on the working capital which as stated by the Company is Rs. 17,50,662. This figure has not been disputed by the Union. Thus on the principle already discussed the workmen are not entitled to any bonus for the year 1951. They have been already paid 15 days' wages as bonus. They ought to be satisfied with this and there is no justification for them to demand bonus at any higher rate. It may be noted that out of the profit of the year 1948-49 Rs. 5,50,000 was set apart for renovation of the sleeper foundry plant. The pipe foundry needed also a through reorganisation for which necessary scheme had also been completed. This scheme was expected to require a heavy amount of finance. When the Company found a fall in the orders of sleepers these two schemes were abandoned.

It is clear that all the three Companies are trying their best to find funds for improvement at a heavy sacrifice on the part of the shareholders as also the Managing Agents. The shareholders are not getting a fair return for the money they had risked and the Managing Agents are not getting their stipulated commission.

The majority of the workmen of the Belur branch of the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., appear to have taken away all their dues, including provident funds money and pay for the notice period immediately after the closure of the branch workshop. I do not propose to discuss here whether such acceptance estops the workmen from claiming increased bonus, if they were really entitled to such bonus, during the period they had worked.

On the financial position of the three Companies as placed before me, I cannot allow the workmen any increased bonus as claimed. It has already been noted that for the National Iron and Steel Co., Ltd., and the National Screw and Wire Products, Ltd., the balance sheets for the period just before the time when the bonus was payable in 1951 have not as yet been completed. My recommendation is that if after the balance sheet for 1950-51 of the National Iron and Steel Co., Ltd., and balance sheet for 1950 of the National Screw and Wire Products, Ltd., are finalised, the net profits earned justify an increased bonus to the workmen on the principle already discussed, such increased bonus shall be paid to the workmen of these two concerns. The Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., has filed the balance sheet for the year 1950-51, and I have already noted that the profit earned by this Company in the year 1950-51 does not justify any increased bonus to its workmen. This is my award. An unpleasant incident is alleged by the Management of the National Iron and Steel Co., Ltd., to have taken place over the demand for bonus. This incident was briefly narrated in paragraph 7 of the Company's written statement and was referred to in the letter, dated 17th October 1951, addressed to the Labour Commissioner (Exhibit 5). The Company has filed a copy of the judgment of the Criminal Court in the criminal case arising out of the incident. I do not propose to discuss the incident in the present case. I cannot but express the deepest regret for the incident and I close my award with an appeal to the workmen that such unpleasant things may not happen in future.

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, 8, LYONS RANGE, 2ND FLOOR, CALCUTTA.

PRESENT:

SRI A. DAS GUPTA, Judge.

For the complainant: Sri Panchanan Bhattacherji, President of the National Carbon Workers Union.

In the opposite party: Dr. J. K. Bose, the Labour Adviser of the Indian Engineering Association

AWARD.

The proceedings started by this Tribunal pursuant of the order of reference No. 172Dis./10L-21/51, dated 9th October 1951, for adjudication of the industrial dispute between National Carbon Co. (India), Limited, and their workmen, have not as yet concluded. The proceedings are till pending.

Section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, prohibits, during pendency of any proceedings before a Conciliation Officer, or a Tribunal in respect of an industrial dispute, any alteration, to the prejudice of the workmen concerned in such a dispute, of the condition of service applicable to them immediately before the commencement of such proceedings, or discharge or punishment by way of dismissal or otherwise of any workmen concerned in such dispute, except with the express permission of the Conciliation Officer or Tribunal as the case may be.

In the event of any contravention of the provision of section 33 during pendency of proceedings before the Industrial Tribunal, the aggrieved workman or workmen may file a complaint under section 33A of the Act as amended, against such contravention before the Industrial Tribunal before whom the proceedings are pending, and section 33A of the Act authorises the Industrial Tribunal to assume jurisdiction over the industrial dispute arising out of the contravention of section 33 as amended, without a formal reference from the appropriate Government under section 10 of the Act and to adjudicate upon the dispute and to give an award.

Section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act lays down the general law as to how an Industrial Tribunal can assume jurisdiction over an Industrial dispute. Section 33A is a special provision and the conditions under which this special provision may be invoked must be fulfilled before the Tribunal assumes jurisdiction over the industrial dispute without any order of reference from the appropriate Government as contemplated by the general section (section 10 of the Act).

The conditions are:—

(1) That the proceedings in respect of an industrial dispute must be pending before a Tribunal.

(2) During pendency of the proceedings, there has been a contravention of the provision of section 33 of the Act by the employer to the prejudice of the workmen.

(3) That such contravention is in respect of workmen concerned in the dispute pending for adjudication.

The present complainants are workmen concerned in the industrial dispute which is subject-matter of the reference No. 172Dis., dated 17th October 1951. The complaint of the workmen is:—(i) That loans against Provident Fund and Savings Fund have been discontinued since commencement of the proceedings under the order of reference No. 172Dis., dated 17th October 1951. (ii) That the 26th day of December 1951 was not declared a holiday.

For these alleged acts no permission of the Tribunal was sought for. The only point for consideration is:—(i) Whether loans against Provident Fund and Savings Fund had been allowed in the past before commencement of the present adjudication proceedings and had been the condition of service of the workmen and whether such loans were stopped after commencement of these proceedings. (ii) Whether the 26th December was declared a holiday in the past and whether this was a condition of service of the workmen and whether this holiday was stopped in 1951.

At the hearing the workmen withdrew their grievance about loans against Provident Fund on the ground that this grievance is one of the items of dispute under reference No. 172Dis., dated 17th October 1951.

We are to consider the grievance about loans against Savings Fund. By the end of October 1948 the Company introduced a scheme, in addition to the scheme of the Provident Fund, called the Savings Fund. To this fund both the employees and the employers contribute As. 2-3 per rupee of the wages of the individual workmen from the end of October of each year and the accumulation of each workman at the end of twelve months is paid to him. The contribution on each side works out to 1·81 months' pay for each year. The object of this scheme is to substitute bonus scheme and to enable the workmen to meet their increased obligations during ceremonial occasions at the Pujas or Id festival.

This Savings Fund was the outcome of a joint agreement and the rules governing the fund were framed in consultation with the Union (Exhibit 1).

The rules prohibit any advance against the Savings Fund. The Company denies to have given any advance to any workmen against this fund. Even assuming that the workmen were allowed any advance in the past, such advance cannot be considered as a condition of service on two grounds. (i) Such advances were not allowed to all workmen for a sufficient length of time so as to warrant, a conclusion that such advances were a condition of service of the workmen as an implied contract. (ii) Such advances if made in the past, were allowed in violation of the express rules which represent the conditions of service and such violation cannot be perpetuated.

I have been told that workmen have a Co-operative Credit Society. The Company has advanced Rs. 10,000 to facilitate works of the society. The workmen may become members of the society and get loans from the fund of the society. The workmen contend that loans are not available for want of sufficient funds and that loans even if allowed carry interest. The workmen demanded that advance against wages should be allowed. The Company's case is that advances have been allowed against wages in suitable cases at the discretion of the management. It has been contended on behalf of the management that such advances cannot be demanded by the workmen as a matter of right as a condition of their service. The workmen did not make any grievance on this point in their petition of complaint. I am not called upon to express myself on this point. However I recommend that so long as the funds of the Co-operative Credit Society are not sufficient to meet the reasonable demands of the workmen, loans should be allowed after a strict scrutiny of the applications for loans. The interest charged, ultimately goes to the members of the society in the form of dividend. This is undoubtedly to the benefit of the workmen. In this connection I may be permitted to note a warning that liniency about loans must be discouraged by all means, in the interest of the workmen themselves, so that they may not be led to unnecessary debts.

On a careful consideration of the facts and circumstances of the case about the stoppage of loans as complained against, I am definitely of opinion that there has not been any contravention of section 33 of the amended Industrial Disputes Act.

Then about the holiday of the 26th December 1951, I could understand that 26th December of each year is a holiday. It was a holiday but not a paid holiday in 1951. This was declared a paid holiday in 1950 on the application of the workmen. The Company allowed (i) 8 paid festival holidays, (ii) 7 unpaid festival holidays, (iii) 4 paid statutory holidays, (iv) 10 days' statutory leave with pay, (v) 1 day paid statutory leave for over 20 days' work. The holidays are selected in consultation with the Union, or the representatives of the workmen. There has not been any deviation in the total number of paid and unpaid holidays. The workers are given the liberty to substitute the holiday on a particular occasion by another, provided the total number of holidays of each category is not varied. In 1950, 26th December was made a paid holiday and in consideration of this another paid holiday was made an unpaid holiday. The Company's case is that in 1951 the workers were asked to inform the Company in writing if they wanted 26th December to be a paid holiday. It was made clear to the workmen that the Company was agreeable to give this as a paid holiday, but the employees are said to have refused to say anything on this point. 26th December 1951 was accordingly given as a unpaid holiday as in previous years. In any view of the case, a paid holiday on the 26th December was never the condition of the service of the workmen, and there has been no contravention of section 33 of the amended Act. I am not here called upon to declare the 26th December of each year as a paid holiday. This point may come up before this Tribunal in the main dispute pending for adjudication.

In any view of the case, the complaint of the workmen must be dismissed.

By order of the Governor,
D. S. P. MUKHERJEE, Jt. Secy.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Bharat Carbon and Ribbon Manufacturing Co., Ltd., 543, Basantalal Saha Road, P. O. Tollygunge, Calcutta-33, and their workmen represented by Bharat Carbon and Ribbon Workers' Union, 97/98, Basantalal Saha Road, Tollygunge, Calcutta-33.

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SRI P. R. MUKHERJEE, District Judge (Retd.), Chairman, Third Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company : Sri M. G. Podder, Solicitor, Sri B. K. Bhattra, Director of the Company.

For the Union : Sri A. P. Chatterjee, Advocate, Sri R. Sharma, President of the Union.

AWARD.

The above dispute had been referred to me by the Government of West Bengal, Department of Labour, order No. 562Dis./D/11L-278/51, dated the 26th December 1951, for adjudication.

The case of the Union is that there had been an award on 8th January 1948 given by Sri P. K. Sarkar, Adjudicator. It is alleged that the Company has flouted almost every point of the award. Ultimately the workers served a strike notice to the Company with a copy to the Labour Commissioner. The strike notice was ultimately withdrawn on the assurance given by Mrs. P. Chakraborty, Assistant Labour Commissioner, that the dispute was being referred to the Tribunal. The main grievance of the workers is that in contravention to the decision of the award of Sri Sarkar, the Company is appointing for the last few years new hands at the rate of anna 1 and 6 pies and 2 annas per hour; whereas the basic wage has been fixed by the Tribunal at 2 annas 6 pies per hour. The workers demand that the minimum wages should not be less than 2 annas 6 pies per hour and the sum that have fallen due at this rate should be refunded with retrospective effect from the date of appointment to those workers who have been appointed at a lesser rate, that annual general increment of Rs. 5 should be given at once with retrospective effect from 1949, that cheap canteen should be opened and a cup of tea per day should be supplied to each worker free, that Puja and Id bonus should be paid with retrospective effect from 1947. There is also a prayer for reinstatement of the retrenched workers and that there should be no retrenchment.

The Company submits a written statement stating its difficulties as to how after the partition, the Company experienced difficulties in managing their business from Lahore, Karachi and Calcutta, and the Company had to close the Karachi factory and shift the same to Calcutta and experienced great hardships incurring heavy expenditure on account of evacuation of staff.

It is alleged that the previous award had been made by agreement and proving now much disadvantageous to the Company. The workers' attitude is all along unsympathetic. The sum and substance of the statement of the Company is that there have been heavy increments on account of wages and salaries of establishment, with the result that this Company is anyhow keeping its head above water. The Company states that for the new entrants, they have introduced a new scale of wage and dearness allowance somewhat lower than that agreed on before. So far as the old workers are concerned, the Company is paying them full wages and dearness allowance as per Sri Sarkar's award. Details of the Company's statement will be found in the body of the award.

Issues.

1. General revision of wage structure.
2. Yearly bonus of one month's basic wage during Puja or Id.
3. Leave.
4. Cheap canteen.

Issue No. 1.

The Company gives a history of its vicissitudes due to the creation of Pakistan. This Company was the first in India to start an industry for the manufacture of carbon papers and typewriter ribbons in the year 1931, when a factory for this purpose had been set up at Karachi. The Company had to meet keen competition from foreign manufacturers. But the War came to their rescue, when another factory was set up at Calcutta as a Supply Department Agency Factory for the manufacture of teliprinter papers at the instance of the Government of India. The registered office of the Company was then situated at Lahore, which was mainly subscribed by the shareholders in the West Punjab. The Company proceeded favourably, as during the War, import was very much restricted, which eliminated competition from foreign manufacturers and due to increased demand the Company started making some profit. In the year 1945 with the termination of the War, this industry was again in the grip of competition, and in 1946 due to resumption of imports of foreign goods, the prices came down considerably and it was discovered that in most of the items, the Company was incurring loss. In the meantime, the political situation in the country forced the decision in favour of the closing down of Karachi factory and shifting it to Calcutta. Political events, however, moved much faster and the shifting from Karachi had to be done under very difficult conditions resulting in loss of production for about six months. The Karachi and Calcutta factory were amalgamated and it became necessary for the Management to bring about a general reduction amongst the staff and workers. The Company at that time was virtually faced with extinction because of the heavy demands made by the creditors most of whom belonged to West Punjab and had been displaced. The Company could not carry on with a single superfluous hand, and had no other alternative but to retrench 54 workers out of a total of 129.

According to the Company, when they were facing a life and death struggle, the workers were completely indifferent about its fate, and instead of co-operating with the Management at such a critical stage, went on strike on 14th August 1947, when their demand for payment of Independent Day Bonus could not be considered by the Management. Again on the inability of the Company to agree to their demands, the workers went on strike on the 15th September 1947, and the matter was then referred to the Tribunal of Sri Sarkar on 16th October 1947. The Company had two courses open to them, either to close down or to submit to the unreasonable demand of the workers. But the Company decided that it should anyhow maintain its existence by starting the factory and had to agree to the demands of the workers reluctantly. The agreed award, according to the Company, had been made under the above circumstances and the above award was made operative from 1st January 1948 for a period of one year. This is the main background against which the case is to be adjudicated.

By the award of Sri Sarkar, a minimum monthly wage of Rs. 58-8 comprising of Rs. 32-8 as basic pay and Rs. 26 as dearness allowance, together with a house rent of Rs. 6-8 was given, by which the total minimum wage came to Rs. 65. The Management also allowed ex gratia a sum of Rs. 5-7 (at the rate of Rs. 1-4 per week) as attendance incentive bonus, which is invariably earned by a worker, and thus the minimum wage was raised from Rs. 34 in 1947 to Rs. 70-7 in 1948. By this, the labour cost of the Company went up by about Rs. 30,000 per year, i.e., nearly 50 per cent. increase over the previous year. In the meantime, when the accounts of 1947 were finally prepared in April 1948, it was revealed that the Company had suffered a loss of Rs. 95,786. In the year 1949, there was no working profit. The profit figures given in the balance-sheet is not on account of profit but is on account of sale of property left at Karachi. In this year, no dividend could be paid to the shareholders of ordinary shares, nor provisions could be made for payment of taxes. In the year 1950, there was a profit of Rs. 21,000, which included a sum of Rs. 10,000 receivable from Pakistan. This amount was hardly sufficient to pay the arrears of dividends for the year 1948 to the preference shareholders. In that year, no dividend could be paid on ordinary shares. Things were progressing in this way when the Company effected some economy by cutting down the remuneration of some of the officers. Due to the increased cost of production on account of the award, the Company was unable to quote competitive rates to the Government of India and could only secure orders worth about Rs. 82,000 only as against an average of Rs. 6,00,000 in previous years. Under the above circumstances, the Management decided to introduce a lower grade for unskilled and semi-skilled operators. The Company also started manufacturing colour boxes and increased its production of other items at a lower labour cost. The Management felt that there was immediate necessity of bringing down wages to the level of other similar industries, which alone could make the Company stand in competition. The workers in order to put pressure on the Management, instead of co-operating with the Management, resorted to go-slow tactics, by which the production of some of the workers came down to 60 per cent. or 75 per cent. The Company has filed a chart giving the names of the workers and the volume of normal production and the production when they adopted go-slow tactics in Annexure V to their written statement. The Union got full opportunity to verify the statement submitted by the Company, but did not utter a single word against this statement filed by the Company, which had been based on their records. I may, therefore, safely take the statement submitted by the Company as correct, as these are unchallenged by the workers. The Company also makes some allegations that carbon papers were packed in wet cardboard boxes, damaging the entire stock, stamp pads were not properly inked, resulting in their drying up soon after they had reached their destination, packing of empty boxes and stamp pads without pads. The Company also quotes a letter written by the Factory Manager at Calcutta to the head office at Delhi where it is reported that "instances of empty packages being supplied to our customers, fountain pen ink bottles going out empty, stamp pad tins without the pads, typewriter ribbon tins without the ribbons, carbon paper boxes with half the sheets in them were becoming common".

Whatever that may be, it is necessary to consider if the wage structure which have been already fixed by the agreed award before Sri P. K. Sarkar can be revised. The Company introduced a new scale of pay and wages under pressing circumstances to stand in competition. The first question to be decided is if the Company can reduce the wage structure as already fixed before Sri Sarkar. In my opinion, life of an award normally is one year and under the provisions of section 19(6) "unless the parties express their intention by a notice to terminate the award", the terms of the old award continue to be binding on the parties. The Company already communicated its decision to the Union as also to the Labour Commissioner on 4th December 1951 and explained that the Company could not afford to employ workers at the present rate and it was imperative to revise the wage structure because of the sad experience of the past years. In my opinion, the wage structure once fixed is always liable to be revised after one year if and when circumstances so permit. It is not the only privilege or monopoly of the Union or workers to make persistent demand for increasing their wages. There might be cases where an employer also can seek a revision of the wage structure under proper circumstances, and this is quite justified under the law and equity. There being no prayer for reducing the wage-scale of the old workers, the Company here stands on a better footing for the Company does not seek revision of the wage structure of the old workers, nor does it want to take away the privileges allowed to their old workers. It is only with regard to new entrants that the Company proposes that the wage structure should be revised in order that it may maintain its very existence. The Company submits a chart (Annexure IX) to their written statement and shows that the wages paid by the Company with a comparative statement of wages paid by similar industries in Calcutta, Bombay and Delhi. This statement is also not challenged by the workers. It will be evident on perusal of this chart that other similar industries in this line are paying to their adult workers wages ranging from Rs. 35 per mensem as against the total wage of Rs. 70 per mensem paid by this Company. The payment of wages according to the award has thus very adversely affected the Company, as wage structure had been suddenly raised too high, as will appear from the following figures: —

Year.	Average No. of workers.	Yearly wage.	Yearly average per hour.	Monthly average per hour.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1947	106	61,061	876	73
1948	90	1,13,826	1,260	105
1949	78	97,689	1,248	104
1950	61	77,492	1,272	106

It is also evident that for stamp pads, inks, sealing wax, adhesives, etc., much skill is not wanted and therefore these workers necessarily are paid lower salaries. It is also clear that the concerns exclusively engaged in the manufacture of these items pay much lower wages and they can thus market their products at cheaper rates. It is also a fact that some of the concerns are even engaging child labour at one-fourth the average pay that this Company is paying to its workers. This Company has therefore to engage labour at higher rate in order to be able to market those articles. It is of course evident that so far as foreign manufacturers are concerned, they no doubt pay higher wages to their employees. But they sell their products at higher rates and they have a well-established market for the same. The Company has also produced a chart, which shows the return on the capital employed and this will show the relatively higher percentage of the cost of labour which necessarily makes it very difficult for the Company to carry on its business beneficially for a long time. I have taken out some important extracts from Annexure II of the Company (now Annexure II to this Award), and this will show how the wage structure has increased along with the cost of materials and will speak for itself and show the state of things from 1937 to 1951. After carefully reviewing the entire position, I am firmly of opinion that the Company has been well-justified in introducing new scale of pay, which is lower than what had been fixed previously. The award of Sri Sarkar did not base the wage structure on any scientific basis or calculation, and it was done in hot haste, and if this state of things is allowed to continue, the Company is sure to be ruined.

This Company like other concerns is to face competition in open market and should be able to sell its finished products at lower rates if not at the prevailing rate, if it is to maintain its existence. This rationalisation of wage structure that has been proposed is a necessity, if the Company is to keep its existence. The wage cost of 1947 took a long leap after the award of Sri Sarkar. The monthly average wage cost in 1947 was 73, while the average number of worker was 106. So, to revise the present wage structure is a dire necessity. The wage structure as proposed by the Company and already adopted for new entrants has been examined by me. On carefully examining the same, I find that the Company introduces a new scale by which the unskilled worker of the lowest grade will be initially able to earn Rs. 56-14 and will go on getting timely increment so as to reach Rs. 63. This satisfies the standard laid down by the Second Engineering Tribunal regarding total wages.

The new wage chart submitted by the Company is therefore approved by me and it will form a part of the award. In this new wage structure, the wages for new entrants will be lower than the minimum fixed by Sri Sarkar's award, but it will not affect the old workers, who will continue to get their present pay. I also make a direction that these old workers should be fitted in the new grades in their present pay. In any case, the present pay of the old workers should not be cut down on any account.

So, my award is that the new wage structure as proposed and contained in Annexure I will be the basis for calculation of wages of the workers, old and new, subject to the condition that the present workers will continue to draw their present pay and will be fitted in the revised grade in their present pay scale and will get timely increment, if any, under the new grade, provided they are not already drawing the maximum proposed in the new scale.

At the time of hearing, it was argued that some of the workers have been wrongly classified as unskilled, whereas they should have been classified as semi-skilled at least. I had inspected some of these workers while at work, e.g., Parsuram, Ticket No. 101, Sk. Bechu, Ticket No. 156, Sukur Das, Ticket No. 185, Durgaram, Ticket No. 111, Rajaram, Ticket No. 61. The work done by these workers was more or less mechanical, and I am inclined to think that the Management was well-justified in classifying them as semi-skilled.

Regarding new scale of wages, the chart (Annexure I to this award) will show that an unskilled worker of third degree will be able to earn Rs. 70 and odds, which is certainly a fair wage for a worker of that category.

I, therefore, make an award that so far as revision of wage structure is concerned, it should be revised for new entrants as per Annexure submitted by the Company. So far as the old workers are concerned, they shall continue to draw their present wages and dearness allowance and be in the grade of their present scale. The issue is answered accordingly.

Issue No. 2.—Bonus.

This Company has not paid any dividend to the ordinary shareholders since 1947 and that there have been no profits out of which bonus could be paid. The liability for payment to preference shareholders still remains. Bonus always depends on profits and having regard to the present financial position of the Company, I do not think I can make an award for payment of any bonus even for one month, as claimed. The claim for bonus is turned down.

Issue No. 3.—Leave.

The Union claimed leave as follows:—

(1) Casual leave—10 days per year.

(2) Privilege leave with travelling allowance—30 days per year.

As against this, the Company submits that they are at present allowing 21 days' privilege leave for one year's completed service, as against 15 days' privilege leave under section 79 of the Factories Act. They also allow it to accumulate and carry forward the privilege leave up to 90 days while according to the Factories Act only 15 days' privilege leave is allowed to be carried forward to the following year. The Management also allows 10 days' festival leave in a year.

The Second Engineering Tribunal has no doubt made provisions for casual leave and sick leave, but on reviewing the total leave enjoyed by the workers in this factory, it appears that they get an advantage to accumulate the privilege leave to 90 days in a year. I am, therefore, inclined to think that the existing leave should continue, as it is more advantageous to the workers.

The Union prayed for travelling allowance from the Company to go home on getting the privilege leave. This claim is turned down. The issue is answered accordingly.

Issue No. 4.—Cheap canteen.

The Union wanted a cheap canteen to be set up within a month and a cup of tea per day should be supplied free of charge to each worker. The Company urges that as a matter of fact a cheap canteen had been set up in the year 1948 with the co-operation of the Indian Tea Marketing Board at a considerable initial cost of purchases of utensils and building up shade, etc. Two cooks were also engaged at Rs. 93, but there was only a nominal sale of about Rs. 36 in the first month with the result that the canteen had to be closed down.

Section 48 of the Factories Act provides the opening of cheap canteen only in the cases of factories employing more than 250 workers. But the number of workers in this Company is less than half of the required number. The nominal sale after the start of the canteen by this Company is a sufficient ground to discourage any further enterprise on the point. The prayer is rejected.

AWARD.

The proceedings started by this Tribunal, pursuant to the order of reference No. 172Dis., dated the 19th October 1951, for adjudication of an industrial dispute between Messrs. National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd., and their workmen have not as yet concluded. The proceedings are still pending.

Registered No. C207

The Calcutta Gazett

Section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, prohibits during pendency of any proceedings before a Conciliation Officer or a Tribunal, in respect of any industrial dispute, any alteration, to the prejudice of the workmen concerned in the dispute, of the conditions of service applicable to them immediately before the commencement of such proceedings, or discharge or punishment, by dismissal or otherwise, of any workman concerned in such dispute, except with the express permission of the Conciliation Officer or Tribunal as the case may be.

In the event of any contravention of the provisions of section 33 during pendency of the proceedings before an Industrial Tribunal, the aggrieved workman or workmen may file a complaint under section 33A of the Act as amended against such contravention before the Industrial Tribunal before whom the proceedings are pending, and section 33A of the Act authorises the Industrial Tribunal to assume jurisdiction over the industrial dispute arising out of the contravention of section 33 as amended, without a formal reference from the appropriate Government under section 10 of the Act and to adjudicate upon the dispute and to give an award.

Section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act lays down the general law as to how an Industrial Tribunal can assume jurisdiction over an industrial dispute and section 33A is a special provision and the condition under which this special provision may be invoked must be fulfilled before the Tribunal assumes jurisdiction over an industrial dispute, without any order of reference from the appropriate Government as contemplated by the general section (section 10 of the Act). The conditions are:—

(1) That the adjudication proceedings in respect of an industrial dispute must be pending before a Tribunal.

(2) That during pendency of the proceedings, there has been a contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Act by the employers to the prejudice of the workmen.

Rule 13—Privilege leave.

* * * *

If a worker remains absent beyond the period of leave granted to him he shall be discharged unless he returns within three days from the expiry of his leave.

Rule 17—Misdemeanour.

The following acts or omissions shall be treated as misdemeanours for which a worker is liable to warning, suspension or dismissal:—

* * * *

(m) Wilful or prolonged absence without leave.—

* * * *

Misdemeanours rendering a worker liable to warning, suspension or discharge—no warning or suspension or discharge shall be made unless the worker concerned is given an opportunity of explaining the circumstances alleged against him. These are the relevant rules of the Standing Orders. The case before us shall be dealt with in the light of and on a correct interpretation of these rules. The scope of an enquiry under section 33 of the amended Industrial Disputes Act is very limited. We are here to take the Standing Orders as they are and interpret the different rules with reference to other relevant rules in the Standing Orders. In an enquiry contemplated by these two sections of the amended Act, the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to read between the lines and to make any suggestion as to the fairness or otherwise of the rules. Keshab Prasad was granted leave for two weeks from 17th December 1951 as a special case. He had taken plenty of leave in the year 1951 and had no leave due to his credit. His sister's illness was the reason for taking the leave. The Company opposite party has filed the order granting the leave. The order was as follows:—

> "Granted leave as a special case from 17th December 1951 to 29th December 1951 to be deducted from his annual leave from 1952. Explained that no extension will be given and he must produce documentary evidence of his sister's illness at the time of his resumption."

Subsequently the complainant applied for extension of leave. Extension was granted till 5th January 1952. This was communicated to the complainant by a letter, dated 31st December 1951 (Ext. B). In this letter it was brought home to the complainant that he was to report for duty on 7th January 1952 and that in the event of default he would be liable to discharge without further notice. The complainant's case is that his sister was suffering from an attack of tuberculosis. He was to report for duty on 7th January 1952, but for three days after expiry of his leave he does not appear to have taken any steps either to extend his leave or to report himself for duty. On 10th January 1952 he appears to have applied for a further extension. This was refused by the Company and this refusal was communicated to the complainant by a letter, dated 12th January 1952. This is Ext. C. I reproduce the text of the letter below:—

> "With reference to your letter of 10th January 1952 requesting for extension of leave, please note that as you have not reported to duties on the expiry of your leave last granted, we have decided to discharge you and for that purpose have taken necessary steps to place your case before the Tribunal for necessary permission.
> "We, therefore, regret that your case cannot be reconsidered."

The complainant wants to justify his overstay. The punishment provided in the Standing Orders for overstay of leave for more than three days is unqualified and does not admit of any explanation to justify the overstay. Under rule 17 of the Standing Orders, a provision appears to have been made for giving an opportunity to the workmen to explain the circumstances alleged against them when there is a charge of misdemeanour against them. Wilful or prolonged absence without leave is considered a major misdemeanour. Overstay after the expiry of leave has not been listed under the head "major misdemeanour" and the Standing Orders do not provide for any explanation from the workmen before their services are terminated. I am not here called upon to enquire why this distinction has been made. The fact remains that the Standing Orders do not provide for any explanation in a case of overstay for more than 3 days after the expiry of leave of a workman, and I must take the Standing Orders as they are, representing the service conditions of the workmen. I may be permitted to mention in this connection that I might have assumed jurisdiction over the existing Standing Orders and suggested alterations, if there had been a reference from the appropriate Government touching upon the harshness or otherwise of the Standing Orders. This is not possible here where my jurisdiction is limited. In the present case where the Company wants to apply the Standing Orders, the Industrial Tribunal acting under section 33 or 33A of the amended Act cannot intervene and grant any relief to the workmen concerned. As an authority on this point I may refer to the decision of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal in Mis. Case No. C-154 of 1951 (Messrs. Asbestos Cement, Ltd.). The case before Their Lordships of the Labour Appellate Tribunal appears to have been under section 23 of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act. Sections 22 and 23 of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act correspond to sections 33 and 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, and the wordings of the two sets of sections are materially the same. The principle applicable to cases under the two sets of sections must be identically the same. The complainant has accordingly no relief in the present case.

Although I am not called upon to enter into the merit of the case, I propose to discuss the merit to point out that Keshab Prasad had no justification to overstay the leave granted to him. Instances of overstay are increasing rapidly. In the interest of industry, which is a national asset, overstay of leave must be discouraged by all men. With a view to impress upon the workmen that in the interest of industry overstay of workers should be discouraged by all means, I propose to enter into the merit of the case. The complainant applied for leave on the ground of his sister's illness. His sworn testimony is that his sister had been ill and subsequently succumbed to death in March 1952. He went home to bring his sister to Calcutta for treatment but his sister could not be removed. She was living with her husband in her husband's house 60 or 70 miles off from his village. Her husband was sitting idle. In the same house the brother of his sister's husband and his wife were living. His sister had her husband, a brother-in-law and a sister-in-law to look after her. One Dr. Santosh Kumar Ghosh appears to have granted the complainant a certificate that the complainant's sister had been attacked with a wasting disease and had been under his treatment. In the cross-examination, the complainant said that he had never seen the doctor S. K. Ghosh, but towards the end of his deposition, in answer to certain question by the Tribunal he said that he used to go to the doctor for medicine and that he had seen the doctor. His mother had all along been living in his village home and she had no one to look after her. The complainant's statement is that he went to his sister's house after taking leave and came home on the 28th December 1952. He also says that he left home on the 29th December and stayed in his sister's house till 14th January 1952. He admits to have received the letter of the Company, dated 12th January 1952 (Ext. C), on the 15th January. The question arises as to how he knew that a letter would come to him to his home address on the 15th January He received this letter at home. He appears to have received a letter of the Company, dated 31st December 1951 (Ext. B), on the 5th January 1952. This was also addressed to his home address, and not to the address of his sister's village. He signed and dated the postal acknowledgment receipt. On the evidence before me I am inclined to hold that constant attendance of Keshab Prasad's sister by Keshab Prasad himself was not necessary, that she had her husband, brother-in-law and a sister-in-law to look after her, and that Keshab Prasad did not constantly attend his sister as alleged. Keshab Prasad could justify his absence only if his attendance by the side of his sister was indispensible. Keshab Prasad's sister lived with her husband in her husband's village for the major part of her illness without Keshab Prasad by her side and it has not been suggested that during this period there was any inconvenience about her nursing and treatment. Keshab Prasad went to his sister's house to bring her to Calcutta for better treatment. This was not possible. Illness of a relative may justify the absence of a workman from his work only when the workman's presence by the side of the relative is indispensible. This was not the case here. I was told at the argument that Keshab Prasad's sister required monetary help from her brother. If this was so, Keshab Prasad could better serve his sister by earning money here and sending a portion thereof to his sister. In order to have priority over the national interest, which an industry represents, an individual interest must have much strong a case.

In the result, the complainant is not entitled to any relief in the present case. This is my award.

D. BASU,
for Director of Agriculture, West Bengal.

Calcutta, the 1st July 1952.

DIRECTORATE OF AGRICULTURE, WEST BENGAL.

Calcutta, the 13th June 1952.

Third and Final Forecast of Spring Oilseed Crops of West Bengal for 1951-52.

[Note.—The figures of linseed and rape and mustard for last year shown in this forecast have been taken from last year's final forecast based on the results of sample survey conducted by the Indian Statistical Institute. This year's sample survey has been carried out by the State Statistical Bureau and the estimates of rape and mustard for this year are based on the results of sample survey and crop cutting experiments conducted by them. As the estimates of linseed for this year based on sample survey could not be furnished by the State Statistical Bureau, the figures of linseed shown for this year in the forecast are the estimates of the staff of the Directorate of Agriculture, West Bengal.

The figures of other oilseeds for both this year and last year have been estimated by the Directorate of Agriculture, West Bengal.]

Season.—The weather conditions were not favourable at the sowing time in the districts of Nadia, Murshidabad, Birbhum, Bankura, Jalpaiguri and Cooch Behar. The weather became favourable later everywhere but again turned unfavourable in the districts of Nadia, Murshidabad, Birbhum, Midnapore, Hooghly, Howrah and Cooch Behar.

Area and yield.—The total area under the spring oilseed crops (except sesamum for which separate forecasts are published) is estimated at 283,800 acres this year compared to 309,000 acres last year. The average outturn per acre of different spring oilseeds for the State as a whole is estimated at 4·75 maunds this year compared to 4·83 maunds last year. Of this difference of 25,200 in the acreages between this year and last year 20,900 acres are accounted for by the reported fall in the area under linseed, an explanation whereof is furnished in the next paragraph.

Linseed.—44,900 acres have been estimated to be under linseed this year compared to 65,800 acres last year. The estimated total outturn of linseed for the State as a whole is 7,600 tons this year compared to 10,900 tons last year. The average outturn per acre of linseed crop for the State as a whole is estimated at 4·64 maunds this year compared to 4·50 maunds last year.

The figures of the two consecutive years are not comparable, this year's estimates being not based on sample surveys as mentioned in the note above. As such, the decrease in area under linseed may not be real, but may be due to the different sources from which the estimates have been obtained.

Rape and mustard.—217,800 acres have been estimated to be under rape and mustard this year compared to 221,100 acres last year. The estimated total outturn of rape and mustard for the State as a whole is 38,900 tons this year compared to 41,300 tons last year. The average outturn per acre of rape and mustard for the State as a whole is estimated at 4·86 maunds this year compared to 5·08 maunds last year.

Other oilseeds (except til).—21,100 acres have been estimated to be under other oilseed this year compared to 22,100 acres last year. The estimated total outturn of "other oilseeds" for the State as a whole is 3,000 tons this year compared to 2,700 tons last year. The average outturn per acre of "other oilseeds" for the State as a whole is estimated at 3·82 maunds this year compared to 3·32 maunds last year.

for Director of Agriculture, West Bengal.

RESOLUTION No. M.1M-68/51/I.

Calcutta, the 10th July 1952.

The affairs of the Rajpur Municipality in the district of the 24-Parganas have been causing considerable anxiety to Government for some time past. A number of representations have been received by Government from the residents of the area complaining of mal-administration, precarious financial position and consequent deterioration of the essential civic amenities of the municipality.

2. The specific duties in the performance of which the Municipal Commissioners have persistently made default are mainly the collection of the conservancy rate and the rate on holdings imposed under section 123 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932, and the proper maintenance of the conservancy system under section 246 of the said Act.

3. The present body of Municipal Commissioners have been holding office since the year 1948-49 and the following table will show to what serious extent they have made default in the collection of the municipal rates:—

Year.	Current demand.	Collection of current demand.	Percentage.
	Rs.	Rs.
1948-49	29,230	9,031	31
1949-50	29,960	10,575	35
1950-51	20,409	3,532	17
1951-52 (1st and 2nd quarters).	27,112	927	3

Arrears of taxes have been mounting up as a result and the collection of the arrears has been negligible. The above table gives only the percentage of collection of the current demand. The percentage of the total collection of current and arrear demands is even less. The Municipal Commissioners increased the assessment for 1951-52, chiefly under the conservancy rate, but collected only Rs. 927 out of a current demand of Rs. 27,112 during the first two quarters. On account of their failure to collect the conservancy rate, the Municipal Commissioners stopped the conservancy system with effect from the 8th December 1951 and abolished the conservancy rate with effect from the 3rd quarter of 1951-52.

4. In spite of repeated directions from the local officers of Government, the Municipal Commissioners have neither tried to improve the collection of the municipal rates nor have they resumed the conservancy service. In January 1950, Government warned the Municipal Commissioners that the question of their supersession would be considered if the financial condition as well as the general administration of the municipality was not satisfactorily improved within a reasonable time. This warning does not appear to have had any effect as no improvement was noticeable either in the collection of the rates or in the general administration of the municipality. Government then issued another warning to the Municipal Commissioners in September 1950 but this too appears to have gone unheeded.

5. Several instances of breaches of statutory rules and other defects, including extremely poor collection of the rates, pointed out by the auditors, were brought to the notice of the Municipal Commissioners in December 1951 and they were asked to show cause, by the second week of April 1952, why they should not be superseded for their incompetency and persistent default in the performance of their duties, if they failed to rectify the defects and to improve collections within the year 1951-52. No report as to the action taken by the Municipal Commissioners to rectify these defects and irregularities has yet been submitted to Government.

6. After a careful consideration of the situation, Government have come to the conclusion that the Commissioners of the Rajpur Municipality have shown their incompetancy to perform, and have persistently defaulted in the performance of, the duties imposed on them by or under the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932, and that a serious situation may develop at any time due to a complete breakdown of the sanitary services.

7. In exercise of the power conferred by section 553 of the said Act, the Governor is, therefore, pleased to declare the Commissioners of the Rajpur Municipality to be incompetent and in default and to supersede the said Commissioners for a period of two years with effect from the date of publication of this resolution in the Calcutta Gazette.

ORDERED that this resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor,
S. M. MURSHED, Jt. Secy.

3. Standard preparation.—The standard preparation is a preparation of streptomycin kept at the National Institute for Medical Research, London.

4. Unit of standardisation.—The unit of streptomycin for the purpose of these rules is the activity contained in such an amount of the standard preparation as may be indicated from time to time by the Medical Research Council, London.

5. Quality.—Streptomycin shall form a clear solution with a pH value lying between 5·0 and 7·0 when the dried substance is reconstituted with distilled water in a concentration of 5,000 units per c.c.

6. Strength.—(i) Streptomycin shall be tested for potency by comparative tests in relation to the standard preparation, by a method approved by the licensing authority. The potency so determined shall be expressed in units per milligram in the case of streptomycin in solid form, and in units per c.c. in the case of solutions.

(ii) Streptomycin with a potency, in the case of streptomycin in solid form, of less than 300 units per milligram or, in the case of a solution, of less than 2,000 units per c.c., shall not be issued:

Provided that the licensing authority may authorise, with or without conditions, the issue for specified purposes of streptomycin which does not satisfy the said standards of potency.

7. Tests for freedom from abnormal toxicity.—Streptomycin shall be subjected to the following test for absence of abnormal toxicity:—

A quantity of the streptomycin containing not less than 1,000 units dissolved, in the case of streptomycin in solid form, in a volume not exceeding 0·5 c.c. of a watery solution shall be injected intravenously into each of five normal mice each weighing between 17 and 22 grammes. The sample shall be treated as having passed the test if either—

(i) the injection does not cause death in any of the mice within twenty-four hours, or

(ii) the injection having caused death in one only of the mice within that period, similar injection of five other such mice does not cause the death of any of those mice within twenty-four hours.

8. Test for freedom from pyrogenic substances.—Streptomycin shall be subjected to the following test for freedom from pyrogenic substances:—

There shall be injected intravenously into each of three normal healthy rabbits each weighing not less than 1·5 kilograms a quantity of the streptomycin containing, in the case of each rabbit, not less than 2,000 units per kilogram of the rabbit's weight, dissolved, in the case of streptomycin in solid form, in not more than 5 c.c. of water or physiological saline. The body temperature of the rabbits shall be recorded at least once during the hour before and three times in the three hours after the injection, one such record being made between seventy-five and ninety minutes after the injection. The sample shall be treated as having passed the test if the average maximum increase of temperature shown by the three rabbits does not exceed 0·6°C.

9. Test for freedom from histamine-like substances.—Streptomycin shall be subjected to the following test for freedom from histamine-like substances:—

A solution of the streptomycin, containing not less than 3,000 units per c.c., shall be injected intravenously, in a precisely determined volume within the range corresponding to 0·1 to 0·25 c. c. per kilogram of the cat's weight, into a cat anaesthetized with chloralose or a suitable barbiturate.

The sample shall be treated as having passed the test, if the injection produces a smaller fall of arterial blood pressure than the injection into the same cat of an equal volume of a solution of a histamine salt containing 1 microgram of histamine base per c.c.

10. Labelling.—If streptomycin as issued for sale is mixed with any substance the label on the container shall state the nature of that substance and the minimum number of units of streptomycin per gramme of the mixture, in the case of a solid preparation, or per c.c. thereof in the case of a solution of suspension."

LABOUR DEPARTMENT.

ORDER.

No. 1777Dis./D/10L-50/52.—2nd July 1952.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 634Dis./D/11L-50/52, dated the 19th March 1952, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Kedarnath Purushottamdas and Co., Ltd., 22, Jogendra Nath Mukherjee Road, Salkia, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Engineering Mazdoor Sabha of 3/1, Kali Banerjee Lane, Howrah, regarding the matters specified in the schedule to the said order, was referred for adjudication to the First Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said First Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of Reference No. 634Dis./D/11L-50/52, dated 19th March 1952, of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, and in the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Kedarnath Purusottamdas & Co., Ltd., 22, Jogendra Nath Mukherjee Road, Salkia, Howrah, and their workers represented by Engineering Mazdoor Sabha of 3/1, Kali Banerjee Lane, Howrah.

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, 8, LYONS RANGE, SECOND FLOOR, CALCUTTA.

PRESENT:

SRI A. DAS GUPTA, Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Sri S. C. Sen, Pleader, instructed by Sri Suresh Chandra Sarkar, Secretary of the Company.

For the workmen: Sri Sibnath Banerjee, President of the Union and Sri Hari Pada Majumdar, Secretary.

AWARD.

The following points have been referred to me for adjudication:—

1. If the discharge of the following workers was justified and to what relief in the way of re-instatement and/or compensation they are entitled:—
   (1) Monilal Kundu.
   (2) Gobordhan Sadhukhan.
   (3) Sital Chandra Barik.
   (4) Nitai.

The Union pleaded in the written statement filed before this Tribunal that the Company, without any justification whatsoever, wanted to transfer four workmen mentioned in the order of reference who were monthly-rated workers to the category of weekly-rated workers and threatened them to discharge if they failed to accept the most unreasonable and unfair decision of the Company and that on the four workmen declining to accept the proposal of the Company were summarily dismissed without any charge-sheet and without assigning any reason, without any opportunity to the workmen to meet the Management's case against them.

The Company pleaded that of the four workmen, only Monilal Kundu was a monthly-rated worker. It is admitted that the Company decided to make all the factory workers daily-rated. Monilal Kundu is alleged to have offered to resign and the Company terminated his services on the 30th September 1951 with a month's notice, dated 31st August 1951. Gobordhan is said to have been an independent contractor of the Company. According to the Company Gobordhan subsequently became a daily-rated worker and not being satisfied with his job he wanted to start as a contractor again and the Company not being in a position to employ him as a contractor he left the Company's services of his own freewill. Sital and Netai who are said to have been daily-rated workers left the Company's service of their own accord.

Admittedly Monilal Kundu was a monthly-rated worker. It is also admitted that the Company decided to transfer all monthly-rated workers to the category of daily-rated workers. Monilal Kundu was admittedly not agreeable to accept the decision of the Company. The Company says that Monilal Kundu offered to resign and the Company terminated his services on the 30th September 1951 with a month's notice, dated 31st August 1951. Exhibit 3 is the copy of the notice. Monilal Kundu denies to have received any such notice. This notice is an ordinary one which is generally issued to a workman whose services are not required by the Management. If really Monilal Kundu offered to resign, this fact should have been and would have been mentioned in the notice. On the evidence before me I am inclined to hold that Monilal Kundu declined to accept the new decision of the Company. It is not possible to enumerate how the workmen are likely to be prejudiced by the transfer from the category of monthly-rated workers to the category of daily-rated workers. The monthly-rated workers are entitled, in case of termination of their services by way of retrenchment or otherwise to one month's notice or one month's wages in lieu of notice. A daily-rated worker will be entitled to only seven days' pay in lieu of notice. This is apparently a disadvantage to the workmen. It may be that immediately there may not be any loss of emoluments to the workers. The monthly wages of the workers may be divided by 26 to arrive at the daily rate on the assumption that there will be four Sundays in a month. If suddenly any holiday is declared this may entail loss of emolument to the daily-rated workers for the holiday. Besides there may be some unpaid holidays for which the daily-rated workers are not paid anything, but these unpaid holidays do not affect the monthly-rated workers. I do not propose to discuss what other disadvantages the proposed transfer of the Management is likely to cause to the workers. In fact the Management had no justification whatsoever to change the condition of service of the workmen to their prejudice. If Monilal had declined to accept the new conditions of service, he was not liable to be dismissed. This was undoubtedly an instance of unfair labour practice and I direct that Monilal Kundu shall be reinstated within a month from the date when this award comes into force. The period of forced unemployment shall be regarded as special leave with pay. Monilal Kundu shall be entitled to all other benefits and facilities to which he would have been entitled if he had not been discharged. The period of his forced unemployment shall not be considered as break in his service and shall not be debited against any leave which has already accrued to his credit or is likely to accrue in future.

Gobordhan Sadhukhan claims to have been a monthly-rated worker. He says that he entered the Company's service in 1940 and that after working for two months as a daily-rated worker he was made a monthly-rated worker. The Company has produced the Attendance Registers of the monthly-rated workers and the daily-rated workers as also the Pay Rolls of the workers of the two categories. Gobordhan's name does not appear either in the Attendance Register or in the Pay Roll of the monthly-rated workers. His name, however, appears in the Attendance Register of the daily-rated workers and their Pay Roll. The Company produced a good number of receipts for payments alleged to have been made to Gobordhan Sadhukhan as a contractor. Gobordhan admits a few of them. These have been marked Exhibits 1 series. Gobordhan's evidence is that these payments were made for Ganesh Steel Co., Salkia Iron Co., New India Swadeshi Industries, etc. These payments appear to have been noted in the Attendance Register of the daily-rated workers. The register shows that up to 9th December 1949 the works of the Company were carried on by a number of workers on daily rates and that from the week beginning with 12th December 1949 up to the week ending on 19th May 1950 the works were carried on contract system. Subsequently from the week beginning from 20th May 1949 the works were carried on by a number of workers on daily-rates of whom Gobordhan was one. Gobordhan's name appears both as a contractor from 12th December 1949 to 19th May 1950 and as a daily-rated worker for the rest of the period of his service. It was contended on behalf of the workmen that the register of the Company produced before this Tribunal did not bear any seal to indicate for which Company the registers were. This is so. This may be due to an omission on the part of the employers. Gobordhan produced a certificate granted by Basudeb Jhunjhunwala who works as Manager of the Company. Basudeb Jhunjhunwala denies the certificate. The certificate is marked Exhibit A. It is written and signed in English. Gobordhan's evidence is that it was written and signed by the sarkar of the office and was made over to him by the sarkar. I cannot place much reliance on this certificate. Even assuming that it was a genuine one nothing has been said in this certificate that he was a monthly-rated worker. The certificate says that he earns Rs. 200 per month. Gobordhan says that a separate register was maintained for the department to which he belonged. This is denied by the Management. On the evidence before me I am inclined to believe that Gobordhan has worked for at least sometime as a contractor, and subsequently worked as a daily-rated worker. Hence the Union's case that he was dismissed because he declined to accept the Company's decision to transfer the monthly-rated workers to the category of daily-rated workers does not arise, so far as Gobordhan is concerned. Gobordhan is no longer agreeable to work under the Company. This is very significant. Hence on the evidence and circumstances of the case I am inclined to believe that Gobordhan was of late a daily-rated worker and intended to revert as a contractor. This was why he resigned his services.

Netai Paul and Sital Barik.—I take up the cases of these two workmen together. The Union gave up its case as pleaded in the written statement in respect of these workmen. It is admitted that they were daily-rated workers. Hence in respect of these two workmen the Union's case that they were dismissed on their declining to accept the Company's decision of transferring monthly-rated workers to daily-rated workers cannot stand. The Company's case in the written statement is that they resigned of their own free will. The Union's case as pleaded in the written statement having failed, I cannot but accept the Company's case as stated in its written statement. At the hearing Sital and Netai introduced a new story as to why their services were terminated. Netai's case is that when the heavy iron sheet was being worked in the machine he could not push it. After half day's work he told this to Basudeb Babu. Basudeb Babu asked him to go home. This was on Friday. On the following Saturday he attended the workshop at 5 in the afternoon. He had fever and could not attend in the morning. He went to take his wages and the Babu in charge enquired of him if he had any party. On his replying in the negative, he was asked to attend on Monday. He was deferred from day to day and was never given any work afterwards. Sital's case is that the Company proposed to reduce the wages from Rs. 3-14 per day and on his declining to take reduced wages he was dismissed. This he did not mention to any other worker. He, however, claims to have reported this to the Union. But the Union did not mention this fact in the written statement filed by it on behalf on these workmen. Sital Barik appears to have complained to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah, about dismissal (Exhibit C), but he did not mention anything about the Company's proposal to reduce his wages. The Union's statement having failed I cannot but accept the Company's case that these two workmen resigned at their own free will. These workmen knew that for every dismissal some reason or other is assigned. They assigned one reason in the written statement and when they found that their case in the written statement would not stand they changed their case on the date of hearing when the Company had no opportunity to meet their case. On the evidence and circumstances of the case I hold that Gobordhan, Sital and Netai resigned the Company's service of their own free will and are not, therefore, entitled to any relief.

A. DAS GUPTA,
Judge, First Industrial Tribunal.

The 23rd June 1952.

By order of the Governor,
D. S. P. MUKHERJEE, Jt. Secy.

ORDER.

No. 1778Dis./D/11L-30/52.—2nd July 1952.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 676Dis., dated the 22nd March 1952, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Venesta Factory of Kamarhaty, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by the Venesta Factory Workers' Union, Sagar Dutta Road, Kamarhati, 24-Parganas, was referred for adjudication to the First Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said First Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of Reference No. 676Dis./D/11L-30/52, dated the 22nd March 1952 of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, and in the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Venesta Factory of Kamarhati, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by Venesta Factory Workers' Union, Sagar Dutt Road, Kamarhati, 24-Parganas.

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, 8, LYONS RANGE, SECOND FLOOR, CALCUTTA.

PRESENT:

SRI A. DAS GUPTA, Judge.

For the Company: Dr. J. K. Bose of the Indian Engineering Association.

For the workmen: Sri S. C. Sen, Pleader, instructed by Sri M. N. Manna, Secretary of the Union.

AWARD.

The following points have been referred to me for adjudication:—

(1) House rent and compensatory allowance as per the Pay Commission's Award.

(2) Whether the existing shift allowance should be increased from annas 2 per day.

(3) Pay of workers employed in the furnace and re-winding machine should be equivalent to other machine operators.

(4) Whether an extra allowance should be fixed for the helpers who are not in the piece-rate workers' gang.

(5) A grade for the durwans, crane drivers and office bearers be immediately fixed.

(6) Malees, sweepers and canteen staff should be allowed to enjoy all facilities like other factory workers.

(7) As the tiffin time for the shift workers is not sufficient for having their meals it should be extended by an extra half an hour.

(8) Leave and holidays.

The Company has, for over 12 years, been manufacturing only tin corners and aluminium linings for tea chests and packing boxes. The relationship between the Management and the workmen has admittedly been always cordial, and the Union apologises for the industrial disputes that have been raised by the workmen from time to time and it has been pleaded in the written statement of the workmen that the ever increasing cost of living which had just reached the breaking point of the endurance of the workmen made it impossible for them to maintain their equanimity any longer. It may be noted that prior to the present reference there had been at least three adjudications between the present Company and their workmen. The earliest one was by Dr. H. G. Waight. The award given by Dr. Waight was published under Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 362Lab., dated 23rd August 1947. This award covered, among other items of dispute, the demands of the workmen for free house accommodation or an allowance in lieu thereof, wages and dearness allowance and leave and holidays. In 1948 the present Company was a party to the adjudication proceedings before the Major Engineering Tribunal with Sri S. K. Sen as the Chairman. The award of the Major Engineering Tribunal was published under Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 2161Lab., dated 30th June 1948. This award covered, among other points of industrial dispute, the demands of the workmen for free quarters or house rent allowance, holidays and leave and allowance for night shift works. This Company was again involved in the adjudication proceedings before the Second Major Engineering Tribunal with Sri S. N. Modak as Chairman. The award of the Second Major Engineering Tribunal was published under Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 5160Lab., dated 9th September 1950. Items of dispute referred to the Second Engineering Tribunal were only two—dearness allowance and holidays and leave. The demands of the Union which are the basis of the present reference have been detailed in annexure to the Union's written statement. The demands were 13 in number. These were about: (1) Minimum basic wages, (2) dearness allowance, (3) house rent and compensatory allowance, (4) increase of shift allowance, (5) production bonus, (6) pay of workers employed in the furnace and re-winding machines, (7) extra allowance for helpers who are not in the piece-rate workers' gang, (8) increment of piece-rates, (9) medical aid, (10) grade for durwans, drivers and office bearers, (11) extension of all facilities available to the workers in the factory to malees, sweepers and canteen staff, (12) extension of the tiffin time for the shift workers by an extra half an hour. This is a short history of the industrial dispute between Messrs. Venesta Factory and their workmen. I now proceed to discuss the several items of dispute under reference.

1. House rent and compensatory allowance as per the Pay award.

Dr. Waight by his Award published under the Government of West Bengal order No. 362Lab. of the 23rd August 1947 recommended house allowance as detailed below:—

For workers in the factory getting less than Rs. 32-8 as basic pay—Rs. 2 per month.

For workers getting a basic pay between Rs. 32-8 and Rs. 36—Re. 1 per month.

For workers getting more than Rs. 36—Nil.

For the clerical staff Rs. 5 per month was recommended as house allowance for those who were drawing minimum scale of pay. For clerks drawing above the minimum the housing allowance was to be reduced by Re. 1 per month at each of five equal stages until it is extinguished at a basic pay of Rs. 80. After the award of the first Major Engineering Tribunal which turned down the demand of the workmen for house allowance, the present Company abolished the house allowance scheme awarded by Dr. Waight. But as a gesture of goodwill the amount which was being paid to the workmen as house rent allowance continued to be paid as special allowance. House rent is taken into account in fixing the minimum wages and dearness allowance has been introduced to compensate the rise in the cost of living index which includes the rise in the house rent. It may be noted that by the award of the second Major Engineering Tribunal the minimum dearness allowance was increased from Rs. 25 to Rs. 31 per month. The higher slabs of dearness allowance were likewise increased. But the present Company has been paying dearness allowance at a much higher rate. The following comparative chart will clearly indicate this:—

Basic pay range.	Dearness allowance as awarded by the second Major Engineering Tribunal.	Dearness allowance available to the workmen of the Venesta Factory.
	Rs.	Rs. a.
Up to Rs. 50	31	35 0
From Rs. 51 to Rs. 100	42	47 8
From Rs. 101 to Rs. 150	48	54 8
From Rs. 151 to Rs. 200	54	61 8
From Rs. 200 upwards	60	68 0

Recently there has been some housing difficulty throughout the State of West Bengal on account of the influx of the refugees. There are at present 370 workmen in the factory including clerical staff. The Company has limited accommodation in the quarters attached to the factory. In these quarters skilled and unskilled workmen reside and no rent is charged. They are single quarters and are capable of housing 164 workers. I could understand that those workers who come from outside are generally given preference for the quarters attached to the factory, and that those who could not get any accommodation in the factory's quarters are generally local men, who must have been living where they are at present living from before the recent housing difficulty on account of the influx of the East Bengal refugees. If they live in rented houses and if the rent of such houses has been increased, they have been amply compensated by the special allowance and the higher rate of dearness allowance for the rise in the house rent. The first Major Engineering Tribunal rejected the demand of the workers for house rent in rural areas. There might have been some housing difficulties since the publication of the award of the first Major Engineering Tribunal on account of the influx of East Bengal refugees and increase in house rent, but for the recent difficulties there is absolutely no reason for differing from the view taken by the first Major Engineering Tribunal, and my definite finding is that for the recent difficulties the workmen are being sufficiently compensated by the special allowance and increased dearness allowance. In the result, the demand for house rent and compensatory allowance is rejected.

2. Increase of existing shift allowance.

The workers work in the night shift by rotation. The works of the factory are a continuous process and it is one of the terms and conditions of the service of the workers that they will have to work for the night shift by rotation. This fact was taken into account in fixing the wages of the workers and the first Major Engineering Tribunal rejected the claim of the workers for any special allowance for night shift works. The present Company has, however, been paying an allowance to the workers in the factory at a uniform rate of annas 2 per day. In any case those who work on the day shift are not entitled to any allowance whatsoever. As a gesture of goodwill the Company has been paying the shift workers some allowances. I am told that the workers are generally employed for the night shift once in a month. In any case they cannot be employed for the night shift for more than once in three weeks. If we consider this allowance to be the allowance for the night shift work, it will work out to 6 annas per day for the night shift work (allowance for the day shift work being disallowed). But for the convenience of the workmen as also to obviate difficulties in accounting the allowance has been distributed among the workers throughout the period of their work without any consideration as to whether they were working for the day shift or the night shift. I find no reason to increase this allowance.

3 and 4. Pay of workers employed in the furnace and re-winding machine and extra allowance for the helpers who are not in the piece-rate workers' gang.

I could understand at the hearing that the Company has started a scheme to revise the wages of the workers on a scientific basis according to the skill, strain, risk and time involved in their works, and I am told that workers mentioned in these issues will come under this scheme. The Union accordingly withdrew their demands under these issues.

5. Grades for durwans, crane drivers and office bearers.

I am told that crane drivers will come under the scheme already referred to under issues 3 and 4 and the Union has withdrawn its demands for crane drivers.

A preliminary point has been raised on behalf of the Company that durwans are not workmen. This point appears to have been raised before the second Major Jute Tribunal. The second Major Jute Tribunal considered this question from all angles and decided that durwans are workmen within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. I have gone through the decision of the second Major Jute Tribunal on this point thoroughly. No new point has been raised before me. The points which have been raised before me appears to have been answered by the second Major Jute Tribunal and I do not find any reason to differ from this decision. In fact, the findings of the Major Jute Tribunal on this point could not be impeached before me. I accordingly overrule the contention of the Company on this point. I could understand at the hearing that the durwans are being paid as basic wages from Rs. 43 to Rs. 50 and the office bearers from Rs. 30 to Rs. 38 per month. It was contended on behalf of the Company that the minimum basic wages for the office bearers should be fixed at Rs. 25 per month. The minimum basic wages of an unskilled worker have generally been fixed at Rs. 30 per month. The Company does not plead any financial inability. I accordingly fix the following scales:—

For office bearers—Rs. 30—½—35 (E.B.)—1—40.

For durwans—Rs. 43—½—45 (E.B.)—1—50.

I do not fix any grade for jamadars and havildars as they are not covered by the present order of reference.

6. Extension of facilities available to factory workers, to malees, sweepers and canteen staff.

I am told that sweepers of the factory and canteen staff enjoy all the facilities available to the workers of the factory, and there is no malee for the factory. It has been represented to me that the malees and sweepers who are attached to bungalow of the officers do not get these facilities. It has been contended on behalf of the Company that they are not workers of the factory. "Workman has been defined in the Industrial Disputes Act to mean any person employed (including an apprentice) in any industry to do any skilled or unskilled manual or clerical work for hire or reward". In order to be a workman the employee must be employed in the industry. The malees and sweepers attached to the officers' bungalows are really the personal servants of the officers although they are paid by the Company as a concession to the officers and are not connected with the industry carried on by the Company. The wages of these servants were in a way part of the remuneration paid to the officers. Instead of paying the officers any additional cash money, the Company pays their servants employed in their bungalows and officers have full control over these servants in matters of appointment and discharge. In my opinion they are really the servants of the officers. They are not even indirectly connected with the industry. By no stretch of imagination they can be called workmen within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act. I had occasion to take a similar view in my award for the Titaghur Paper Mills Co., Ltd., published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 5th July 1951. The demands for these employees who are to all intents and purpose servants of the officers are rejected.

7. Increase of the tiffin period by an extra half-an-hour.

The works of the factory are a continuous process. Each day has been broken into 3 shifts of 8 hours each. The workers for each shift work for 8 hours. The Management however allows half-an-hour's time to these shift workers to take their tiffin. The workers feel some inconvenience. Their case is that half-an-hour's time is too insufficient for the purpose for which it is given. With a view to ascertain whether this period could be increased, I visited the factory. For each rolling machine one operator and one helper are constantly required. These rolling machines have got to be run under a certain temperature which is generally maintained by regulating from time to time the flow of some heated or boiling oil. This flow has got to be regulated very frequently. The rolling machines are not very far off from one another. The Management allows half-an-hour's tiffin time to the workers by rotation. For two machines there are two operators and two helpers. One operator and one helper go at a time and under the present arrangement one operator and one helper have got to mind two machines for one hour. It is very difficult for one operator and one helper to mind two machines at a time. I am not aware if this arrangement affects the production. But I am definitely of opinion that if the tiffin period is extended to one hour to each set of workers, both quality and quantity of production may suffer. When this difficulty was represented to the Secretary of the Union Sri Mrigendra Nath Manna, he fairly told me that he would not insist on any change which is likely to affect the industry. My definite opinion is that the tiffin period cannot be extended without detriment to the industry. The demand on this point is accordingly rejected.

8. Leave and holidays.

The Union demands an increase of the existing leave and holidays. In the charter of demands which is annexure to the Union's written statement I do not find any demand touching upon leave and holidays. It has not been suggested that any dispute was ever raised by the Union on this point prior to the present reference. Even if there had been any dispute, I find that the existing scheme of the Company for leave and holidays is more favourable than what was laid down by the second Major Engineering Tribunal and I do not propose to alter it. The Company invited me to revise the scheme laid down by the second Major Engineering Tribunal and to reduce the leave and holidays. A scheme was laid down in the award of the second Major Engineering Tribunal. The award of the second Major Engineering Tribunal was published on the 9th September 1950 and was in force for one year. The expiry of the time does not ipso facto authorise any party to the award to reagitate on any of the points covered by the award. Section 19, sub-section (6) of the Industrial Disputes Act as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, is clear on this point. The sub-section runs as follows:—

"(6) Notwithstanding the expiry of the period of operation under sub-section (3), the award shall continue to be binding on the party until a period of two months has elapsed from the date on which notice is given by any party bound by the award to the other party or parties intimating its intention to terminate the award."

No such intimation appears to have been sent by the Company to the Union and even if any such intimation have been given there is no suggestion that two months have elapsed since then. I cannot accordingly entertain the contention of the Company. In the result, this issue is left open for the present.

A. DAS GUPTA, Judge,
First Industrial Tribunal.

The 20th June 1952.

By order of the Governor,
D. S. P. MUKHERJEE, Jt. Secy.

ORDER.

No. 1794Dis./D/10L-39/52.—3rd July 1952.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 513Dis., dated the 6th March 1952, the industrial dispute between The East Bengal Engineering Works, 2, Rustomjee Parsee Road, Cossipore, Calcutta-2, and their workmen represented by East Bengal Engineering Workers' Union, 54, Sat Chasipara Road, Cossipore, Calcutta-2, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the First Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said First Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of reference No. 513Dis./D/10L-39/52 of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, of the 6th March 1952 and in the matter of an industrial dispute between the East Bengal Engineering Works, 2, Rustomjee Parsee Road, Cossipore, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by East Bengal Engineering Workers' Union, 54, Sat Chasi Para Road, Cossipore, Calcutta.

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, 8, LYONS RANGE, 2ND FLOOR, CALCUTTA.

PRESENT:

SRI A. DAS GUPTA, Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Sri S. C. Sen, Advocate, assisted by Sri Samarendra Nath Ghosh, Pleader, and instructed by Mr. J. H. Mereditt, Works Superintendent of the Company.

For the workmen: Sri Sumati Mazumdar, Pleader, instructed by Sri Biren Bhattacharyya, President of the Union.

AWARD.

The following points were referred to me for adjudication:—

1. Minimum basic pay.
2. Dearness allowance.
3. Provident Fund Rules.
4. Notice period or wages in lieu of notice.
5. Leave and holidays.
6. Bonus.

The East Bengal Engineering Works are a subsidiary concern of the East Bengal River Steam Service, Ltd., and have been doing business mainly in building and repairing steamers, ships and other vessels. The parent concern, the East Bengal River Steam Service, Ltd., carries on the business of water transport service principally between Calcutta and East Bengal. According to the Company's statement, the East Bengal Engineering Works are principally engaged in the repairs, painting and annual survey of the fleet maintained by the parent concern for its business of water transport service. During the war 2 flats were built for Government and since then the Company had no such work. The Engineering Works have no foundry and have got to buy all its castings from outside firms with the exception of small non-ferrous castings. Prior to the partition of Bengal the Engineering Works did a lot of outside repair works. According to the Company, at the present moment with the exception of one flat belonging to the East Indian Railway and a few other small jobs all of which are steel plate work and one small steamer and some boats for painting works, the Engineering Works have no work in hand in addition to the steamers, flats and cargo boats of the main concern. The Engineering Works employ nearly 134 workers in the workshop besides contract labour varying from 50 to 100 per month. The Company has filed the balance-sheets for 4 years, 1947-48, 1948-49, 1949-50 and 1950-51. It will be seen from the balance-sheets that in the year 1947-48 there was a net loss of Rs. 934 from the dock and a total loss of Rs. 2,21,085 to the main concern of which the Engineering Works are only a part. In the year 1948-49 there was a net loss of Rs. 8,179 from the dock but the parent concern earned a profit of Rs. 1,58,032. The total loss to the parent Company was Rs. 6,93,805 in the year 1949-50 and Rs. 1,32,365 in the year 1950-51. The Engineering Works also suffered heavy losses during these two years. The reasons of these losses have been stated in the Directors' Report. They are: (1) increase in wages and cost of materials, (2) a set back in the business due to partition of the province and its concomitant evil in the shape of customs duties and surcharges, etc., as well as diversion of traffic through other channels, (3) detention of some vessels of the Company by the Government of Pakistan for over 6 months, (4) fall in traffic due to Customs restrictions of both the Governments, (5) retention of crews surplus to the requirement of the Company in several vessels pending decision of the Bengal Mariners' Union's case before the Pakistan Tribunal, (6) heavy increment of wages of the floating staff as per Tribunal's award with retrospective effect from January 1950.

The statement of the Company about the financial position of the concern in the pleadings and the Directors' Reports has not been refuted by the other side. In fact the Union was given ample opportunity to inspect all documents, records and accounts of the Company as demanded by the Union from time to time. Nothing could be suggested against the picture of the financial position of the Company, as depicted in the written statement of the Company and the Directors' report. It has been amply proved that the Company is running at a loss. The only hopeful feature is that the loss in the year 1950-51 considerably decreased in comparison with that of the year 1949-50. Considering the fact that the loss was reduced in the year 1950-51 in spite of heavy burden cast upon the finance of the Company by the award of the Pakistan Tribunal, we may expect that financial position of the Company will improve gradually and that in the near future there will be better days both for the Company and the workers. Against this background I am to adjudicate upon the disputes under reference. Prior to the present reference there had been an award between the East Bengal Engineering Works and their workmen which was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 5th February 1948. The award was given by Sri S. C. Dutta Gupta.

Issues Nos. 1 and 2.—Minimum basic pay and dearness allowance.

The learned adjudicator, Sri S. C. Dutta Gupta, appears to have fixed minimum basic wage at Rs. 25 and dearness allowance at Rs. 25. Since then the workmen appear to have got some increment. At present the minimum basic pay of a worker is Rs. 27 and dearness allowance is being paid at a flat rate of Rs. 30. In addition to the basic pay and dearness allowance, the workers get Rs. 2 as house allowance. Thus the total emoluments of the lowest paid worker in the East Bengal Engineering Works work out to Rs. 59 per month. Under the Major Engineering awards of 1948 and 1950, the lowest paid worker of an Engineering firm gets Rs. 30 as basic pay and Rs. 31 as dearness allowance, making up a total of Rs. 61. I am inclined to bring the total emoluments of the lowest paid worker of the present concern at par with the total emoluments of the lowest paid worker under the Major Engineering awards. I accordingly raise the minimum basic salary of the lowest paid worker to Rs. 29 and I direct that those who are getting Rs. 33 or less as basic salary shall be given a flat increment of Rs. 2 per month and those who are getting more than Rs. 33 up to Rs. 35 shall get an increment of Re. 1 per month. These increments shall take effect from when this award comes into force. These increments by way of adjustment shall not affect the claim of the workers to such periodical increments as they may be entitled to under the rules of the Company. Having regard to the financial position of the Company I am not inclined to increase the dearness allowance specially when the workers are getting Rs. 2 as house allowance.

Issue No. 3.—Provident Fund Rules.

The Company has a contributory provident fund to which both the workers and the employers contribute half anna per rupee of the basic wages of the workers. The Union's demand is that the rate of contribution should be increased to 6¼ per cent. of the basic wages and dearness allowance. Having regard to the prevalent rules among the Engineering Firms in general, the learned Advocate of the Company conceded to the rate of contribution being raised to 6¼ per cent. of only the basic salary. Having regard to the financial position of the Company I cannot go beyond this offer and my award is that the rate of contribution on both sides, shall be raised to 6¼ per cent. of the basic salary as offered on behalf of the Company. The Union demands a change in the existing rules of the provident fund. The trustees have not been made party to the present proceedings. The provident fund vests in the trustees and in their absence the rules cannot be changed. I may, however, recommend that if the existing rules are not in conformity with the model rules framed by the Government, the rules may be modified in conformity with the said model rules.

The provident fund was introduced in 1947. The Union demands some relief for the workers major portion of whose service will not be covered by the existing provident fund scheme. The increments in the rates of the contribution will take effect from the date on which the present award comes into force. Prior thereto the workers were getting as contribution from the employers only half anna per rupee of their basic pay which works up to 3⅛ per cent. To compensate the workers whose entire service is not covered by the existing provident fund scheme I direct that for the period of their service prior to the introduction of the provident fund scheme they shall get as gratuity ½ month's wages for each complete year of service subject to a maximum of 8 months' basic pay. The amount of gratuity available to the workers will be paid in the same way as the employer's contribution is payable under the rules and conditions for the existing provident fund. For the purpose of calculating the gratuity, the basic salary of the workmen just prior to the enforcement of this award shall be taken.

Issue No. 4.—Notice period or wages in lieu of notice.

Under the existing standing orders of the Company 7 days' notice in the case of permanent workman other than clerk has been prescribed. Following the award of the 1st Major Engineering Tribunal, I fix the period of notice in the case of weekly paid workers as one week and for the monthly paid workers as one month. The standing orders shall be modified in the light of this direction.

Issue No. 5.—Leave and holidays.

The Company at present allows 15 days' privilege leave (inclusive of factory leave) with full pay and 15 days' casual leave inclusive of sick leave with full pay. The demands of the Union are rather unreasonable. The Union claims one month's privilege leave with full pay, 15 days' casual leave with full pay, 15 days' festival holidays and one month's sick leave with full pay and thereafter at half rate till recovery. The existing leave rules favourably compares with those under the Major Engineering Tribunal. The only difference is that for the 15 days' casual leave available to the workers of the present concern on full pay the 2nd Major Engineering award prescribed 10 days' festival holidays and other holidays for 5 or 6 days. For the leave available to the workers under the Factories Act and prescribed by the Major Engineering Award all the workers of the present concern are to get 15 days' privilege leave with pay. Under the Factories Act, it may not be possible for all the workers to earn 15 days' privilege leave. Under the 2nd Major Engineering Award the workers are entitled to some sick leave on half pay. Having regard to the financial position of the Company and more favourable terms about the privilege leave I do not propose to saddle the Company with any extra financial burden with which the Company is likely to be saddled if any additional leave is prescribed. The existing leave rules shall continue for leave and holidays with full pay, with full basic wages and dearness allowance shall be paid.

Issue No. 6.—Bonus.

The Company is just at present incurring loss. It has been settled that bonus can be paid only when there is some surplus profit. In support of my view I may refer to the observations of their Lordships of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case of the Electric Manufacturing Co., Ltd. (Appeal No. Cal.-14/50)—

> "The theory regarding bonus has undergone change from time to time, one being exploded and replaced by another. At the present moment, in the industrial world, it is understood to be a payment made by the industry to the employees to supplement the earnings of workmen whose wages have not reached the standard of living wages and this payment is made out of the profits.
> The Full Bench of this Tribunal in the case of the Mill Owners' Association, Bombay, reported in Labour Law Journal, 1950, Volume II, at page 1247, laid down certain principles regarding the payment of bonus. The principle, in short, is that the claim of the employees for bonus would only arise if there should be a surplus left after making provision for (a) prior charges and (b) a fair return on paid up capital and on reserves employed as working capital. The prior charges are in respect of amounts of money that would be necessary for replacements, modernisation of machinery, for payment of income-tax, etc. Then it has also to set apart an amount that would be necessary for paying a reasonable dividend."

As the Company has been incurring loss at least since 1949-50 the demand of the workers for any bonus is not tenable. I, however, hope that whenever the Company incurs sufficient profit, it will consider favourably the demand of the workers for bonus and shall not grudge the workers such bonus as may be justified according to the principles laid down by their Lordships of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal.

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SRI P. R. MUKHERJEE, District Judge (Retd.), Chairman, Third Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Sri S. C. Sen, Advocate, Sri J. K. Ghosh, Advocate, Sri N. M. Das Gupta, Advocate, and Sri N. K. Raha, Pleader, of Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., Solicitors. Mr. C. Young, Assistant of the Co.

For the employees: Sri S. K. Acharjee, Bar.-at-Law, Sri B. Bhose, Advocate, Sri T. C. Paul, Sri K. Mondal, Sri S. Das, Sri H. S. Bera, Sri P. Poral and Sri D. Naskar.

AWARD.

The above dispute had been referred to me under Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 5263Lab., dated the 21st August 1951, for adjudication.

The case of the workers is that they had numerous demands regarding their working conditions before the authorities, but unfortunately the authorities have all along refused to entertain their grievances. There had been one Major Engineering Tribunal, which decided the question of service and emolument and other relevant matters regarding the workers of different engineering firms, but since then there has been a great increase in the cost of living, but the Company never tried to increase the emoluments of the workers in these hard days. Their grievances are too many and they want that the workers who have been laid off on involuntary unemployment should be re-employed and the Company should retire persons on superannuation with retiring benefits and employ the workers who are involuntarily unemployed. Further, the Company should supply food at concession rate and there should be an increment of 4 annas as a nat yearly increment of their salary, as had been previously agreed to by the Management through Mr. Longfield. They further claim three months' total earnings (i.e., the basic wage plus dearness allowance) every year as bonus to all workers, irrespective of their length of service and status. They also want dismissal of the contractor's men.

The Company appears and files a written statement, and they urge that the order of reference is not maintainable in law, as the six persons are not eligible to represent the employees. Regarding involuntary unemployment, the Company submits that they are trying their best to absorb these people and in the meantime are paying compensatory allowance as provided under Government rules to persons thus unemployed.

Regarding increment, the Company submits that the pay scale had been substantially revised to the advantage of the workers from April 1950, and that the scale of pay is quite satisfactory, fair and proper.

Regarding bonus, the Company has got a scale according to which bonus is paid on certain principles. Details of pleadings of the employers will be considered in the body of the award.

ISSUES.

1. Is the reference maintainable in law?
2. Whether the workers laid off on involuntary unemployment should be offered employment and in their place old workers should be made to retire with retiring benefits.
3. Supply of food at concession rate from the canteen.
4. Increment.
5. Bonus.
6. Supply of uniforms to peons, bearers and others.
7. Whether the terms of employment of the so-called "Contractors" named below should be revised:—
   - (i) Sri Keshtopada Naskar.
   - (ii) Sri Panchu Charan Naskar.
   - (iii) Sri Bhutnath Dey.
   - (iv) Sri Abhoy Charan Naskar.
   - (v) Sri Sannyasi Charan Naskar.
   - (vi) Sri Sarat Megnath.
   - (vii) Sri Balai Majhi.

Issue No. 1.—Is the reference maintainable in law?

The Company urges that there is no Union of the workers who claim to represent the workers, as they have got no authority to represent other workers. On examining this contention, it is found that admittedly there is no registered Trade Union nor is the present dispute presented by any officer of the registered Trade Union, as required under section 36, clauses (a) and (b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Section 36, clause (c) of the Industrial Disputes Act lays down:—

> "Where the worker is not a member of a Trade Union, he may be represented by an officer of any Trade Union connected with or by any other workmen-employee in the industry in which the worker is employed and authorised in such manner as may be prescribed."

Here these six workers claim to represent the entire body workers, but no letter of authority has been filed by these workers even when the Management took exception to their representative character. Nor any evidence is adduced in support of the statement that these six persons enjoy the confidence of the workers, or are fit persons to represent the case on behalf of all workers. In my opinion, therefore, the provision of section 36 is not complied with and these six workers presumably have no authority to represent the entire body of workers of this factory. The issue is answered accordingly.

Issue No. 2.—Whether the workers laid off on involuntary unemployment should be offered employment and in their place old workers should be made to retire with retiring benefits.

In the written statement of the workers, there is no mention of names or number of workmen for whom this relief is prayed for under this issue. This strengthens the suspicion that the six workers who claim to represent the entire body of workers are not in full possession of all facts. Whatever that may be, the case of the workers is that a section of the employees has been getting no work for a long time and they are on the verge of starvation, as they have been laid off on involuntary unemployment.

Regarding workers laid off, it is prayed that they should be re-employed and that the Company should take steps to forcibly retire the persons who have attained the age of superannuation with retiring benefits and absorb the laid off workers. As against this, the case of the employers is that in view of the deterioration of the trading condition of the Company since 1948, consequent on the huge curtailment of work, the Company was faced with surplus labour for whom it could not provide any work. The Company accepted the Major Engineering Tribunal's direction in respect of involuntary unemployment and the workmen who had been thus affected by the shortage of work and for whom there was no work available were all put on the involuntary unemployment list and the Company is still allowing them the monetary benefits, as provided under Government rules for the last four years. In my opinion, the Company is rather gracious and generous in its application of the benefits inasmuch as the Engineering Tribunal award of 1948 directed that involuntary unemployment benefits should apply to short period of unforeseen shortage of work due to such emergency as breakdown of machinery, or stoppage of power supply, etc. The Engineering Tribunal Award never provided for conditions where labour becomes surplus. According to the Engineering Tribunal, an employer was not bound to keep such workers on the roll nor bound to pay them the compensation as they are still doing. The Company also further urges that in order to give some work to the maximum number of surplus labour force, it has quite gratuitously rotated employees so that they could have some period of full time work during each six months period.

Involuntary unemployment means some payment for no work and naturally a prudent Management should see that the unemployed are absorbed as speedily as possible. There cannot be any motive on the part of the Management not to absorb these workers in the permanent cadre. The Company also has attempted to relieve the unemployment position by transferring workers where they are willing and where there is work available from one shop to another. There is a prayer that the old workers should be forced to retire and the men who are still laid off should be absorbed in their place. In my opinion, this will be robbing Peter to pay Paul, for in order to provide these youngmen who are necessarily much less efficient and experienced, the old, able-bodied and good workers should be compelled to retire. It is always a matter of common knowledge that in a factory the old and experienced hands are assets and greater the years of service of the workers, more and more efficient and good work can be had of them. It will be depriving the Company of the services of trained and old hands and it will also create unemployment of the old, able-bodied workers who will be practically stranded in the streets. In my opinion, therefore, the prayer cannot be granted inasmuch as the Company is already generous enough to keep in its roll the workers who have become surplus since 1948 and are still making payment to them. Strictly speaking, the Company would have been quite justified in retrenching these surplus staff with compensation in 1948. It shows that the Company is anxious to provide these workers and absorb them in their permanent staff whenever opportunity arises. The prayer is rejected.

Issue No. 3.—Supply of food at concession rate from the canteen.

The workers allege that the canteen food was not fit for human consumption. Moreover, on account of mismanagement, proper distribution of canteen food is not possible and as a result many workers are being deprived of the benefit.

The Company denies the allegation. I myself had been to the factory on 13th May 1952 and inspected the distribution of food and the quality of food prepared by the canteen. This canteen is maintained under the Factories Act on "no profit no loss" basis. There is a Canteen Committee consisting of workmen and employers representatives. Moreover, it is inspected daily by the Works Labour Officer, weekly by the Works Doctor, and periodically, usually twice a month, by the Area Rationing Authorities and from time to time by the Tea Control Authorities. My impression was that the quality of food was not worse than available in other canteens which I had inspected. The catalogue of complaint was that the arrangement for distribution of food within the tiffin period cannot be properly made to all the workers, and as such, many workers returned to the factory without food. It is further alleged that the rate of canteen food is no doubt fixed but the size is short. There is no fan in the canteen. The main complaint is that all the items of the following food should be daily prepared:—(1) Tea, (2) Nimki, (3) Singara, (4) Kachuri, (5) Luchi, (6) Aloo Dum, (7) Potato Chop, (8) Muri, (9) Jilapi, (10) Gaja, (11) Rasogolla, (12) Sweet Chop, (13) Darbesh, (14) Pantua, (15) Labanga Latika, and the main prayer was that the canteen food should be distributed to all departments through vendors during working hours. I received complaints that Luchis and Aloo Dums are not fully supplied, although there is great demand for the same. They also urged that Nimki, Singhara and Aloo Dum should be prepared in sufficient quantities. On reading the grievances urged by the workers, I am at a loss how to give an effective order on the point. In my opinion, no direction from the Tribunal is called for, specially when the workers have got their representatives in the Canteen Committee and I have a shrewd suspicion that the present members cannot efficiently manage the matter. The workers may send efficient and active representatives in the Canteen Committee and I can only direct that Luchis, Nimkis, Kachuris, Singharas and Aloo Dums may be prepared in sufficient quantities. In order that these may be satisfactorily done, I think the workers should let the canteen contractor know beforehand, say a week earlier, the approximate number required for the workers, and this may be easily done on consultation amongst themselves. There was no complaint that tea was not supplied in proper time. The management of the canteen may be efficiently done only if the workers send active and energetic representatives. No direction from Tribunal can improve matters.

the entire body of workers w

On inspection, I came to learn that a Canteen Managing Committee of three labour members elected by the workers was formed over a year ago. Their names are: Sri Suren Das, Sri Anukul Dey, Ticket No. 1105, and Janab Manawar Ali, Ticket No. 7W. None of these members possibly came to me during my inspection. According to the Company, the only member elected by the labour who has shown any interest is Sri Anukul Dey, and he is primarily responsible for arranging menus and supervising distribution, but this is more than one man's job. Concerted action is necessary in smoothly running a canteen. On the part of the Management, the Works Manager and the Labour Officer are the opposite numbers of the Managing Committee. It seems there is really no concerted effort or co-operation by the representatives of the workers. Regarding preparation of menus, as a practical measure, I suggest that the programme for the week could freely be drawn up by the labour members and submitted to the canteen in-charge.

Complaint had been made regarding distribution and on this point I learn that the existing practice is as follows. The canteen vendors start work at 7 a.m. to prepare the snacks for the day and the next business is to arrange for their distribution. Sweets are prepared the night before and served with snacks and tea as follows. There are 6 vendors, 5 itinerants and one stall vendor. The 5 vendors each make on an average 4 or 5 trips a day, i.e., a total of 20 to 25 trips between them. Their "trips" are carefully logged and all timings checked each day by the Labour Officer.

Beginning at 7-30 a.m. they go out to every department or shop in the works in relays, at half hour intervals, until 11-30 a.m. when they all knock off to stand by for the tiffin-time recess 12 to 12-30. Then they go for their meals and by 1-30 p.m. are ready to begin again when they continue serving up to 3-30 p.m. Each vendor carries a brass insulated urn containing 50—5 oz. cups of tea and a food container (a galvanised iron box) capable of holding 40 puries or 50 sweets. Special attention is paid to freshness in that snack and tea are served fresh and hot-straight from the oven and large tea vessel. The day's left-overs are never sold, but are either distributed free of charge to menials or destroyed.

I understand that the Management suggested building of some sort of a Kiosk, or resting place where the distance from the canteen to a set of workmen, say at the east end of the works near the Works Manager's bungalow is great. I understand the labour did not show any great enthusiasm for the proposal. I suggest that this proposal may be once again considered by the workers.

Regarding cash transaction, it is alleged that there is no actual cash payment per se. Coupons are purchased from departmental sources and given in exchange for tea or snacks or sweets. To avoid fraud, every coupon is rubber-stamped with the Labour Officer's initial and at the time of serving, the worker is enjoined to see that each coupon is snipped (at the corner) by the vendor in his presence. This practice is to continue as it checks fraud.

On reviewing the entire situation, it is clear to me that the difficulties can be easily avoided by active co-operation of the workers on the lines suggested by me. I admit I cannot give any further practical suggestions, as I myself have little experience of canteen management.

Issue No. 4.—Increment.

Regarding increment the Company submits that its workers are getting pay and dearness allowance according to the directions of the Major

Engineering Tribunal Award. As the question of increment was left to the discretion of the employers, the Company at the suggestion of the workers introduced a scheme similar to that adopted by the Garden Reach Workshops, Ltd., and which provided for increment every two years. According to that scheme, increments in the grades were to take effect from 1st April 1950. Nevertheless, the Company agreed to the scheme being effected from 1st November 1949, which meant that increments were to be granted biennially, the first increment under the scheme would have been due to be effected from 1st November 1951. The Company also was generous enough to award that those workers who were to complete an even number of service on 31st October 1950, would receive their first increment on 1st November 1950 instead of making them wait till November 1951. A complaint had been made that this agreement which is known as the Longfield agreement, has not been implemented, but are violated by the Management. Not a single instance of non-implementation or violation was urged before me. The workers claim that the increment should be annual and flat increment of 4 annas in the grade scale.

The agreement which has been made in 1950 with full consent of the workers cannot be so soon revised, as there is no reason shown as to why it should be so soon recast. The wage scheme once laid down after the Major Engineering Tribunal Award has been fixed on full agreement with the workers. Further on examining the chart submitted by the Company, it is seen that an unskilled worker will be able to earn Rs. 41 and odds as basic wages on time-scale; while according to the Engineering Tribunal award, he will be able to earn only Rs. 35 as basic wages. So far as the scale of charge-hands, operatives, tindals, etc., are concerned, I think this is certainly more favourable than that awarded by the Major Engineering Tribunal. The scale of dearness allowance is as per Second Engineering Tribunal and as such, the total wages earned by a worker do not fall below minimum total wages given by the Second Engineering Tribunal, but are more favourable in the long run. I, therefore, see no reason to revise the wage structure, which must continue as binding both on the workers as well as on the Company. The pay scale in an Engineering industry was fixed as a result of a deliberation and should not on principle be revised so early. Sufficient time must elapse and special reason must be shown why the same is sought to be revised so soon. This wage chart will form a part of the award and is marked Annexure I.

Issue No. 5.—Bonus.

The Union claims three months' total earnings (basic wages plus dearness allowance) as bonus to all workmen, irrespective of their length of service and status. This demand of bonus irrespective of profit earned by the Company and claimed on a sort of tariff rate is entirely wrong. Bonus always depends on profit. Moreover, bonus in almost every industry is paid on the basic wages and not on dearness allowance too.

So far as the Company is concerned, it is apparent that they have already introduced a profit-sharing bonus scheme for the benefits of its workmen in 1945, as stated below. Such bonus is available to all employees (excluding executive and supervisory staff), subject to the following regulations:—

1. The bonus will be paid in accordance with profits of the Company for the year ending on 30th June and if the accounts are ready in time, it will be paid during Puja.
2. Bonuses will be paid as below:—

Grade A.—When trading profits after deducting taxation, depreciation and other charges, but before deducting Managing Agent's Commission, and excluding income from investments and profits on sale of investments, amount to Rs. 1,00,000 or more, the bonus will be four weeks' basic pay.

Grade B.—When the trading profits as above amount to more than Rs. 75,000 but less than Rs. 1,00,000 the bonus will be three weeks' basic pay.

Grade C.—When the trading profits amount to more than Rs. 50,000 but less than Rs. 75,000 the bonus will be two weeks' basic pay.

Grade D.—When the trading profits amount to more than Rs. 25,000 but less than Rs. 50,000 the bonus will be one week's basic pay.

When trading profits amount to less than Rs. 25,000 no bonus will be paid.

3. The bonus for the year ended 30th June 1945, which will come under Grade A, will be paid on or about 31st December 1945, subject to there being no strike or other unauthorised stoppage of work before that date.

4. This bonus will in future be paid to clerical staff in place of the Puja bonus which has been paid theretofore.. The clerical staff will not participate in the bonus to be paid on or about 31st December 1945 as they have already received a Puja bonus.

5. Time-keeping: To qualify for the full bonus an employee must be credited with a minimum of 300 attendances in the year ending 30th June. "Attendances" in this context include:—

All days worked.

Paid holidays.

Leave properly granted by the Manager for sickness or other reasonable causes.

Attendance for less than 30 days will qualify for a proportionately reduced bonus, but no employee will qualify for a bonus who has not worked 200 days in the year.

6. The Management reserves the right to withhold the bonus from any section stopping work without permission. This system is being worked out and it appears that any further increment is likely to prejudice the interest of the Company. After providing for taxation, depreciation and payment of dividend, the balance left in this Company, as appears from the balance-sheet of 1950, is Rs. 88 thousands and odds, and the bonus will be according to the rule, near about three weeks' basic pay, and I do not think there is any reason for revising the scheme, which is being worked out for about seven years. The Company, as it appears from the rules, is paying bonus on a particular rate on the profit earned. I see no reason to revise the rate of bonus. The scheme of bonus as is being worked out is accepted by me and is to continue. The claim of the Union for three months' basic pay and dearness allowance as bonus is turned down.

Issue No. 6.—Supply of uniforms to peons, bearers and others.

There is no justification for this claim under this issue. The Major Engineering Tribunal laid down that the supply of uniforms to the peons should be left to the discretion of employers.

It appears the Company provides uniform for its Watch and Ward Department and for its Dak Durwan staff. It also provides such other protective clothing as is prescribed under the Factories Act and Rules. The Appellate Tribunal in the case of Kashi Iron Foundry has decided that the Management is not bound to provide uniforms except under provisions of the Factories Act (Labour Law Journal, 1952, Volume I, page 199). The claim of uniforms for all the workers cannot be entertained. So, the prayer is rejected.

Issue No. 7.—Whether the terms of employment of the so-called "Contractors" should be revised.

The reference under this head runs as follows:—

Whether the terms of employment of the so-called "Contractors" named below should be revised:—

1. Sri Keshtopada Naskar.
2. Sri Panchu Charan Naskar.
3. Sri Bhutnath Dey.
4. Sri Abhoy Charan Naskar.
5. Sri Sannyasi Charan Naskar.
6. Sri Sarat Megnath.
7. Sri Balai Majhi.

The Company urges that there is no industrial dispute under this head inasmuch as these people are neither contractors nor they have ever raised any dispute with the Company over their terms of employment. At the time of hearing, none of these persons have been examined; nor have they taken any oath to contradict the statement of the Company that no dispute exists. The demand of the Union is vague and one cannot understand what they demand for these so-called contractors. It is stated by the Management that of these persons, Abhoy Charan Naskar, Sannyasi Charan Naskar are no longer in the employment of the Company. The Company denies that there is any such worker by the name of Sarat Megnath. There is no counter evidence. The question of distribution of commission earned by these so-called contractors amongst workers does not arise inasmuch as they had not got any commission from the Company, nor do they get any, but are paid directly as other workers are paid. They are not at all contractors, as urged by the Union. There is no evidence on the side of the Union to prove that they are contractors. It is also submitted by the Company that they have stopped contract system as soon as the Engineering Tribunal Award of 1948 had been published. The persons mentioned in this issue minus the three persons named above are engaged by the Company as Sardars or Mistri on salary basis and these persons are now paid directly by the Company and they enjoy all privileges, etc., together with the advantage of provident fund, gratuity and other terms which this Company is paying to other Sardars and Mistries. So the prayer for revision of their pay is rejected. These persons have been absorbed as permanent employees of the Company and are paid on that basis and no evidence has been adduced before this Tribunal to show how and on what basis their salary should be revised. There is not a single scrap of paper or anything before this Tribunal produced by the Union or any of its workers to illustrate what their specific grievances are or what their basic wages and their dearness allowance should be, and on what basis revision should be allowed. These workers are getting equal wages and dearness allowance as other workers. As such, no revision is called for. The issue is answered accordingly.

AWARD.

The above dispute had been referred to me for adjudication by Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 30Dis/D/7L-45(A)/51, dated 5th January 1952.

The case of the Union is mainly over wages of 13th December 1951, and it is stated that the Company closed the factory on 13th December 1951 announcing lock-out knowing fully well that this was illegal under section 23 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Union alleges that the reason for declaring lock-out was to victimise the workers. The workers pray for full wages for 13th December 1951.

The Company opposes the prayer on the ground that they had to close the factory due to the unruly and disorderly conduct of the workers, who wanted to let loose a reign of terror in the Mill and force the Management to close the Mill.

Issue.

Whether the workers are entitled to wages for 13th December 1951?

Before I proceed to discuss the merits of the case, it is better to refer to the statements of the Company. According to them, they were forced to declare a lock-out. Version of the Company will be later on decided in the light of evidence oral and documentary adduced in this case.

According to the Management, this Mill is one of 980 looms employing about 5,000 workers. They work in two shifts:

A Shift	.. ..	6 a.m.	to	11 a.m.
			and
		2 p.m.	to	5 p.m.
B Shift		11 a.m.	to	2 p.m.
			and
		5 p.m.	to	10 p.m.

It is alleged that on the 12th December 1951, at 5 p.m. the A shift workers, after their duties, did not leave the Mill premises, but in a body collected and began to shout. They became a yelling menacing mob—some 3,000 strong surrounded the Manager's Office and demanded that the Manager should come out. Nobody could understand what exactly their grievance was, and they would not listen to the request that the workers' representatives should put their grievances in writing before the Management.

The situation was full of peril, and the Management, unable to control it, informed the police. The police Promptly came, but could not control the crowd. The Management put up a notice at 8 p.m. asking the workers to go home, and pointing out that their conduct was improper. They paid no heed to it, and continued yelling and threatening the Management. A Labour Officer of the Indian Jute Mills Association came at about 9-30 p.m., addressed the workers urging that if they submitted a statement of their case, he would see that it was placed before the Labour Commissioner and that his recommendations would be accepted by the Management. The workers, however, were in no mood to listen, and their shouting and yelling continued throughout the night.

At 5 p.m. the B shift workers had come, some of them joined the demonstrators without going to work, and at 10 p.m. the entire body of B shift workers swelled the crowd demonstrating in the Mill premises. The situation deteriorated and the durwans were prevented from controlling the main gate of the Mill, and the demonstrators took into their hands the right of entry and exit. Large number of police some 125 strong had come and at 2-30 a.m., after the arrival of the Superintendent of Police, those who wanted to come out of the Mill could do so, but the main body remained. They also indulged in subversive activities and opened bales of raw jute and cut down used manufactured goods for sleeping purposes, cut the beams, while some workers were seen removing hessian cloth. The crowd continued unruly and meaning all night, wrongfully confiniug the Manager and his staff in the office room, and denying to them any means of their obtaining food or drink. On the morning of the 13th the situation continued as bad as on the night of the 12th, so that the Manager, and all in authority remained confined in the Manager's Office. They were denied all possibility of exercising their normal legitimate and essential Managerinl and supervisory functions. In the circumstances, and after consulting the Associations' Labour Officer, who was on the spot, as also with the Labour Commissioner over the phone, the Management with their concurrence to put up Notice (in terms of Annexure B to their written statement), closed the Mill at 5-30 a.m. on the 13th December 1951. According to the Company the incident that occurred between 5 p.m. and 10 p.m. on the 12th December amounted to a strike, as also the incident on the morning of the 13th December, that in any case the violence of the workers on the night of the 12th and also on the 13th and the single fact that they wrongfully confined the Manager and other officers in authority from 5 p.m. on the 12th December to 9 p.m. on the 13th December made it impossible for the Management to start the Mill and to leave it to the workers to do what they liked with the Mill, and the circumstances justified a fear of more sabotage, the Manager being kept out of the way by force. The workers acting in concert kept the Manager and his staff confined and prevented the starting of work. Under the circumstances, no wages should be paid to the workers for the 13th December 1951.

Let us now examine the evidence adduced in this case. On the side of the Management, two independent witnesses whose veracity cannot be questioned, have been examined. One of them is Sri S. Nageswaran, who was the Labour Officer of the Indian Jute Mills Association, and had been deputed by Sri R. M. Sen Gupta, the Chief Labour Adviser, to go to the Mill and to help the Mill authorities in consultation with the workers to settle the matter. The other witness is Sri Dwijendra Banerjee, Sub-Inspector of Police attached to the Malipanchghora police-station, and he had been to the Mill just on the evening, almost immediateley after the trouble began. On reading the evidence of these two witnesses, it is clear that all the allegations made in the written statement of the Company have been substantiated. It is evident from the statements of these witnesses that the workers had surrounded the office building and had practically confined the Manager and his staff numbering about 30 to 40, who could not go out. The attitude of the workers was extremely unruly and turbulent and it was a yelling mob who mere shouting slogans to take the head of the Manager, e.g., "Rai Sahibko Maro", "Managerko Edhar Bulao". The number of workers who had gathered there was about 3,000. A shift workers had been joined by some of the B shift workers who came to join the Mill at 5 p.m. The situation was gradually getting most threatening with the result that in the course of the night, all the high police officers had to come including the Assistant Superintendent of Police, Deputy Superintendent of Police, the Superintendent of Police—the last named arrived at about 2-30 a.m. at night. The Subdivisional Officer had also been present there. The District Magistrate had also been contacted on phone and the police picket was gradually increased to 125. The police, apprehending trouble, had kept a tear gas squad on the spot. There were also armed police. All this shows that the attitude of the workers, who had gathered there, was alarming and was gradually growing serious and there was every likelihood of some outburst. Had not the police picket been posted there in such strong number, I cannot think what would have been the consequence. It is also clear from the evidence of these people that the Manager and his staff were practically imprisoned within the four corners of their office and that they could not go out—everything was in a chaotic condition and the Management was not functioning at all. The picketing was so complete that the Manager and his staff could not even get a glass of water to quench their thirst, not to speak of food, and it is in evidence that when a jug of water had been brought there for the Manager and his staff, there were shouts and the workers resented the idea, with the result that the Assistant Superintendent of Police came and took the jug of water away and assured the workers that the Management did not get a drop of water to quench their thirst. The situation was far from enviable so far as the Manager and his staff was concerned and that they could not even satisfy their call of nature, and the evidence is that steel waste paper basket was improvised by the staff for easing themselves. There were also acts of sabotage—cutting of hessian, cutting of carpet and finished goods. Sri Nageswaran arrived at about 9-30 p.m. and he tried to contact with the workers and gave them an assurance that he would try to conciliate the matter with the help of the Labour Directorate and had persuaded the Management to accept the decision of the Labour Directorate. Sri Nageswaran further deposes that he could not gather the reason or motive why these workers had assumed such a threatening attitude. He first suggested that a deputation of workers should see the Manager while the crowd was insisting that the Manager should be brought there. As it was impossible and not safe either to face a mob of 3,000 strong, it was suggested that the workers should better send a representative, but the idea was turned down. His next proposal that he would conciliate the matter with the help of the Labour Directorate was also not acceptable and what is most amusing is that Sri Nageswaran could not gather what their grievances were. He deposes that everybody was cataloguing his individual grievance and he could not gather what common grievance had brought them all together. He found that nobody was able to deliver the goods and everybody wanted to talk to him in his own way.

According to the Union, Standing Orders have not been observed in this Mill for a pretty long time and further that on the day in question, two of the workers had been warned as they had been a bit late in coming back to their duty after making water, for which they took permission. The main grievance, according to the Union, is that these two workers had been warned and that it had set the whole workers aflame. But it is a pity that none of the workers narrated about this to Sri Nageswaran; nor any of the witnesses names these two workers; nor these two workers are brought in before the Tribunal to prove the fact of warning, which is stoutly denied by the Management. The vital point, according to the Union, is that the workers had been warned for nothing, and it was this warning which was the last straw on the camel's back and set the workers into conflagration and they spontaneously took up the cause of the two workers. But these two workers have deliberately been kept back and the Tribunal is not in a position even to know their names. In a fact this was a drama of Hamlet without the Prince of Denmark. If the workers had been really so warned, as alleged, it must have been done with a notice in writing, but that paper is not forthcoming. Union's witness No. 2, Amin Das, who is himself a worker, deposes that "no report had been made to the Union regarding the warning". According to P.W. 3 Santosh Kumar Ganguli, he heard of this warning from the two workers concerned, who came to the Union office after 5 p.m. But it is strange that he cannot tell the names of the two workers. In my opinion, the story that these two workers came to him to tell of the warning after 5 p.m. is a deliberate lie, for admittedly after the shift workers came out at 5 p.m. the gate was closed and the drama already began and all surrounded the Manager's office and began to shout slogans and indulged in threatening attitude. On reading the evidence of the Union, it is not clear what their grievances were. P.W. 1 says that they "made representation regarding the workers who were not being made permanent to the Management and the Assistant Labour Commissioner and they were made permanent by the Management. There is no documentary evidence on the point. Regarding other point, he says that the Labour Commissioner did not do anything. Obviously the complaints were baseless and no action was deemed necessary. Further it is in evidence, the two workers who had been warned did not say anything to Amin Das. This is rather strange, for according to the Union, this warning was the last straw on the camel's back and it could have been easily expected that they would at the earliest opportunity complain of this to the active members of the Union.

From the facts analysed above, it is proved beyond any shadow of doubt that the workers had all assembled in the factory premises and surrounded the Manager's office and their concerted action showed that they were determined to coerce the Manager to submit to their demands by force. I have already observed that all these workers had assembled there without any definite idea of what their grievances were—possibly they were drawn like drum-driven cattle by some designing person or persons. Whatever that may be, their action may be termed as purely a sit-down strike—not sitting peacefully but sufficiently aggressive and thwarting to the Management who were practically confined for over 24 hours in the factory premises. Now the workers took a step what may be technically called a "sit-down strike". The A shift workers had no business to remain in the factory premises after 5 p.m. and it is in evidence that a section of B shift workers did not join the work but swelled the number of A shift workers who had already occupied the ground. Thus the workers took the first step to launch a sort of stay-in-strike and their intention was to thwart the Manager and the authorities, who had thus practically lost all control over administration. This stay-in-strike continued for the whole night and even after warnings had been given to the workers to disperse—one in writing by the Manager at about 8 p.m. and the other by the Superintendent of Police at about 2-30 a.m.,—the workers showed no inclination to move an inch, till at 5 a.m., the Management was forced to declare a lock-out. They had no other alternative than to declare such a lock-out because of the illegal stay-in-strike launched by the workers. A stay-in-strike is illegal—this is clear from the following observations of Ludwig Teller in his book on "Labour Disputes and Collective Bargaining", Section 106, page 311, Volume I:—

"The sit-down strike has been defined as occurring whenever a group of employees or others interested in obtaining a certain objective in a particular business forcibly take over possession of the property of such business, establish themselves within the plant, stop its production and refuse access to the owners or to the others desiring to work. * * * Genuine sit-down strike involves rather the remaining in possession by employees. The sit-down strike should more accurately be defined as a strike in the traditional sense, to which is added the element of trespass by the strikers upon the property of the employer."

In this case, the sit-down strike has in it not only the element of trespass, but it has also the element of criminal intimidation and threats. The sit-down strike is an "illegal seizure" of the employer's property and a "resort to force and violence in defiance of the law of the land. This stay-in-strike which was suddenly launched by the workers had no justification for reasons already discussed in the earlier part of this award. The grievances were that two persons had been warned for coming late when they had gone to make water. All this is purely a cock and bull story and is more imaginary than real. So, the stay-in-strike was illegal in its inception, criminal in its development, and ended in paralysing the entire administration. Under the circumstances, any prudent and sane man would declare a lock-out to save the situation. This sort of stay-in-strike has been described by Ludwig Teller as "employees' unfair labour practice". This is apparently on the principle that a working man has no right to stay in the factory premises during the continuance of the strike. The permit of entry and to stay is for the employee to work. When that intention is absent and the relationship of the employer and the employee remains in a state of suspended animation, the working man has no right to stay there. So far as the stay-in-strike in India is concerned, Hon'ble Justice Divatia had had occasion to deal with a case in which severely condemned the action of the workers.

"For the last several years, the Government have appointed their Labour Officer to act as an intermediary between the textile workers and the employers in Bombay, and I think before any such drastic and desperate step in the shape of a stay-in-strike is taken by the workers, they or their leaders should have approached the Labour Officer and do all they can to have their grievances redressed by the authorities, and a strike would be justifiable only if a genuine grievance is not redressed even after such attempts have been made. * * * * It is a weapon in the hands of the workers which requires to be used on extraordinary occasions and that too after all attempts at negotiation and conciliation have failed; otherwise it acts like a boomerang upon the workers themselves, and the principal persons, who suffer therefrom are not employers so much as the workers themselves. In most industrial countries of the present day, workers have realised this and lightning strikes are becoming old fashioned and infrequent."

In this particular case, Sri Nageswaran, the Labour Officer of the Indian Jute Mills Association had been on the spot and had negotiated with the workers and assured them that he would try to conciliate the matter through the Labour Directorate and force the employers to accept his decision. But the workers did not pay any heed to his suggestion and went on the whole night and the next day with their rowdy conduct. In my opinion, this lock-out no doubt was technically illegal having been declared during the period when the Second Jute Tribunal was in operation under provision of section 23(c) of the Industrial Disputes Act. My clear finding therefore is that it is a lock-out which had been provoked by the uncalled for and unjustifiable and illegal strike of the workers, whose rowdy conduct was a sufficient passport for declaration of lock-out by the Management on the 13th December 1951. In view of my above findings, the workers will not be entitled to any wages for 13th December 1952.

It was next urged that there had been an agreement the next day and that the workers were all ready to go on with their work on the 13th of December, and as such, the declaration of lock-out cannot be justified. I have examined the contention and in my opinion there are certain facts which go to prove that the workers were never in a mood to work on the 13th. They did not move an inch even when asked by the Superintendent of Police overnight, and they did not even disperse that night. This shows that they were not at all willing to work the next day. Had they been in a mood to work on the next day in the first shift, which begins at 6 a.m., they would have left the factory premises in time. It was not also possible for the Management, in view of the attitude of the workers, to start the Mill on the 13th morning as the Manager and his staff had all been confined. For the time being, the gear of administration was out of the hands of the Management and they were not functioning at all. It is also in evidence that the Union leaders put up their appearance at 8-30 or 9 a.m. next morning (P.W. 1, O.P.W. 1) and the negotiations started in the morning and the terms of settlement as drafted in the morning show that the Mill was to work from 14th December 1951. The first negotiation which started at 9 a.m. on 12th lasted till noon, and it is in evidence that the Deputy Labour Commissioner returned at 2-30 p.m. and the talk was resumed at about 6 p.m. Even then the workers were not in a mood to resume their work; nor is there any evidence to the effect that any suggestion was given to the Mill authorities to start work on that day. The Mill works for 4 shifts:

A Shift	... .	6 a.m. to	11 a.m
B Shift	... .	11 a.m. to	2 p.m
A Shift	... .	2 p.m. to	5 p.m
B Shift	... ...	5 p.m. to	10 p.m.

evidence is that none of the workers cleared the Mill before settlement had been arrived at on 13th at 9 p.m. Had they any intention to work in any of the shifts on that day, they could have conveyed their decision to the Management or could have cleared the Mill to show their preparation for working on the next day. The reason is that they were also tired and exhausted for they had for the whole night sat under the canopy of heaven, and as such, were quite ill-suited to begin work on the 13th. Moreover, the negotiations had not finalised and they were eager to wait for the decision of the Union leaders and from the terms of settlement or from the record of the Labour Commissioner, it is evident that there was no suggestion from the workers that the workers would begin work on the 13th, but the clear indication is that the workers should begin on the next day. In my considered opinion therefore the lock-out was amply justified under the circumstances and that the workers were not at all prepared to work on the 13th; nor offered their services to work on the 13th December, as such, they would not be entitled to any wages for that day. The issue is answered accordingly.

DIRECTORATE OF AGRICULTURE, WEST BENGAL.

Calcutta, the 1st July 1952.

Third and Final Forecast of Sugarcane Crop of West Bengal for 1951-52.

[Note.—The figures of last year shown in this forecast have been taken from the last year's final forecast based on the results of Sample Survey conducted by the Indian Statistical Institute except for the Darjeeling district while the figures of areas only except those of Darjeeling and Malda for this year have been based on the results of Sample Survey conducted by the State Statistical Bureau. The figures of Darjeeling for both this year and last year and those of Malda this year as well as the average rates of yield per acre for this year shown against all the districts in this forecast are based on the reports received from the staff of this Directorate of Agriculture, West Bengal.]

Season.—The weather conditions were not favourable for the crop at the time of planting in all the districts except Darjeeling and Jalpaiguri. Later on the weather turned favourable and remained so during the growth period in all the districts except Murshidabad, Birbhum, Bankura and Jalpaiguri.

Area and yield.—The total area planted with sugarcane is estimated at 46,300 acres this year as against 52,600 acres last year.

The total outturn of cane for the State as a whole is estimated at 819,800 tons this year as against 855,900 tons last year. Calculated on the basis of the Gur/Cane ratio, 1:10, the fixed standard of the State as a whole, the gross outturn in terms of Gur is estimated at 81,980 tons this year as against 85,590 tons last year.

The average outturn per acre of cane for the State as a whole is estimated at 481·97 maunds this year as against 442·93 maunds last year.

The decrease in acreage is due to the want of sugarcane cuttings in certain districts and the unfavourable weather conditions in general, at the time of planting.

D. BASU,
for Director of Agriculture, West Bengal.

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

DEPARTMENT OF IRRIGATION AND WATERWAYS.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 11-I.—14th July 1952.—In exercise of the powers conferred by sections 78 and 99 of the Bengal Irrigation Act, 1876 (Bengal Act III of 1876), the Governor is pleased to make the following rules, schedule of rates and appendices for the supply of water from the Mayurakshi Canal System of the projected Mayurakshi Reservoir Project in the district of Birbhum.

2. A draft of these rules and rates was published in the Calcutta Gazette of 5th June 1952 under notification No. 10-I, dated the 2nd June 1952:—

Rules and Schedule of Rates.

1. Lease for a term of years.—The country served by the Mayurakshi Canal System shall be mapped out into blocks of convenient size, in accordance with the features of the ground, natural or artificial. So far as may be practicable, the blocks shall be separated by drainage lines. This shall be done by the Subdivisional Canal Officers under the guidance and control of the Divisional Canal Officer.

2. Each block formed under rule 1 shall be numbered and recorded with its gross and irrigable areas in registers to be maintained by the Subdivisional Canal Officers. The blocks shall also be marked on maps to be maintained by such officers.

3. Leases for not more than seven years may be granted for the whole irrigable area of a block or for a definite part of a block under the following conditions:—

I. Ordinarily the whole irrigable area of any village so far as situated within the block must be included in the lease. If the lands of a village within the block are divisible into two or more distinct parts which can be irrigated independently, a separate lease may be granted for each part.

II. All leases within one block shall be so granted that they shall expire on the same date.

III. No lease shall be granted when the supply of water must of necessity be delivered across an unleased area, except where a channel exists, which, in the opinion of the Subdivisional Officer, will deliver water without waste across the area.

4. The Chief Engineer shall fix from time to time the gross area for which, and the limits of the canal within which, leases for a term of years may be granted.

5. Maps of all villages in which leases have been taken for a term of years, or in which there is any prospect of such leases being taken shall be kept in the Subdivisional Canal Offices. These maps shall be drawn to a scale 32"=1 mile when such are available, and elsewhere to a scale 16"=1 mile.

6. The preliminary application for a new lease for a term of years, or for the renewal of such lease, shall be made in writing but may be of an informal nature. It may be presented and shall be received either at the Subdivisional or Sectional Canal office; in the latter case the Sectional Officer shall forward it immediately to the Subdivisional Canal Officer. The Subdivisional Canal Officer, as soon as he has, by personal enquiry or by an enquiry made by the Sectional Officer, satisfied himself that the land in question constitutes a definite block or a definite part of a block and that it can be irrigated, shall at once inform the Divisional Canal Officer giving such particulars as that officer may direct, and shall ask his formal approval to the lease being proceeded with. On receipt of such approval the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall forward the preliminary application to the Zilladar, in order that the detailed assessment may be taken in hand. The lands in respect of which the lease is to be granted shall be indicated on a copy of the map referred to in rule 5.

7. The Zilladar on receipt of the application shall prepare the detailed assessment paper (khasra) of the land with the aid of the district settlement map, the record-of-rights and the plot index if available. If there is no settlement map of the area, an amin shall make a sketch map and a khasra and shall measure the areas of the plots with a chain or measuring rod.

8. When the khasra is prepared the Zilladar shall forward it to the Subdivisional Canal Officer for approval.

9. As soon as the khasra has been approved by the Subdivisional Canal Officer, he shall return it to the Zilladar endorsed with his signature in token of approval.

The Zilladar shall then prepare a khatian or abstract of the khasra, and shall have the form of application, given in Appendix No. I to these rules. filled up and signed or marked by each of the applicants, in the presence of two witnesses.

When the application has been duly signed, the Zilladar shall send it to the officer in charge of the revenue division hereafter called the Revenue Officer who after scrutiny will send it to the Divisional Canal Officer, by whom the permit or formal approval of the lease shall be signed and issued in the form given as Appendix No. III to these rules. The permit shall be made over to the representative of the cultivators by the Subdivisional Canal Officer by means of his Sectional Officer. The Divisional Canal Officer shall return the application to the Revenue Officer, with a copy of the permit for record.

10. If the cultivators of any block, with regard to which an application for a lease is being proposed, are not unanimous, and if some of them decline to sign the application the Zilladar shall report the matter to the Subdivisional Canal Officer. This officer shall hold a local enquiry, recording the statements of the persons who decline to sign and recording his personal opinion on the reasons given. He shall then send a report to the Divisional Canal Officer, who shall decide whether the lease may be accepted excluding the fields in the occupation of the persons who decline to sign, or whether the lease shall be declined. The Divisional Canal Officer is authorised to grant a lease when not less than 95 per cent. of the holders of the net irrigable area of the block have signed the application. In particular cases should it be desirable to grant a lease even though an area larger than 5 per cent. of the block has not been signed for, this may be done on the written order of the Superintending Engineer. The reason for granting the lease shall be fully recorded.

11. Covering leases.—Applicants for a lease for a term of years who may require water before the lease has been concluded can obtain a supply on tendering an application for a covering lease in the form given in Appendix No. 11 to these rules. This application shall be signed in the presence of the Zilladar or some other responsible officer nominated for the purpose by the Subdivisional Canal Officer. The signatures of the leading cultivators in the block in question shall be obtained and they shall represent holders of not less than 75 per cent. of the irrigable land within the block.

As soon as the Subdivisional Canal Officer receives the application duly signed, he shall issue a permit in the form given in Appendix No. IV to these rules, and shall at once supply water.

12. Kharif season leases.—If a lease for which an application has been filed for a term of years is not concluded for any reasons and water has been supplied under a covering permit, the lease shall be treated as a kharif season lease and water rates charged in accordance with item I of the schedule of rates.

Kharif season leases may be granted within the areas set apart for long leases but holders of kharif season leases will not be entitled to water until the demands of the long-leased area have been met or there is surplus water. The rates to be paid will be in accordance with item I of the schedule of rates. These leases will expire on the 15th November each year. Applications for kharif season leases may be presented to the Subdivisional Canal Officer or to the Sectional Officer. They must be in the form given in Appendix V to these rules. The permit for the supply of water in the form given in Appendix VI to these rules will be granted by the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

13. Supply of water.—The Divisional Canal Officer shall control the supply of water throughout the division in his charge.

No water shall be supplied to any lands except such as have been brought under a lease for a term of years or for the season, or to such as are provided for by a covering lease.

14. Under the forms of Irrigation lease in use, no specific supply of water is promised: but the undertaking is to give such a supply to each lessee as may be necessary for the lands leased. The supply shall be given, as may be required for the proper cultivation of the crops under irrigation, according to the exigencies of the season.

15. The Divisional Canal Officer will give the required supply by rotation in accordance with the sanctioned tatil table and map where such exist. He is required to give the lessees written notice informing them of the periods when they will be supplied with water. No alteration is permitted in the table of rotation without the written sanction of the Superintending Engineer.

16. Collection of water-rates.—The rates due for water supplied shall be collected by the Revenue Officer through his staff of Zilladars, Tahsildars and peons. All khatians or demand statements shall be signed by the Revenue Officer after scrutiny in his office.

17. At the time of preparation of the khatian in the Zilladar's office, each person assessed shall be furnished with an extract from the assessment paper, showing the particulars of the charge against him. This extract shall be furnished in such form as may from time to time be approved for the purpose.

18. Each person on paying the sum due from him shall be given a receipt in the form prescribed for the purpose.

19. For the purposes of account, control over establishment and general administration, the Revenue Officer is in the position of an Executive Engineer in charge of a division; and is directly subordinate to the Superintending Engineer. In regard to any proceedings taken under the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913, the Revenue Officer is subject to the control of the Collector of the district.

20. Unauthorised use of water and waste of water.—If it is necessary to take action under the provisions of sections 79 and 80 of the Act, proceedings shall be instituted only under the direct and special order of the Divisional Canal Officer. The primary record of the facts regarding the unauthorised use or the waste of water shall be made by the Subdivisional Canal Officer and his subordinates. The parties whom it is proposed to assess shall be informed in writing, and shall be called on to show cause why they should not be assessed. The record of their statements shall be made by the Divisional or by the Subdivisional Canal Officer. The Divisional Canal Officer shall consider the facts and statements recorded, and shall, in deciding the case, give his reasons for or against the assessment, both as regards the facts and as regards the law; and he shall determine the rate to be charged in accordance with the provision in the schedule of rates attached to these rules.

21. Should the Divisional Canal Officer decide on making an assessment, he shall have the assessment papers prepared by the Subdivisional Canal Officer and his staff. Each person assessed shall be furnished with a statement of the charge against him, and an abstract of the demand or khatian shall be sent to the Revenue Officer, who shall proceed to recover the sums assessed. The period of one month within which an appeal may be presented to the Collector under section 91 of the Bengal Irrigation Act, 1876 (hereinafter referred to as the Act), shall count from the date on which the order of the Divisional Canal Officer is received by the person assessed, which date shall be endorsed on the order.

22. No proceedings shall be instituted if the unauthorised use or the waste of water have occurred through the act or neglect of a Canal Officer or a subordinate employed on the canal.

23. Complaints and applications.—All complaints or applications with respect to the supply of water, defective drainage, and generally all matters relating to the administration of the canals, shall be received on presentation at either the Divisional or Subdivisional Canal Offices.

Complaints and applications received by a Divisional Canal Officer may be transferred to his Subdivisional Canal Officers for disposal at his discretion.

Any such complaints or applications, if presented to the Revenue Officer or to his staff, shall be returned endorsed with instructions as to the proper office at which to present them. If received by post, they shall be at once forwarded to the Divisional or Subdivisional Canal Officer.

24. Complaints or applications with respect to corrections of the assessment, the actions of the amins in assessing and the actions of the Tahsildars and other staff employed in collection shall be received at the office of the Revenue Officer, or at the Zilladars' offices.

25. Receipts in the prescribed form shall be given at all offices for complaints or applications presented. The receipts of all complaints and applications shall be recorded in registers to be kept for that purpose.

26. The officer receiving the complaint or application shall make a personal enquiry into the matter or he shall nominate in writing some responsible person to hold the enquiry.

27. The orders passed on all complaints or applications shall be in writing and a copy of every order shall be furnished to the complainant or applicant.

The copy of an order may be sent by registered post if this is convenient.

The period within which an appeal may be presented under section 91 of the Act shall be reckoned from the date on which the copy of the order is received by the person.

28. When an appeal to the Collector is from the order of a sional Canal Officer, the records of the proceedings shall be through the Divisional Canal Officer, who may endorse such remarks as may think desirable, provided that he does not thereby detain the proceedings.

In all cases in which an appeal against an assessment is preferred to the Collector, he may, if he thinks fit, direct that the collection of water-rates be suspended till the appeal is disposed of.

29. The Divisional Canal Officer is empowered to revise the proceedings of his Subdivisional Canal Officers, and the Superintending Engineer is empowered to call for and to revise the proceedings of all officers under his control.

30. Remissions and alterations of demands.—Whenever the crop on any land entitled to a supply of water suffers material injury from an insufficient supply of water, or from any interruption in the supply of water, remission of the rate, due on such crop, shall be given by the Divisional Canal Officer, provided that the person claiming such remission shall have applied for it not less than 15 days before the reaping of the crop.

31. On the occasion of lands being brought under a lease for a term of years, the Divisional Canal Officer is empowered to remit the rates for the first season on those fields which from the nature of the cultivation then obtaining, or from other causes, have not in that season derived any benefit from the supply of canal water.

32. Should the crop on lands under lease for a term of years suffer material injury from excess of water due to deficient drainage, the Divisional Canal Officer may grant remission of the rates due on such lands in whole or in part, provided that the person asking for remission shall have applied at least 15 days before the reaping of the crop.

33. Revisions of the assessment required in consequence of land under lease being left uncultivated or of land being appropriated for purposes other than cultivation shall be made under the orders of Divisional Canal Officer.

34. Revision of the assessment required in consequence of incorrect entries of the names of occupants of lands under lease or of incorrect entries of areas or amounts in the assessment papers, or required by changes in the occupation of lands shall be made under the orders of the Revenue Officer provided that no change involving any increase or decrease in the total area under lease for a term of years shall be made without the concurrence of the Divisional Canal Officer.

35. Remissions of water-rates on account of injury to the crops caused by inundation, blight, storms or any extraordinary cause or for any other reason will only be allowed under the special orders of the State Government.

36. Irrecoverable demands.—The Superintending Engineer is empowered to sanction the writing-off of those demands which are reported, after due enquiry by the Revenue Officer, as irrecoverable owing to the poverty of the defaulter or his successors in case of his death, or owing to the defaulter having absconded.

37. Cultivators' representatives.—Whenever the preliminary application for a lease for a term of years has been approved by the Divisional Canal Officer, the Revenue Officer shall, with the concurrence of the Subdivisional Canal Officer, select as representative of the cultivators a suitable person or persons who shall generally be acceptable to the cultivators and who shall each have a direct interest in the land for which the lease is executed.

38. The person or persons so selected shall be required to give assistance to the Canal Officers in respect of the following matters:—

(i) In the preparation of the applications for leases.

(ii) In the measurement of the irrigated lands.

(iii) In recording the names of the occupiers of the holdings.

(iv) In receiving demand statements and distributing to the cultivators the individual notices of assessment.

(v) In attending, when required, at enquiries into complaints.

(vi) In reporting to the Zilladars any changes in the occupancy of lands under lease.

(vii) In assisting the Tahsildar in collecting rates.

39. For such assistance the cultivators' representative or representatives shall be entitled to free irrigation of the lands in his or in their own occupation, which may lie within the boundaries of the leased area subject to a total limit of 3 per cent. of the area assessed. The Revenue Officer may disallow in whole or in part this free irrigation, and may recover the rates which would otherwise have been payable in whole or in part if the assistance specified in rule 38 has not been efficiently rendered. The reasons for such disallowance shall be recorded in writing.

40. The Revenue Officer shall maintain in his office a register containing a record of the names of all representatives and of the areas of free irrigation allowed to each.

41. Applicants for single waterings for season leases shall be required to nominate one of their number who must have a substantial interest in the land to be irrigated as their representative. The representative so nominated shall perform the same duties as stated in rule 38 and shall receive remuneration on the same scale as in rule 39.

42. Power to decline or cancel leases.—Should it be proved, after due enquiry, that the supply of water given to any leased area is habitually wasted or used for the irrigation of lands not under lease, it shall be competent for the Superintending Engineer to direct that the lease shall be cancelled with effect from the 11th of July next following. The order to cancel a lease shall be passed before the 1st April of the year in which it is to take effect.

43. The Superintending Engineer may give directions to the Divisional Canal Officer to decline applications for irrigation leases of lands in villages where there has been persistent difficulty in realising the water-rates, until all arrears have been paid.

He may further suspend, or altogether cancel, any leases for a term of years, if on the 1st June, of any year, water-rates to the extent of half the demand for one year are in arrears. Previous notice of intention to put this rule in force shall be given not later than the 15th April, preceding.

Miscellaneous.

44. Tanks may be filled with canal water without charge, wherever water can be made available without injury to the cultivation dependant on a canal under the following conditions:—

I. No tank shall be filled unless the water is to be used exclusively for domestic purposes or for watering cattle.

II. No tank shall be filled from which irrigation is practised.

III. No tank shall be filled which intercepts any line of drainage or is liable to overflow from the accumulation of water from natural causes.

IV. No tank shall be filled except on the written order of the Subdivisional Canal Officer issued on the written application of the persons concerned.

V. No tank shall be filled unless the channel used to convey water to it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the Subdivisional Canal Officer to be in a sound condition when the application is made.

VI. The privilege here accorded may, by the written order of the Subdivisional Canal Officer, be suspended for twelve months for the breach of any of the above rules.

45. Except when a public right of way exists, no person shall, without the permission expressed in writing of the Divisional or Subdivisional Canal Officer, pass himself or cause any animal or vehicle to pass, on or across any of the works, banks or channels of a canal or drainage work which is part of the canal system except by means of such bridges, fords and ferries as may have been provided for the purpose.

Any person who, after due warning, commits a breach of this rule may be proceeded against under section 93, clause (9), of the Act.

46. The use of any part of the banks or berms of any canal, drainage work which is part of the canal system, or flood embankment which is subject to the provisions of the Act, as a place for relieving the calls of nature is prohibited. Any person who after due warning commits a breach of this rule may be proceeded against under section 93, clause (9), of the Act.

47. When tanks which are used both for irrigation and domestic purpose are filled with canal water, a charge at the rate of Rs. 4 will be made for each 10,000 cubic feet or part of 10,000 cubic feet of water supplied.

The Divisional Canal Officer may supply water for [illegible] other purposes and charge for the same at the rate of Re. 1 for cubic feet or part of 10,000 cubic feet of water supplied. The same charge will be made if water is taken into a tank without authority or used in an unauthorised manner.

No officer employed on the canals, unless, especially exempted by [illegible] Government from the operation of this rule, shall have any interest in the distribution of water from any of the canals or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon either in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly or in shares with others.
